THE ASTORIAN guarantees to its advertisers the largest circulation of any newspaper published on the Columbia river.

A mortgage deed for $1,800 was filed for record yesterday.

Watermelons are abundant in market, and grapes are numerous.

There was a pleasant social dance at Carruthers place at Clatsop last evening.

A very handsome Seiebold safe was received on the last steamer for A. B. Edee, of this city.

The work of driving piling on the wharf extension of West Eighth street commenced yesterday morning.

There will be no services in the Baptist church to-day on account of Rev. F. O. Weeks being absent.

Stages will connect with the street cars, for Alderbrook, Sunday afternoon, commencing at 12:30 o'clock.

New type, borders, ornaments and printing material are being added to this office every week, by purchase for cash.

Howell and Goodell have improved the interior of their office by removing a partition and putting in a neat counter.

The Rev. Wm. S. Short will hold service at the Skipanon school house next Tuesday evening (26th) at half past seven o'clock.

Yesterday the remains of the suicide Harry H. Taylor, were quietly interred, not a relative or intimate friend being present.

In consequence of the inability of some of the players to leave here, the base ball club of this city will not play at South Bend to-morrow.

There is a rumor that a man was drowned at Seaside last evening, but no authentic information could be obtained, and it may have been only a rumor.

Astoria is rapidly becoming like San Francisco in one particular at least, for fleas are getting so numerous here as to almost make a person think he is in Frisco.

The usual rate of speed at which the steam flying horses are run every evening is inside of three minutes per mile, as three and a half miles are made every ten minutes.

Next Monday Prof. Pratt, principal of Court street school, is expected to arrive, and work will be commenced in fitting up the recitation room for the use of the high school.

The incorrigible drunk Franco Bruno has left town, going away on the ocean steamer yesterday, and his presence will be missed from the city jail where he has so often been an inmate.

Have you paid your city taxes yet? If not, better be thinking about it, or the month will soon roll round, and you will be delinquent. Interview Capt. Hustler, city treasurer, who is prepared to receive the coin.

There will be services in the Swedish Lutheran church at Uppertown in the Swedish language to-morrow at 3 P. M. by Mr. Arolph Ruppa, a late theological student from the Alexander university of Hilssinki, Finland.

The store buildings occupied by A. V. Allen, diagonally across from THE ASTORIAN building, are already raised to their proper position and are being blocked up with heavy timbers preparatory to removing the jackscrews.

Yesterday there was filed with the recorder a plat of "Clatsop Park Beach," dedicated by Clatsop City Real Estate company, the same being in sections 33 and 34, township 7 north, range 10 west, and section 4, township 6 north, range 10 west.

The lodging house at the southwest corner of Third and Olney streets kept by Mrs. Etta Charters has been sold by her to Mrs. Tatton as she goes to-morrow to Tacoma to reside. THE ASTORIAN joins with her many friends in wishing her success in her new home.

This morning Frankfort will receive her first installment of mail on her regular semi-weekly schedule. This is on the Astoria-Deep River route. Fort Canby has also been made a postoffice to take effect September 1st. This will be a daily service on the Astoria-Hwaco route.

Yesterday at his hotel at Seaside, G. K. Grimes died at noon, after an illness of but three or four days, from inflamation of the bladder. Mortification appeared to set in previous to his death, and as the body cannot be kept without embalming, the funeral will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

One by one men are promising fealty to the land that gives them homes and secures them liberty. The latest to sever his connection with the land of his birth is C. Johnson, a Swede, who yesterday took out his first naturalization papers before County Clerk Trenchard.

Last evening Sheriff Smith arrested Harry Carson on a warrant issued by Justice Cleveland on a charge of sending abusive and obscene matter through the mails. It is an offense against United States laws, a clause in which permits an arrest by local officers, and binding over to federal authorities. The letter is as vile an one as is often seen and was sent to John Pierce, by Carson, he having had a difficulty with the former a few days ago, and evidently sent this letter out of revenge.

Warm weather often causes extreme tired feeling and debility, and in the weakened condition of the system, diseases arising from impure blood are liable to appear. To gain strength, to overcome disease, and to purify, vitalize and enrich the blood, take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

THE PILOT SCHOONER.

It Will Be Fitted Up for Service Outside the River.

