Speaking of enjoyment, I heard a friend remark yesterday: "You fellows that wear beards miss some of the greatest pleasures in life. I tell you what, if you wish to enjoy yourself, you should shave; that is, you should be shaved. It is such a pleasure to re-cline in a comfortable chair and covered with cool linen; have the soft, creamy, perfumed lather to spread over your face and gently but thoroughly rubbed in; then the keen razor skims lightly over your face, followed by a pleasant sponging, leaving the skin so smooth and soft. Now comes a part of the operation which is very agreeable, if your barber understands his business, for I assure you some of them do not. When the napkin is thrown over your face to dry it, if the napkin is harsh and stiff or doesn't smell sweet, or if the tonsorial artist rubs up and down your eyelids bringing the napkin in contact with your eyeballs the operation is anything but pleasant. But, if with a cool, soft napkin and a gentle and comprehensive pressure with both hands the operator gently rubs lengthwise of the lids, it is a part of the process that can be anticipated with dreamy pleasure, then when one is awakened from this state RESTAURANT.

A Curious Idol.

Among a collection of Burmese, Indian and Japanese curiosities, recently sold in London, was "The Hindu Lingam God, consisting of a chryso beryl cat's eye fixed in a topaz, and mounted in a pyramidal base studded with diamonds and precious stones. This curious relic stood 214 inches in height. It was preserved for more than a thousand years in an ancient temple at Delhi, where acts of devotion were paid before it by women anxious to have children. The base is of solid gold, and around it are set nine gems of charms, a diamond, ruby saphire, chrysoberyl cat's eye, coral pearl, hyacinthine garnet, yellow saphpire and emerald. These gems are saphpire and emerald. These gems are all rudely carved, and would no doubt by more scientific cutting be greatly improved in value. Round the apex of this gold pyramid is a plinth set with diamonds. On the apex is a topaz 1 10-16 inches in length, and 9-16 of an inch in depth, shaped like a horseshoe; in the center of the horseshoe the great chrysoberyl cat's eye shoe the great chrysoberyl cat's eye stands upright. This is 15-16 of an inch in height, and dark brown in color, and shaped like a pear. An extremely mobile opalescent light crosses the length of the stone in an oblique direction. When Bad Shah Bahador Shah, the last king of Delhi, was captured and exiled to the Andaman Isles, his queen secreted this gem, and it was never seen again until, being dis-tressed during the mutiny, she sold it to the present owner. The gen brought $12,250.
