TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION: Sent by Carrier, per week, 15 cents; Sent by Mail, per month, $1.00; Five of postage to subscribers.

THE ASTORIAN guarantees to its advertisers the largest circulation of any newspaper published on the Columbia river.

CITY AND COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER: There are 10,000 people residing on this peninsula.

Van Dusen & Co. have for sale lots 8 and 8S Astoria.

Well, who's going to win that $50 for the best decorated building or store next Friday?

Yesterday J. C. Morehead made final proof on a preemption claim in front of the county clerk.

Numbers on buildings are "away up" in upper town, the last building at the city limits being numbered 3802.

This is the first day of the fiscal year, and county, state and federal officials are busy making up financial reports.

Warren & Wright are permanently and pleasantly located in the real estate office formerly occupied by Fitzgerald & Carney.

To-day THE ASTORIAN enters upon its eighteenth year, the 35th vol. of the WEEKLY, and the 35th vol. of the DAILY. Tempus fugit.

Big crops are reported from all parts of the county; the luscious fruit, abundance of hay and oats, and promise of a large yield of root crops.

Now is a good time for upper Astoria to come into the Astoria corporation and be a part of the city of Astoria in name as well as in fact.

In the police court yesterday before Judge Jewett, two men for fighting failed to appear, and their deposit of five dollars in each case was declared forfeited.

If "stick to your flannels till your flannels stick to you" is good advice there is some lively shedding of the old-fashioned flannel in the interior of the state this week.

One less subject for the czar of the Russian now, for yesterday Alexander Noychich cut loose from his imperial majesty, and took out first papers of American citizenship.

The council committee on streets wish to have all the rubbish, loose plants, timbers, etc., removed from the streets forthwith, to properly celebrate the Fourth with clear streets.

It has been reported that the striking Union Pacific machinists at La Grande disabled some of the engines before leaving the shops. This, however, is denied by them. The strike is for an increase of but 2 1/2 cents per hour.

It is calculated that, were one percent of the eggs of the salmon to result in full-grown fish, and were they and their progeny to continue to increase in the same ratio, they would in about sixty years amount in bulk to many times the size of the earth.

A special dispatch says that the bills providing for a government wharf at Astoria, and making an appropriation for the lighthouse on Cape Hancock, have good chances on the committee of the whole calendar, and may be disposed of at any time.

From 4-to-day dates the era when Astoria was given the convenience of delivering letters and mail at one's door. It will not take place to-day, but this is the first day of the year in those things, and in a short time the new arrangement will be in operation.

Work was commenced yesterday on the extension of the Bay railway into the city, and will be pushed steadily forward to completion, as fast as possible. The new Pullman coach as daily expected, and there is strong reason to believe it will be here in time to be used on the Fourth.

Mansell's building, which was so nearly destroyed by fire two weeks ago, is being torn down and the debris cleared away, preparatory to the erection of a two-story building, which will occupy the place of the former structure and contain two stores. The upper floor will be for rooms and offices.

Yesterday noon the steamer Suomi ran into a fish net near Sand Island which became entangled in her propeller and the engine had to be stopped. The Gen. Conley and Fudge responded to her signals for help, and she was towed back to the city, to have the net disentangled from the flukes.

A school teacher says that pupils who have access to newspapers at home, when compared to those who have not, are better readers, better spellers, better grammarians, excellent in pronunciation and read more understandingly, and obtain a good knowledge of geography in almost half the time it requires others.

A trap has been invented for gathering in the spirited, reckless moth, and the invention promises to do away with camphor chests and all the other schemes to obliterate the wool cheever. The trap is on the principal of the fly trap, lit up by phosphorescence at night and baited with sweet odors and colored glass, supposed to draw the insect.

On the second day of June, while intoxicated, Jacob Hubs, destroyed a lamp and chandelier belonging to John Hendrickson, and promised to pay six dollars for it. Failing to do so, a complaint was sworn to, and he was arrested, charged with malicious destruction of personal property. Yesterday in justice May's court he plead guilty and was fined $20.

A cheerful pioneer has just passed away at Eddyville. He was the founder of the town, which consists of two houses, his cabin and a postoffice. For years this strange man slept in his own coffin and there he died. He had also performed the task of selecting his own burial spot, and if he had time he would have dug his own grave. He now sleeps in his coffin day and night.

WHO HAS LOST A STURGEON? Let the Owner Claim the Fish and Chain. Capt. Dillon, of the steamer Fisher, yesterday brought up a sturgeon which had been caught in the last trap at the mouth of the Columbia, almost to the ocean. The peculiarity about the fish is that there was attached to him a chain nearly five feet long, about the size of a halter chain. He had been caught before, and on the under side of his mouth a hole had been cut. Through this the chain had been passed and through a ring on the end of the chain, thus forming a bow knot or loop around his under lip. Then he had evidently been fastened to the end of a rope attached to the side of the boat.

After the rope broke, the fish was at liberty to leave, and how long he has been swimming with the chain hanging from his mouth is a mystery. If any of our exchanges know where the fish has escaped from, or when, and will state it, it may form an interesting sketch as to how long the fish has carried the chain, and where he has been traveling.

