NEW YORK'S POPULATION

Shows Remarkable Advancement by Census Returns.

OTHER WASHINGTON MATTERS.

(Special to THE UNITED PRESS)

WASHINGTON, July 17.—The secretary of the interior has transmitted to congress a letter from Wm. McKusick, Indian agent at the Sisseton agency, South Dakota, stating that the Sisseton and Walpeton Indians, of the Lake Traverse reservation, are in the most destitute condition, the drought of last year having almost totally destroyed their crops. He asks that $5,000 be appropriated for the purchase of provisions to keep the Indians from starving.

NEW YORK CITY.

Its Population and Percentage of Growth.

(Special to THE ASTORIAN.)

WASHINGTON, July 17.—The rough official count of the population of New York city, completed by the census officers, shows a population of 1,533,501, which is an increase of 25.46 per cent. over the census returns of 1880, which gave the population as 1,226,293, and an increase of 28 per cent. during the decade.

In 1870 the population was 942,282, and in 1880, 1,226,293. The percentage of increase from 1860 to 1870 was, therefore, 17 per cent. Supt. Porter said today that this is the only estimate made by the census of the population of New York. There was one estimate by the supervisor, but that was based upon insufficient data.

Tillamook Bay and Bar.

(Special to THE ASTORIAN.)

WASHINGTON, July 17.—The report of Captain Symonds, in charge of river and harbor works in Oregon and Washington, was received at the war department today, and was in part as follows: Tillamook bay and bar, Oregon.—No general plan of improvement has been adopted for this work, and the $5,200 appropriated has been expended in surveys and removing obstructions. It is estimated that $5,000 can be used in completing this work, and that amount should be appropriated. No mention is made of the lower Columbia.

Presidential Appointment.

(Special to THE ASTORIAN.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 17.—The president has appointed C. L. Spaulding, of Michigan, as assistant secretary of the treasury, vice Tichenor who has resigned. He was formerly a member of congress, and is now special agent of the treasury department.

Another Fast Cruiser.

(Special to THE ASTORIAN.)

New York, July 17.—Commenting on the San Francisco's coming special the Star says: "Will the San Francisco equal the Philadelphia in point of speed? This probably is too much to hope for, although her builders do not think it beyond the reach of possibilities, and they fully expect to earn some premium for speed above the contract."

Damaging Storms.

(Special to THE ASTORIAN.)

ALLENSTOWN, Pa., July 17.—Severe rain and wind storms this afternoon unroofed six houses and completely uprooted two trees. Wires were prostrated. At Barabour's a thread mill a brick stack 225 feet high was blown down and struck and partly demolished the engine house.

The most densely populated square mile in the world is in the city of New York; it is inhabited by 270,000 people, the larger part of whom are Italians, who speak only their native language.

Victory for an Insurance Company.

(Special to THE ASTORIAN.)

St. Louis, Mo., July 17.—The National Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Madison, Mich., says: "I had rheumatism twenty years; it cost me ten years. From the use of powerful liniments my hip and knee had lost nearly all strength. Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup has cured me, and I wish to thank the inventor for the merits of the wonderful medicine." THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO., Baltimore, Md.

A STUPID OFFICER.

Carelessly Allowed a Prisoner to Suicide.

(Special to THE ASTORIAN.)

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 17.—The manager of the Bookbinder Wire Co. secured a warrant yesterday for the arrest of a young man named Edward Folk, who had formerly been an agent in the employ of the Bookbinder Co., charging him with embezzling $3,000. Constable Lally had the warrant placed in his hands this morning.

He went at once to 435 Columbian street, where Folk boards, and found the young man in the saloon beneath. Folk took the matter very coolly, and asked permission to go to his room and change his clothes. Lally accompanied and sat on the bed while Folk busied himself with his clothing. At length when he was ready, Lally started for the door and Folk followed.

Just as the constable opened the door, he heard a shot directly behind him, and fearing that his prisoner had opened fire on him, he rushed down to the street. He returned after a while, and found Folk with a bullet hole in his head. He died before a physician could be summoned. Folk was popular in society, and whose death rather than arrest.

THE CLOAK MAKERS.

Little Hopes of a Compromise.

(Special to THE ASTORIAN.)

BOSTON, Mass., July 17.—It is announced that the scheme whereby all the soda water and beer apparatus interests in the United States were to be amalgamated into a trust and sold to English capitalists, has fallen through, the broker who was engineering the deal, having cabled from London his failure to organize the necessary combination.

THE MINERS WEAKENING.

Little Hopes of a Compromise.

(Special to THE ASTORIAN.)

BOSTON, Mass., July 17.—The cloak maker's lockout seems yet far from ending. The Contractors Union is inclined to repudiate the agreement with the manufacturers, signed yesterday by the contractors. The contractors want to work, but are dissatisfied about the question of reimbursement of wages for the time they were locked out. They will not accept a small increase in wages, but they ask to-day for a 25 per cent. advance. The manufacturers seem very unwilling to concede this. If they do not, however, the entries will go out and the situation will be as bad as ever.

Dunsuir's Eviction Notice in the Hands of the Court.

A CRANKY CROWNED HEAD.

(Special to THE UNITED PRESS.)

VICTORIA, B. C., July 17.—The miners' eviction notice served ten days ago, came up before the court to-day. The judge's decision is not yet given but it probably will be an order to vacate houses of Dunsuir in a week or ten days. The miners are said to be weakening, and many have expressed themselves as willing to go back to work. The matter of the evictions is now out of Dunsuir's hands and the law has to go on, although if before an order to quit expires, the men will go to work, the process will be stayed. It is more than probable that next week will see a capitulation on the part of the miners.

CURIOUS INSANITY.

