Government Officials and Prominent Citizens

PAY A VISIT TO THE JETTY.

Yesterday afternoon the Telephone officers and leading citizens of Portland, who came to make a trip to the jetty. The government steamer George H. Mendell, Capt. John W. Brown, met the Telephone at her dock and took from her the following passengers: John Tweedale, chief clerk of the War Department, Washclerk of the War Department, Washington, D. C., and his wife; Major Lydecker, U. S. Engineers, Van-couver, Wash.; Capt. T. W. Symonds, U. S. Engineers, and Mrs. Symonds; Major and Mrs. H. H. Northup, Col. John McCraken, Mrs. James R. Lewis, H. B. Hegardt, assistant engineer, Mayor M. C. Crosby, Capt.
Geo. Flavel, Samuel Elmore, H. M. Portland and Coast S. S. Co. Thatcher, Alex. Campbell, Capt. Thos. Crang, of the Telephone, Geo. Hibbert, of the Town Talk, and a representa-STR. ALLIANCE. Sails from Port-land every Thursday at 7 p. M.; and from Astoria the following morning. Land-ing at Hoquiam, Aberdeen, Cosmopolis and tive of THE ASTORIAN.

The Mendell was only thirty-five minutes in making the run to the pier at Fort Stevens, where J. W. Stone-man, overseer of the work, had an en-STR. DOLPHIN. Sails from Portland on 1st and 15th of each month, landing at North Cove, South Bend, Willapa and Bay gine and two cars in readiness for the party, who were soon seated on the open cars.

On we go across the wharf, passing but which were once standing in deep water, as the sand has gradually ac-cumulated and formed solid land encroaching on the river. Turning to the right, the trestle work leaves the that these posts can be furnished shore and heads out toward the ocean, over which the train rolls rapidly, and the party begin to fully realize the novelty of their position, apparently

Up the river on plain and hill Astoria is seen, but all admitted that they believed the time is in the near future when the hills would be thickly settled, the iron horse of the through railroads would make the woods and waters ring with the shrill whistle of incoming trains to meet the many vessels which will be induced to enter here by the completion as intended of the valuable jetty, and Astoria will take her place as one of the most prominent shipping ports of the grand old Pacific coast. The return trip is made, the ocean and its restless waves are left behind, we turn our backs on China and Japan and in twenty minutes are once again n Oregon.

Fort Stevens with its thirty-four guns looking silently at us over its parapets is seen at our right, quiet in its grandeur and grand in its silence. Reaching the wharf, Major Handbury and Mr. Hegardt open the doors, now closed for want of governmental ap-propriation and show one of the two massive hoisting engines which operate the huge derricks, and easily lift thirteen tons at a time.

When asked by one of the ladies when the engines would be used, Ma-jor Handbury replied, "When Ben signs the bill," and all agreed with Mr. Tweedale that if Ben could be here now and see the grand work for himelf, he would sign the bill at once.

around us the long rolling swell is coming in from the land of Confucius, and we discern nothing save the blending of the ocean and the sky, where the horizon terminates our vision.

The air is hazy and the view is comparatively limited. Up the coast is Cape Hancock, with the high bluff surmounted by the lighthouse which marks the entrance to the royal Columbia, and beyond that a short distance the wooded point closes the view. Southward stretches the beautiful Clatsop beach with Point Adams light in the foreground and Tillamook head in the distance. The transition from long, lingering and painful sickness to robust health marks an epoch in the life of the indi-vidual. Such a remarkable event is vidual. Such a remarkable event is treasured in the memory and the ageacy whereby the good health has been attained is gratefully blessed. Hence it is that so much is heard in praise of Electric Bitters. So many feel they owe their restoration to health to the use of the Great Alterative and Tonic. If you are troubled with any disease of the Kidneys, Liver or Stomach, of long or short standing you will surely find relief by use of Electric Bitters. Sold at 50 c, and $1 per bottle at J, W.