For a long time the pilot schooner Gov. Moody has been tied up at the dock in this city, silent and unused. Yesterday the craft aroused from its slumber, Capt. J. A. Brown, one of the pilot commissioners having come down from Portland, and set men at work on the schooner, making necessary repairs.

New rigging will be put in, bulwarks repaired, deck calked, all the woodwork painted, and every needed improvement will be made. This will occupy two or three weeks, and then she is ready for service.

After that, she will be kept outside the mouth of the Columbia, constantly on the lookout for incoming vessels. About four pilots will be on board, and when a vessel is sighted who wants a pilot, one will be placed on board, and the incoming vessel will be piloted over the bar and into the river.

At present pilots every day go on a tug to Fort Stevens, and there keep a lookout for vessels, returning here in the evening, but the plan is not half as good as to have a pilot schooner cruising outside, where ships can be seen at a greater distance, and consequently receive a pilot much quicker.

Many foreign vessels keep out so far on the ocean that they cannot be seen from Fort Stevens, or even from Cape Hancock, but the pilot schooner being outside, will be sure to find them promptly.

The tugs will be inside and tow the vessels in as at present, under the employ of the Union Pacific who has the exclusive privilege, and the Gov. Moody, though owned by the state, will be operated by employes of the Union Pacific.

VISITING THE COAST.

One of the Los Angeles Bank Presidents Taking a Vacation.

Last evening, on the steamer Telephone, there arrived from Portland H. C. Witmer and his sister, Miss Victoria Witmer, who will leave here this morning for Ilwaco, and thence to the Tioga house on North Beach, to visit friends.

Mr. Witmer is one of the active, influential and wealthy citizens of Los Angeles, Cal., where he is president of the California bank, one of the solid financial institutions of that handsome and wealthy city. He was a prime mover in introducing cable roads in Los Angeles, and a heavy stockholder in the Second street cable road, the first which was built in that city.

He is in appearance much younger than he really is, and though genial, wealthy and young, and the owner of a large and elegant residence on the summit of one of the hills commanding a fine view of most of the city of Los Angeles, Mr. Witmer has thus far remained a bachelor.

He and his sister are on a tour of this coast, intending to visit the cities of Washington on Puget sound, then to British Columbia and Alaska and return to Los Angeles.

PLANNING FOR A PICNIC.

The Old Veterans and Their Families Will Cross the River.

Cushing Post, G. A. R., the Woman's Relief Corps and Sons of Veterans had a joint meeting yesterday afternoon at the post hall. An invitation had been received from members of the post residing at Gray's river, Washington, to come over there on an excursion and picnic.

The invitation was accepted, and Thursday, September 4th was designated as the time, the start to be made early in the morning, that the whole day may be enjoyed in the best manner.

The joint committee of arrangements consists of comrades Hardesty, Lanfare, Welch, Taylor and Dealey, for the G. A. R.; Mesdames Hardesty, Bergman, Montgomery, Lanfare and Brodie for the W. R. C., and a similar committee of five will also be appointed from the Sons of Veterans.

It is the intention to have a splendid time, and the committee will do all in their power to make it an enjoyable affair. It will be for the old soldiers, their lady friends, the W. R. C., the Sons of Veterans, or in fact, a kind of family affair.

PERSONAL MENTION.

J. W. Gearhart was in the city yesterday.

Dr. Baker spent yesterday at the seaside.

J. F. Halloran returned from Portland last evening.

Rev. G. C. Hall returned yesterday from a visit to his brother in Portland.

Mrs. H. C. Hayes, of East Portland is in the city on a visit to Mrs. S. B Crow.

S. T., McKean's family have returned home from their outing at Clatsop beach.

Wallace L. Turner, of South Bend, came over yesterday and went to Portland in the evening.

Mrs. Etta Charters, and her sons, Del and Roy, leave for Tacoma tomorrow evening where they will in the future reside.

Rev. W. E. Stewart left here last evening on his way to Forest Grove, where after a brief sojourn he goes to Walla Walla, Washington.

Harry C. Lord arrived here yesterday morning, and his return seems to act favorably in regard to an improvement in the condition of his sick wife.

Mrs. Capt. Cleveland Rockwell and her two daughters, Gertrude and Cornelia, who have been spending a month in the city, returned to Portland last evening.

