ASTORIAN BUILDING, 100 CAS STREET

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION: Sent by carrier, per week, 15 cents; sent by mail, one month, $4.00; one year, $40.00.

THE ASTORIAN guarantees to its advertisers the largest circulation of any newspaper published on the Columbia river.

Glorious weather now and every body happy.

Track laying on the extension of the Hay railway into the city was commenced yesterday.

John Bell renounced allegiance to the czar of Russia yesterday, and was given first citizenship papers.

The board of fire delegates met last evening, but adjourned until to-night without transacting any business.

Auditor Jewett has received the new Remington type writer, which was purchased by order of the council.

This is the last day of the steam flying horses, for the merry-go-round leaves here tomorrow for Salem, where it will be in operation during the state fair.

Work has already commenced on the steamer to be built for Capt. Holmquist at the foot of Jackson street by Joe Lentzner. It will be 75 feet long and 16 feet wide.

It will be but a short time before Astoria will boast of having a system of cable-street lighting, for work is to be commenced at once running the wires and putting in the lights.

The Occidental cricket team resumed practice games on Flavel's wharf this evening, but adjourned to a challenge to the Spokane Falls team by which they were defeated recently.

One of the windows in car No. 1, of the city railroad was broken yesterday afternoon, by a heavy and famous gray horse, poking his nose through it, at the corner of Third and Cass streets. The horse was uninjured.

Suit was instituted in the State Circuit court yesterday in behalf of the City vs. M. J. Kinney, to recover $84, the cost of improving the street in front of defendant's property on Third street, near Genevieve street.

J. O. Spencer, of Clifton, has been appointed administrator on the estate of H. H. Taylor, the suicide, whose body was found last week. This estate, which consists entirely of money and a few personal effects, is valued at $200.

The new city bonds which are for Harris & Co., of Chicago, Ill., are twenty three in number and total $1,000 each. Every bond and the coupons attached must be signed in forty-one places by Auditor Jewett, and yesterday he signed his name 943 times. The bonds will be sent away at once.

The eight-hour system seems to be worked for all it is worth in Unatilla county. It is said that in the harvest fields there men are required to work eight hours in the forenoon and eight hours in the afternoon, leaving eight hours for rest and recreation, or to make up for any time that may have been lost during the day.

Henry Doyle, the Pacific coast agent for Barlow Bros., celebrated salmon times and threads, will arrive this morning on the State of California from San Francisco. Experience of many years past has demonstrated the excellence of the manufacturer he represents, and his arrival in this city is a matter of interest to those engaged in the fisheries.

The Willapa Republican tells of a citizen of that place who recently visited Astoria and was so dazzled by the electric lights and other metropolitan illuminations that he followed three blocks after what he took to be a street light, and finally fell exhausted on a door step and was disgusted to find that it was a lightning bug on the end of his nose.

The readers of THE ASTORIAN were in their seats in time last evening at the opera house, for exactly at 8:15 P. M., the hour announced in these columns yesterday, the curtain rose and the play opened. The few people who do not read THE ASTORIAN were late, coming in after the performance commenced, and lost more or less of the first act.

There are three very important events in the life of every male. Number one is when as a boy he wears his first pair of pants, the second is when as a young man the girls first speak of him as "Mister," and the third, and the most important, is when he is married. The happy married man, the doctor tells him "It's a boy." The letter was Jeff Crandall's experience yesterday morning.

The Oregon Improvement company at Seattle have engaged a diver to examine the piles that support their coal bankers, and watch the operation of the trestle as he performs his destructive scalping in fifty feet of water. Coming down under water in a diving bell to watch teredos is an interesting scientific amusement that is denied owners of water front property in Astoria, there being no teredos to observe here.

Geo. W. Parker, of God's valley, Tillamook county, arrived in the city last night and reports settlers coming into that section rapidly. Many settlers are locating on surveyed land, and those who are on the land included in the late survey are quite anxious as to the result of Inspector Bussey's examination. Will Russell, who has a fine ranch adjoining Parkers, finds pleasure in the retirement of this fertile valley and yearns not for the gilt and tinsel pleasures of city life.