The sturgeon was quite poor and one of his fins was badly injured by the rubbing of the chain, showing that he had traveled with it a long time.

On the grassy banks of the raging Big Nestucca is to be found a rare jewel in the form of a young lady. Five years ago this month Miss Mattie Jones, daughter of J. D. Jones, fled on a homestead of 150 acres of the choicest land in the Big Nestucca valley, and has made that her home since that time. She has a good frame house and barn, ten acres cleared; sixty apple trees set out and growing; three acres of alfalfa and a number of agricultural implements. On the 17th inst. she went before the county clerk of Tillamook county and made final proof, Messrs. J. C. Norris and Louis T. Johnson acting as witnesses. She has now acquired title to a piece of land that would be ready sale at $1000 to $1200. Miss Jones has in this instance placed an example before some of our young men who are squandering the better part of their lives in idleness. It is such young ladies as Miss Mattie who make model wives, but we opine that she will be slow to trade a thousand dollar ranch for a fifty-cent husband.

A Special Request. To G. W. Rucker, Esq., Master Workman of Seaside Lodge No. 12, A. O. U. W. Dear Sir: We, the undersigned members of Seaside Lodge No. 12, A. O. U. W., hereby respectfully request that you call a special meeting of Seaside Lodge No. 12, A. O. U. W., to meet at their hall on Tuesday night, July 1st, 1920, 8 p. m., for the purpose of accepting the resignation of Master Workman Geo. W. Rucker as Master Workman of Seaside Lodge for the present term of office, and for the coming term which begins on the first meeting in July, and also to accept the resignation of the same brother as representative to the grand lodge of this jurisdiction; and such other business as may come before the meeting.

The Alaskan Canneries. SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—By the arrival of the steamer Barbara Bosworth some interesting news is at hand of the recent strikes in the Alaska canneries. It has been ascertained that the strike of Indian fishermen at Naus has been settled. The canners vowed to be the victors, and have managed to get as many boat-pullers and fishermen as they required, and at their own terms. Over sixty of the striking Indians have left Bosworth and have gone to Fraser to try to secure work. Work is going on in full blast in most of the canneries. The Sitka canneries report a light fish and good fish. Packing has been commenced. Nearly 1,700 cases have been put up at the Naus cannery.

Readers of THE ASTORIAN will remember the announcement in our graphic columns April 14th, of Ethelred Bappler's arrival in New York city, April 10th, for the Mail and Express, in a canoe, bringing with him a bottle of water from the Atlantic ocean, which he will carry to the Pacific ocean at the mouth of the Columbia river. On the 21st of June he crossed the Mississippi river at St. Louis in his canoe, and is coming westward. He is in good health and spirits, and felt confident of reaching his destination in safety.

Articles of incorporation were filed with the county clerk yesterday for the "Seaweed" company. The capital stock is $25,000; divided into thirty shares of $830 each, and the incorporators are J. L. Lovell, James Allan and John W. Welch. The principal place of business is Astoria, and the duration unlimited. The purpose is to manufacture castings. The plant used by the Columbia Foundry company, which will be removed to the new location.

A ST. LOUIS PHYSICIAN. He Tests a California Production.—His Report. A St. Louis physician whose affliction was sick headaches was so surprised at their cure by Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, that he clipped from the Omaha Bulletin the following: "This medicine is the best, and in many respects the leading paper, published in Oregon. It gives all the general biographical news, has representatives at Washington and other important cities who supply it with special, has a strong editorial staff, and is complete in all its departments. It is a credit to the Oregon printing facilities afforded by publishers. The Astorian will easily lead the other newspapers of the state, no matter how competitors they may be, in popularity and influence."

Everything Satisfactorily Arranged. The difficulties and difference of opinion between the contractors and superintendent, relative to the locomotive and train of the Astoria-South Coast road, have all been satisfactorily adjusted, and matters go on harmoniously. Supt. Thielens goes along the line of the road this morning and will arrange for the running of trains, etc., during the week.

The directors yesterday telegraphed the U. P. officials at Portland not to sell any tickets to the Seaside to-day, but that everything would shortly be in trim for the successful carrying on of the business of the road.

"Weak and warty" describes the condition of many people debilitated by warm weather, by disease or overwork. Hood's Sarsaparilla, which is needed to build up and strengthen the body, purify and quicken the sluggish blood, and restore the lost appetite.

Again Ready For Business. The broken oven at the Seaside bakery has been repaired. Everything desired at a first class bakery can always be found at the Seaside Bakery, corner Third and Olive streets. J. H. JOHANNSEN & Co., Proprietors.

Bureau for the Fourth of July. When everybody will celebrate with fireworks, purchased from F. Ferrell's large assortment of Roman Candles, Sky Rockets, Torpedoes, Pin Wheels, Nigger Chasers, Boys' Pistols, and all kinds of fireworks. The finest stock in the city to select from, and at prices the most fashionable customer. Come early and have your pick.