Local Steamboat Inspectors Edwards and McDermott came down from Portland yesterday, and stopped at Clifton to examine the Argonaut, and returned in the evening.

Mrs. Belle Morgan, principal of one of the public schools of Chico, Cal., was a passenger yesterday on the ocean steamer from Portland to San Francisco, and made a short call here visiting her old friend, Mrs. J. F. Halloran.

Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Campbell will leave for Santa Barbara, Cal., about the 8th of September, whither he goes in response to a call from that city. The friends in this city greatly regret the necessity that causes him to make the change on account of Mrs. Campbell's health.

Mrs. E. A. Weed and son visited a week in San Francisco, leaving there on Wednesday evening and arriving in Portland yesterday morning. They will arrive here to-morrow, and will be accompanied by Fred T. Merrill and wife, the latter being a sister of Mrs. Weed.

A fine line of Cigars and Cigarettes can be found at the Columbia Bakery, 596 Third street.

THE TRUTH OF IT.

The Malicious Falsehoods of the "Columbian" Refuted.

Yesterday morning's Columbian in a double headed article entitled "A Malicious Fabrication. Collector Taylor Assailed by THE ASTORIAN," prints an excerpt from a dispatch which appeared in the Seattle Times of the 18th inst., purporting to be a dispatch from the United Press corrspondent at Astoria, in which it is represented that the collector of customs at this port (Hon. E. A. Taylor) has been "hauled over the coals by the treasury department for an assumption of authority" in regard to the issuance of Chinese return certificates.

The foundation of this dispatch which appeared in the Times of the 18th inst., is a dispatch from Washington under date of August 6th. This dispatch was published in the Columbian of August 7th being from their Associated Press correspondent. The same dispatch, in substance appeared in THE ASTORIAN of August 7th, simultaneously, from THE ASTORIAN'S United Press correspondent at Washington.

There was nothing in this dispatch reflecting unfavorably in any way on Collector Taylor. He simply wrote to the treasury department for information, and received a courteous and satisfactory reply.

Now comes the Seattle Times eleven days after and prints a garbled dispatch, purporting to be from their United Press correspondent in Astoria, as before stated, which is all the worse a lie because there is a little truth intermixed with the falsehood.

The Columbian, ever on the alert to secure the brief pleasure it enjoys in publishing a libelous falsehood, reprints the garbled dispatch published in the Times, and endeavors to throw the blame and reponsibility of its publication on THE ASTORIAN.

The Columbian says:

"As it bore the United Press heading, it must have been sent by the Astoria correspondent of that association. THE ASTORIAN is the United Press correspondent here."

The Columbian lies.

THE ASTORIAN is not the Astoria correspondent of the United Press association.

THE ASTORIAN has not sent or furnished the material for any such dispatch for any purpose.

No one connected with THE ASTORIAN or for whom THE ASTORIAN is responsible has furnished or sent any such dispatch. All of which the Western Union Telegraph Company's records will prove.

The Columbian lies.

It would be a discouraging task to attempt to correct, deny and refute all the misstatements, false reports and libelous accusations that appear in the Columbian, and it is only because of the malicious report they circulate regarding Collector Taylor, whose performance of duty is above criticism, that their wilful misstatements are deemed worthy of notice.

It is believed by many that the Columbian, who is willing to sacrifice truth and reputation for a brief sensation, knows more of the origin of the lying dispatch about Collector Taylor than it is willing to tell.

If the Columbian would take as much pains and put forth as much earnest effort in the endeavor to publish the truth as it now does to publish that which is false and which it knows is false, its news would be more reliable and it would not be the general verdict that the Columbian lies.

Tell the truth and may be you'll live longer.

Gentry's Paradox.

Kindness, gentleness and love always command the respect of the refined and educated, and this is one of the secrets of the wonderful success of Prof. Gentry. He is as kind to the little beauty Shetland and dogs as a good mother is to the children she loves, and they in turn seem happy in obeying him. He has only to tell them what he wants them to do and it is done. They all seem anxious and willing to fully perform their parts as any one who might exect to be liberally rewarded. This may partially be from the fact that they all so thoroughly enjoy the visit of the audience on the stage after each performance, and seem disappointed when a visit is not made them. They seem to thoroughly enjoy the caresses and sweetmeats of the ladies and children and no doubt would return a vote of thanks could they only talk.