Captain J. H. D. Gray passed Sunday across the river, and while there took occasion to inquire into the rumored purchase of the I. R. & N. Co. "The story is all bosh," said the Captain yesterday morning, "and grew out of the fact that some gentlemen, who are connected with the Northern Pacific company, have bought forty acres of land on the hill about a mile south of Mr. Loomis' place and contemplate putting up a summer hotel. The purchase has not the least railroad significance."

Weinhard's Beer. And Free Lunch at the Telephone Saloon, 5 cents.

A TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

Five Pounds of Powder Exploded in His Face.

Yesterday afternoon Andrew Peterson, who has a ranch on the Necanicum, went eight miles from Seaside, met with a terrible accident while at work in the woods.

Peterson was blasting a log and had put one blast in which failed to go off. He then commenced putting in another, and had a load of powder in his hand while putting in the charge. There must have been some fire in the log from the previous charge that fired the loose powder which caused the explosion of that in the can he was holding. The terrible force of the explosion struck him in the face burning his beard and skin to a crisp. His face is terribly swollen and full of powder and his eyes are closed to sight.

From where the poor man met with the accident it was about half a mile by the trail to Mr. Johnson's place, and down this trail he crawled, once in a while stopping to pull his eyes open with his fingers, being then able to dimly see his way. Thus, with great suffering, he managed to reach Johnson's, where he was assisted to Seaside. From Seaside he was accompanied to Astoria by George W. Rowe, who took the unfortunate man to St. Mary's hospital, where he received medical attention. His right eye is the worst injured, although he may possibly recover the sight of both. He is a member of the Scandinavian Benevolent society, and will receive the sympathy and attention of his fellow-members, as well as the nursing and kind offices of the attendants at the hospital.

DID UP A SAILOR. A Local Puglist Severely Punishes a "Deserter."

A little unpleasantness occurred in a saloon in lower town about 10 o'clock last night, in which a sailor whose name is unknown was badly beaten by Wm. Scott, otherwise known as Scotty, the puglist.

The sailor, it appears, arrived here recently on a deep water vessel and put up at one of the sailor boarding houses where he was given a "cette blanch," and the run of the bar room and in other ways life was made pleasant to him from a sailor's standpoint, the understanding on the part of the boarding house keeper being that the sailor would stay until he could be shipped. The sailor, however, after a few days of riotous living concluded he did not want to go to sea any more, and leaving the boarding house, went to work very contented.

Last night he came into town, and in his rounds met "Scotty," the latter took him to task for "deserting," and as Jack vonchafsed no explanation nor showed any disposition to pay his hands in, he was given the most approved Sullivanistic style. It took a physician half an hour to dress the man's bruised face. No arrests.

Coming From California.

The steamship State of California, Capt. H. S. Ackley, is due from San Francisco this morning, with the following cabin passengers: E. W. Rockwell, W. S. Harland, F. R. Callahan, W. H. Jones, W. Miner, R. L. Knapp, Mrs. E. L. Knapp, J. E. Wilber and wife, Dr. G. W. Shidler, Mrs. G. W. Shidler, C. H. Watson, Mrs. E. Watson, Archie Askins, Mrs. J. Hilton and son, Mrs. Willie Kiehl, G. R. Carkey, Mrs. J. W. Miner and son, O. H. Pickett, Mrs. R. Curbie, Mrs. J. Seaman, J. Stokes, J. C. Wyle, A. Alden, H. Thornburg, R. Abbey, James Scott, Simon Seintkenbach, Mr. J. O. Gilford and daughter, Ed. Wilcox and wife, W. E. Post, Miss Nevins, Mrs. M. C. Muren, Mrs. G. H. Wood, R. Mangler, C. A. Bacon, J. McPhers, H. Howe, W. A. Humphrey, Wm. Ross, Q. Camp, W. C. Harvey, Henry Doyle.

From South Bend.

Wm. B. Adair, formerly in the real estate business in this city, arrived from South Bend last evening. He reports business in the Bend section as quiet, but considerable activity is being displayed in railroad building. Work on the Chehalis and South Bend line, he said, is being pushed rapidly, and altogether there is probably 700 men at work on this end of the line. 200 Chinese are looking after the work.

Extraordinary Salmon Shipments.

There has probably been no season in the history of salmon packing on the Columbia when the pack has been disposed of so rapidly as the present. For some time past every steamer has been loaded on her up trip with salmon, and still it goes. At this rate very little will be left to go over the bar for foreign ports. It is thought there is probably not more than 45,000 cases left on the river.