A Woman Cuts off Her Hand and Tears out an Eye.

(Special to THE ASTORIAN.)

LONDON, July 17.—A horrible case was reported at Bellin hospital for the insane yesterday. A female patient who before her admission had plucked out her right eye during religious insanity finally succeeded. Her left hand had been placed in a canvas locked glove. She was lying in bed and constantly washed by attendants, but notwithstanding the close watch she managed to tear off the glove with her teeth, and free her hand, after which she gouged out the eye with her fingers. The patient is still frantic, although after she had removed the organ she seemed to be calmer. It is said that she believed that in tearing out her eye she was obeying a biblical command.

BEHOLDING INSANE.

A Crowned Head Losing Its Balance.

(Special to THE ASTORIAN.)

PARIS, July 17.—Le Siegle asserts that ex-king Milan, of Serbia, is a crank and the instances which it adduces tend to confirm the opinion, indicating that he is insane.

Le Siegle says that he speaks of himself as emperor of Europe, and seems to have the most extraordinary ideas of his power and wealth. Physicians are in constant attendance upon him, and keep a close watch on his hallucinations, and the practical effects of them, in order to be prepared for any sudden development of his lunacy.

American Rifleman in Berlin.

(Special to THE ASTORIAN.)

BERLIN, July 17.—Last night the American rifleman arrived at Berlin from Oberlohnein, in the midst of a heavy storm. They were met at the station by a large and enthusiastic crowd. The city is handsomely decorated and brilliantly illuminated.

Fire and Loss of Life.

(Special to THE ASTORIAN.)

QUEBEC, July 17.—At two o'clock this morning Delmore & Olet's saloon was burned, Pierre Miranda, wife and three children were burned to death. The firemen worked hard and saved the surrounding property, unaware that the occupants of the upper story were roasting to death. After the flames were extinguished, five bodies were discovered, and it is feared that others perished.

Accidentally Killed.

(Special to THE ASTORIAN.)

LONDON, July 17.—Count Conrad Stolberg, heir to one of the richest German land owners, was accidentally killed to-day while out shooting.

THE NEW YORK LOCKOUT.

Little Hopes of a Compromise in the Long Strike.

PREPARING FOR THE PRICE.

(Special to THE UNITED PRESS.)

BOSTON, Mass., July 17.—It is announced that the scheme whereby all the soda water and beer apparatus interests in the United States were to be amalgamated into a trust and sold to English capitalists, has fallen through, the broker who was engineering the deal, having cabled from London his failure to organize the necessary combination.

A Narrative of His Early Days.

(Special to THE ASTORIAN.)

OMAHA, Neb., July 17.—Major St. A. D. Balcomb's early days in the editorial of public works, and former editor of the Omaha Republican, to-day made public an interesting story about Henry M. Stanley, which has never found its way into print. Although in many respects a long time ago, it is of interest to the people of the West, during the Indian hostilities, then in progress on the western frontiers.

When he finished this work he came to Omaha, and made his headquarters at the Republican office, where he slept in the press room. After remaining in Omaha about a year he went to Europe, and nothing more was heard from him for a long time.

One day Mr. Balcomb received a letter from the Greek consul at New York city, stating that an American named Henry M. Stanley, and representing himself as a person of importance, had been in Omaha and had inquired for the Greek consul, and had referred his father to Mr. Balcomb, and asked others for his antecedents.

Mr. Stanley at that time did not possess such a reputation in Omaha as he now has, and Mr. Balcomb never replied to the consul's inquiry.

THE EXPECTED PRINCE.

Receptions Planned in His Honor.

(Special to THE ASTORIAN.)

NEWYORK, N. Y., July 17.—Arrangements are under way for many entertainments of an elaborate character, on the arrival of prince George of Wales, who is expected July 31st. Ward McAllister is arranging a suburban reception, in honor of the prince and suite August 2nd, at McAllister's summer house, with 250 invited guests, and a picnic under McAllister's supervision, August 25th.

Killed by the Cars.

(Special to THE ASTORIAN.)

BROOKLYN, Conn., July 17.—Dr. Eugene Falkner, while on his way to visit a patient this morning, was instantly killed on an unprotected crossing on North avenue, by a train on the Homansville R. R. He leaves a widow and five children, who are at their cottage at the Adirondacks.

A Distinguished Devil.

Few newspapers in Georgia can boast of such a "devil" as the one in the office of the Macon county Chieftain. He was once a representative in the Georgia legislature from Warren county, and spent two, or perhaps four, years in that capacity. He says he was a member "when they turned all the niggers out, and dem was laid days. But they roost um again on paid um up for lost time, and dat made things even." Tiring of politics, he says he turned his attention to religion and entered the ministry, where "de niggers" have been only "miskin'". Bending under the weight of 70 years, he has now gone into "de printing" business.—Atlanta Constitution.

FREMONT'S GRAVE.

It Certainly Should be in California.

(Special to THE ASTORIAN.)

NEW YORK, July 17.—The Evening Telegram, in an editorial, says there is eminent fitness in the project to make General Fremont's last resting place, beneath the monument in Golden Gate park, of San Francisco. He gained all his prominence in the great west, when it was a trackless, untraded waste, and is more closely allied with its early days of progress, than with any other section of the country.

He always believed that himself, and regarded the presidency of California, as successor of Sutter, one of the greatest honors of his life. California he looked upon as his home, and the members of his family who have been consulted, agree that Golden Gate park should hold his remains, and their wishes will no doubt be complied with. It does not take a century to erect a monument on the Pacific Coast.

HEAVY THUNDER STORM.

(Special to THE ASTORIAN.)

READING, Pa., July 17.—A heavy thunder storm prevailed in this section to-night. Considerable damage was done to wires, crops, etc.