At Ross Opera House Wednesday and Thursday nights, August 27th and 28th. Prices, children, 25 cents; adults, 50 and 75 cents.

Passengers to Portland.

The following is the list of passengers having rooms who went up the river last night on the steamer Telephone:

F. A. Stuart, D. E. Rice, C. P. Bryant and wife, Mrs. J. N. Johnson, R. Helms and child, Mrs. Sealy, D. W. Cummings, J. Turk and wife, C. V. Wintzergerode and wife, R. Bernhard, Mrs. C. Rockwell and two daughters, J. Slade and wife, C. F. Gilham, A. J. Brownlie and family, W. Tromey, J. Hunter, W. Fredrichs and wife, J. W. Cook, F. McDermott, J. D. Hart, T. W. Keer, Dr. J. A. Fulton, C. E. Rochwick, G. Smith, E. Sanborn, P. A. Quinn, E. L. Entler, H. W. Hall, Mrs. Rinell, A. J. Douglas, Mrs. Finlay, J. Bendle and wife and John Gordon.

A DOCTOR'S REBUKE.

Immensely More Mischief than is Generally Suspected.

Dr. King, the eminent medical writer, in a learned disquisition on our national complaint, constipation, says:—

The great quantity of cathartic pills, etc., which are taken by the people of this country are productive of immensely more mischief than is generally suspected. True, the physic unloads the bowels, but its action tends to diminish the tone of the intestines; so that, instead of removing costiveness, it aggravates it, leaving the bowels in a more torpid condition.

Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla was designed to fill just such a contingency as the doctor's arraignment anticipates, viz.: instead of being a powerful mineral purgative, it is a mild vegetable laxative, that, owing to its solvent and gentle stimulating properties, is so certain a relief in constipation that it has been given away to hundreds, not to be paid for unless it was of positive benefit. It replaces constipation almost immediately with a natural easy habit, and is so mild that, unlike drastic purgatives, it can be taken indefinitely with perfect safety.

Rooms With Board.

Parties desiring comfortable rooms with board, at reasonable rates, can be accommodated at Mrs. E. C. Holden's, corner Main and Fourth streets.

SEASIDE ITEMS.

SEASIDE, Aug. 22, 1890.

Mrs. J. T. Ross left for Astoria this morning.

W. L. Robb returned this afternoon from Astoria.

Mrs. L. B. Logan came down from Astoria this evening.

P. L. Cherry and V. Boelling were down during the week.

Judson Cole is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Laighton.

G. K. Grimes who was taken very ill last Monday, died to-day at twelve o'clock.

Mr. C. W. Stone and family returned to Astoria for the season last Thursday.

Two linemen started out to-day to repair the telegraph line from Seaside to Tillamook Rock.

Mr. Eberman who was stricken with paralysis a couple of months ago, is slowly improving.

The funeral of G. K. Grimes will take place on Saturday at 2 P. M. The interment will be at Clatsop.

Mrs. Tuttle and her son returned from Astoria this morning and went up to their homestead this afternoon.

Mrs. O. B. Estes has taken up her tent and returned to Astoria this afternoon on account of the illness of her baby.

The weather to-day could not be finer, and quite a large number of the guests were enjoying a dip in the briny deep.

Mrs. J. E. Higgins and family are camped in Grimes' grove, and will be here a week or two longer. Mrs. Higgins' sister is with them.

J. W. Conn, of Astoria, was down during the week. He has taken a lot in Railroad addition and his family will camp there next season.

Capt. Reed and family, Mrs. M. Nowlen and children and Mrs. M. C. Crosby and two children, all of Astoria, spent the day on the beach.

It rained here quite hard yesterday and made it rather unpleasant for the campers, many of whom have quit the grove sooner than they would have done otherwise.

Pretty Maude Granger and Her Lovely Costumes.

When Miss Granger returned from Paris she gave her first American presentation of her new play "Inherited" at the New National Theater, Washington. The president and his family were present, and many of the distinguished diplomats of this country and Europe.