Notice to Mariners.

An official letter from Thomas Perry, lieutenant commander U. S. N., Higginson inspector of the twelfth district, dated San Francisco, Cal., August 22, 1920, reads as follows: Notice is hereby given that the whaling buoy, off of San Francisco, California, has been reported missing since the morning of the 20th inst. This buoy will not be replaced.

For Rent.

Excellent furnished room for one or two quiet gentlemen. Inquire at this office.

Ladies' Ladies' $3.00 Fine Shoes; also flexible hand-turned French Kids, at P. J. Goodman & Co's.

THE BONDS IN DANGER.

A Construction Company's Creditor Brings Suit.

WM. REID'S PLANS CHECKED.

C. J. Curtis, as attorney for W. H. Bain, purposes checking Wm. Reid and the Pacific Construction company in securing control of the $301,000 in bonds and securities on deposit with the L. W. Case Banking Co., as security and forfeit for the payment of the construction of the Seaside division of the South Coast railroad.

Yesterday suit was filed against the Construction company on behalf of Bain, who, as assignee of a number of surveyors, obtained judgment against the company last fall for $3,488.60. This fact is set forth in the complaint in the case, which then recites that the Astoria & South Coast railroad is indebted to the Construction company in the sum named. That the latter company is insolvent and except for its lien on the negotiable securities and bonds has no assets.

Wherefore plaintiff asks that the defendant corporation be declared insolvent; that a receiver be appointed to close up the affairs of the company and apply the proceeds to the payment of plaintiff's claim.

Unless some good philanthropist steps in and furnishes the money for the construction company to pay the claim of Bain the bonds will be tied up for some time and the proposed plan of Wm. Reid to place them with capitalists seriously interfered with.

A GOOD BUY.

An Albany Man Secures Some Valuable Property.

At the court house yesterday afternoon, J. K. Weatherford, of Albany, made a good buy of choice Astoria property. He was one of a few that attended the sheriff's sale in the partition suit of C. H. Page against Selloscher et al. The property included comprised lots 5 and 10, block 61; lots 6 and 7, block 58, and lot 10, block 57, with water front rights, in block 56 1/2. McClure's addition, and is on what is known as Hamilton street.

The price paid was $12,000, which is considered very low.

As Mr. Weatherford is connected with the Albany & Astoria railroad in an official capacity, the purchase will undoubtedly be the foundation for reports that the company has secured it for terminal facilities.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Frank Gentry, representing the Gentry equine paradox, arrived in the city last evening.

Chas. Mitchell, of Seattle, who has been spending a week in the city, returns home this morning.

Mrs. E. S. Lowe, of Port Stevens, will leave for a visit to California on the steamship Columbia today.

Ross Clinton went to the Klaskanine Sunday and returned yesterday, bringing seven dozen fine mountain trout.

E. E. Covert, formerly a resident of this city, but now practicing law at Vancouver, Wash., is in Astoria on business.

Maudie Granger and her excellent company go up to Portland this morning on the R. R. Thompson, thence to Oregon City, where they appear this evening.

Lieutenant-Governor Charles E. Langdon, of our sister state, passed a couple of hours in this city yesterday afternoon and left for Portland on the steamer Telephone. Governor Langdon has been a guest of J. G. Megler, at Brookfield for several days. The visitor stated he would return here in a few weeks when it is his intention to invest in some property.

To Scholars and Teachers.

Court street school will open Monday September 1st. Examinations for the Astoria high school will be conducted the first week. All pupils who have finished the first grammar grade work in any of the city schools, will be admitted without examination.

Tuition for non resident pupils can be ascertained by making application to J. W. Conn, chairman board of directors district No. 1.

There will be a teacher's meeting held at the Court street building Saturday, August 30th, at 2 P. M. All teachers are requested to be present.

W. D. PRATT, Principal.

A movement is on foot to procure, by a writ of habeas corpus, the liberation of Mrs. Maybrick, the American woman who was sentenced to imprisonment for life on a charge of murdering her husband.

HE WAS ASHAMED.

To Ask Again, but His Frank Letter Got It for Him.

