

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON: THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1890. Now that the Senate has passed the tariff bill, and the river and harbor bill is awaiting the president's signature, there is but little more work for Congress, and it is probable that an adjournment will be had this month.

Under the provisions of an apportionment bill introduced in Congress yesterday, Oregon will be entitled to an additional Representative. That will be good enough if the bill only passes, but the introduction of a bill is one thing and the passage another, and the trouble is that the latter course does not always follow the former. Let us hope, however, that it will in this case.

Efforts are being made by the Pacific Christian Advocate, of Portland, to secure the removal of the Willamette university to that city. The last issue had a long editorial on the matter. Our committee should make strenuous efforts to raise the required subsidy of $125,000, and then make the offer for it to come to Astoria. It is worth making a grand bid for, and it would be of inestimable value to this city to have the university here.

The story of a wrecked life is told in our telegraphic columns where a member of the nobility, far away from his native land, after encountering numerous reverses and gradually nearing poverty, is reduced at last to penury, wanders away into the mountains, starves to death, and his lifeless body is torn, mangled and partially devoured by beasts and birds of prey. It is a sad tale, and cannot be read without feelings of pity for the poor unfortunate mortal and his dreadful fate.

Universal admiration at the extent and importance of the work of the jetty, was yesterday expressed by all the distinguished visitors who nearly all saw it for the first time. Though they had read of it, they never felt so impressed with regard to its magnitude until they made a personal inspection. Mr. Tweedale, chief clerk of the war department, on his return to Washington, will have an interview with the secretary of war and tell him how it appears to an observer. He says that the officials at Washington have little idea of the extent, the resources and the needs of the great Pacific coast, but that what he has seen on his trip will enable him to talk with them and convey to them such information as will enable them to have more correct ideas of this vast section of country than they had previously entertained.

Had to be healthy. Horse-dealer—"You had better buy the horse, colonel. You will never find a healthier animal." Colonel Jones—"I believe it. If he hadn't been healthy all his life, he never could have lived so long."

SCROFULA Is that impurity of the blood which produces unsightly lumps or swellings on the glands of the neck; causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors," and fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption, and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula or impure blood, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. "Every spring my wife and children have been troubled with scrofula, sores breaking out on them in various places. My little boy, three years old, has been a terrible sufferer. Last spring he was one mass of sores from head to feet. I was advised to use Hood's Sarsaparilla, and we have taken it. The result is that all have been cured of the scrofula, my little boy being entirely free from sores, and all four of my children look bright and healthy." W. R. ARTHURSON, Passaic City, N. J.