The fashion of Washington was there, says "Rosalind" in her letters to the Boston Herald, and I have never seen more elaborate costumes in a theater during a season of grand opera. The press dispatches have before this advised you of the success of Miss Granger and the play, but I want to give you my impression of this beautiful, emotional actress. Those impressions I previously had were derived partly from her photographs and partly from reports of those who had seen her. Strange to say I never had. I thought her tall and Junoesque, large, exceeding, in fact, with a pair of big flashing coal-black eyes and a presence altogether to which the term magnificent would be most applicable. Judge of my amaze when a pretty little creature swept out who quite upset all my preconceived ideas.

She is short, quite short, with a lithesome figure, and eyes that may be black or blue or gray. I could not tell but large and round and full. They neither flash nor dance but are soft and pleading, and taking altogether she is a delicious little woman. And what a dresser! I have seen actresses with magnificent costumes but there is something out of the common in Maude Granger's style. The costumes may be Worth's or they may be Madame Smith's, but I never saw a woman who knew so well the art of dressing. She inclines to neeligе, and wore two robes of white and gold. The second was of white satin and a little more elaborate than the first.

But the costume she wears in the second act is a wonder. It is of some dark material with a long train, and one side is completely covered with what appears to be natural flowers. It is richly embroidered with gold bronze and was hung all over with little golden jigamarees of some sort. The effect was quite enchanting, I assure you, and the feminine population of Washington are raving over pretty Maude Granger and her wonderful gowns. The sale for Miss Granger's engagement opens to-day.

WORTHY OF CONSIDERATION.

Perhaps the Expense of Repairing Planked Streets Can Be Reduced.

The Seattle Times calls attention to a communication from Thomas Prosch to the Tacoma chamber of commerce relative to the care of their streets, and as the business streets of Astoria are all planked and somewhat expensive to maintain, it is believed the following will be of interest to Astoria property owners:

"Mr. Prosch advises that to lengthen the life of our planked streets, and for the benefit of all other streets, the width of wagon tires be regulated in future, to the end that wider tires be used on trucks and drays, coal, lumber and other vehicles heavily laden.

"Reference to this subject was recently made in the Times, in which an extract from the report of the grand jury in San Francisco was published. That body called attention to the destruction of even cobble stone pavements by heavily laden vehicles, with narrow tires, and urged the adoption of an ordinance providing that wide rims be used on all vehicles requiring more than one span of horses, or carrying extra heavy loads. It would save this city many dollars yearly, were the suggestion to be enforced by ordinance. The destruction of our planked streets by heavy freighting, is very rapid, and entails enormous expense for repairs and replacement."

The wear of Astoria's planked streets for a few years past is quite noticeably greater than it used to be when there were few vehicles in use here. The slivers and pulverized wood accumulates much more rapidly than it used to; it requires more attention to keep the streets clear of the debris, and the planks have to be renewed oftener, being worn thin and unsafe for heavy loads to pass over.

There is little doubt that driving rapidly with narrow tires over the streets wears the planks much faster than would be the case if broad tires were used, and the matter is one which will probably be considered by our city authorities in due time.

A SCROFULOUS BOY

Running Sores Covered His Body and Head. Bones Affected. Cured by Cuticura Remedies

When six months old, the left hand of our little grandchild began to swell, and had every appearance of a large boil. We poulticed it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand, and as his blood became more and more impure, it took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the chin, beneath the under lip, which was very offensive. His head was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty-two months old, when I undertook the care of him, his mother having died when he was a little more than a year old, of consumption (scrofula, of course). He could walk a little, but could not get up if he fell down, and could not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the CUTICURA REMEDIES, using all freely. One sore after another healed, a bony matter forming in each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which would finally grow loose and were taken out; then they would heal rapidly. One of these ugly bone formations I preserved. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, at the age of six years, a strong and healthy child.

JUST ABOUT 1-2 GONE.

When you mix in politics,
And you run—your party kicks,
Then your prospects are worth nix!
Hedge in time,
For you're about
½ gone!

When your girl so sweet, polite,
To the picnic you invite—
You'll agree that she's quite right
In thinking
You're just about
½ gone!

When from lodge you come at night,
And your head feels sore and tight—
Then your wife takes great delight
In growling,
You're just about
½ gone!

Folks who like to wear good clothes,
Come to me and buy goods close—
To bargain hunters I'd propose
To come
Ere bargains are
All gone!

The clothing quacks are awful mad,
And vow I shall not win that bet!
I heed it not, but laugh at that.
It merely shows
They're just about
½ gone!