A few months ago one of the unfortunate inmates in the San Francisco Alms house was inspired by the sensational statements in the newspapers with the belief that Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla would help him. But without agency, how to get it was the question. Finally he wrote to the E. W. Joy Co., appealing to their generosity, and it was not unheeded, the coveted preparation being sent by the next parcel delivery. Its effect is best told in a subsequent letter, from which we quote the following: "I suppose you know me by this writing, and my circumstances and condition. Although importing, I ask of your generosity for another bottle of your Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. Its laxative action is perfection itself. It has so thoroughly regulated my system that my catarrh, rheumatism, constipation, and headaches are all better. I feel ashamed to ask in this way, but what shall I do? I thought I might need any more, but I am now so anxious to keep it up that you see how I feel."

It was sent, and he can go to keep it if he needs it.

A MARVELOUS ESCAPE.

A Young Lady Drugged by a Ranaway Horse.

Miss Grace Carruthers, of this city, met with a thrilling adventure on the road to Kamm's farm and her escape from death or serious injury was nothing less than miraculous. Miss Carruthers was one of a party of ladies and gentlemen, who set out on horseback early Sunday morning to visit the Kamm place. The animal that Miss Carruthers rode was a spirited one and caused her no little inconvenience by shying at objects on the road. She managed to keep her seat until at a point about eight miles from the city, when the horse took a leap to one side and ran away.

Miss Carruthers was thrown to the ground. Her riding habit caught in the stirrup and she was dragged a considerable distance, the animal's hoofs striking the ground in alarming proximity to her head. Fortunately the strain on the dress proved too great, and its trailing released the young lady from her perilous position.

An examination disclosed that Miss Carruthers' injuries consisted solely of a bruised shoulder. The horse was recaptured and the young lady pluckily rode it into the city.

FILE MATTERS.

An Objectionable Ordinance Will Be Repealed To-Night.

The meeting of the City Council this evening will see a settlement of the differences between the body and the fire department. The council committee on fire and water, to which was referred the matter of a proposed repeal of the ordinance taking the appointment of engineers away from the fire companies, reported. Two members of the committee—Councilmen Bergman and Wickman—will present the report, the third member, John Fox, being absent from the city. The committee will favor a repeal of the ordinance, which, it is believed, will leave the appointing power where it formerly was, with the Board of Fire Delegates.

There is little doubt but what the report will be adopted, as the members of the council have expressed themselves in favor of the firemen's position.

A Sound Racer.

The Baily Galtzer is the name of a new steamer lately inspected on the Sound. She is built by T. P. Holland, and will run between Seattle and Tacoma to carry passengers only. Her contract calls for a speed of twenty-two miles an hour and her projector thinks he will beat even this. On her trial run she will cover the distance between Seattle and Tacoma in one hour and ten minutes. It takes the Olympian two hours to make the same run.

The new steamer is built to resemble the Puget Sound and Alaska Steamship company's State of Washington. Her net horsepower is slightly less than the latter vessel, yet she has seventy-five per cent more power. She is magnificently furnished throughout with handsome saloons, lavatories and barber shops. She has no staterooms. She registers 444.2 tons net and measures 173.7 feet in length and 32.3 feet in breadth. Her registered depth is 8 feet. She has one deck on one mast, and will be out in a few days.—Port Townsend Leader.

Catching the Speckled Beauties.

"Maud, I should like to know the meaning of this reception!"

"Mr. Hazards, you shall!" answered the proud country girl, freely. "I have found you out, sir. That is all."

"What do you mean, dearest?"

"Don't come near me, sir! Stay on the other side of that table! I have found out that you have been amusing yourself at my expense."

"For heaven's sake, Maud, explain."

"I know I am freckled-faced, sir!" she said, with flashing eyes, "but I did not think you capable of joking about it with your friends."

"I haven't done anything of the kind, Maud!" protested the young man.

"You have, sir! After you had—had proposed to me last night, and I— I had said yes, and you had gone, I overheard you telling Mr. Bellehammer out there on the front porch 'that glorious fun it was to go into the mountains in August and catch speckled beauties.'—Chicago Tribune.

"Weak and weary" describes the condition of many people debilitated by strain, worry, overwork, or overexertion. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed to build up and strengthen the body, purify and quicken the sluggish blood, and restore the lost appetite.

All over Europe are the agents of American theatrical and other managers who are in search of novelties, and who have the highest regard for that money is no object. London is made their headquarters.

Dyspepsia For Sixteen Years.

M. P. Holland, Postmaster, Rockaway Beach, Long Island, N. Y., was entirely cured of dyspepsia and rheumatism of sixteen years' standing, by taking two BRANDRETT'S PILLS every night for a month. During the month he lost weight, he gained eight pounds in weight. BRANDRETT'S PILLS are purely vegetable, absolutely harmless, and safe to take at any time.

Sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar-coated.

MARINE NEWS AND NOTES.

The cargo of the British bark Troop, which arrived Sunday, comprised 7,823 cases of tea.

The steamship Columbia, sailing from here to-day, will take several thousand cases of salmon and a large quantity of shooks for Frisco.

Yesterday some slight changes or repairs were made on the new boiler of the steamer Marzanita, and Capt. Richardson expects to go to Tillamook Rock to-day.

Capt. Tullih, of the British ship Strathblane, which arrived Sunday from Antwerp, reports that when the vessel was near the equator on this side, what looked like a ship's bow, was sighted. The captain satisfied himself that no signals of distress were flying from this object, but did not run down close enough to make out whether or not it was a boat.

Ford & Stokes have purchased all the wreckage of the boat Cora, which belonged to the Cutting Packing company, and which went ashore at Cook's Inlet last spring. The purchase includes all the rigging, chains, sails, etc., recovered. The Union Pacific company, it is understood, claims title to the property also, and it is stated will try to enforce their claim.

There is considerable red tape attached to the practice of lightening ships at this point before they can proceed up the river to the inland seaport. Vessels arriving here with cargoes for Portland are invariably so deeply laden that they cannot go up the river and in consequence must discharge part of the cargo on to barges. This cannot be done without permission of the customs authorities, but this is generally granted upon application of the agent, made in writing, to the collector of customs. The request in the case of the ship Strathblane, which arrived here Sunday, reads: "Permission is respectfully requested to lighten sufficient of the cargo of the British ship Strathblane, of Glasgow, to enable her to proceed to Portland, Or., with general cargo, to enable her to go over the river bars to her destination."

The Canadian Pacific Co.'s steamship Daunce, which arrived from Victoria yesterday, came by way of San Francisco. The occasion of this was the late unpleasantness between the Pacific Mail Steamship company and the Canadian Pacific, wherein a war in freight and passenger business was declared. The breach has since been healed, and under condition that the Canadian company will let San Francisco business alone, the Mail company agrees to keep its ships away from British Columbia ports. One steamer of the latter company, the China, toned at Victoria, and to get even the other company accepted freight and passengers at Hong Kong and Yokohama, on the steamer Agassiz, for San Francisco. Before the outbreak of the war, however, a truce had been declared by the companies and the passengers and freight were sent to the Bay City on the Daunce.

In Her Stomach.

About three months ago Dr. Voight, of this city, was called to attend Mrs. Annie Mickles, who lives at 755 South Pearl street, Columbus, O. The woman appeared to be suffering from stomach trouble. Shortly after treatment was commenced Mrs. Mickles began to throw off vegetable matter resembling strips of flesh and skin, and under the doctor's treatment was slowly recovering. His patient sorely puzzled Dr. Voight, who determined yesterday to make a thorough examination of the case, which brought to light an astounding state of affairs. The patient was placed in a reclining position, and milk was dropped slowly into her mouth. An instrument was then introduced, when the doctor says he saw an object moving back and forth across the alimentary canal. In order to remove the object, the doctor administered to his patient a powerful emetic, which caused violent fits of vomiting, during one of which she threw from her stomach a white substance an inch and a half in length, which upon examination proved to be a toad, and it was alive. The doctor and Mr. and Mrs. Mickles could scarcely believe their eyes, and when the patient fully realized what she had thrown off her stomach she fainted. The toad was imperfectly developed. The head and fore part of the body were perfect and complete, but its rear legs were missing, and there is nothing to indicate that they ever grew out. Mrs. Mickles is feeling greatly improved to-night, and in expressing her account for the presence of the toad in her stomach told the Enquirer that about six years ago, while living at Lancaster, Ohio, she was employed at a house where eastern water was used for drinking purposes. She frequently found toads and snakes in the cistern, and thinks she must have swallowed this one at that time. Dr. Voight is of the opinion that the animal was taken into the stomach in embryo and developed while lying there.—Chicago Enquirer.
