

ASTORIA, OREGON: SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1890

ADVICES received in San Francisco from Alaska continue to show a light pack, as has been previously reported to THE ASTORIAN by one of the largest salmon canners on northern waters.

REPRESENTATIVE HERMANN has been instrumental in securing the establishment of a new mail route in Oregon, and has presented petitions for other routes. This is not the only matter in which Mr. Hermann has shown his fidelity to the state he so ably represents, and indicates that his faithful work secured his triumphant re-election.

It will be seen from the report of progress of the electric railroad that Mr. Sharpstein feels more hopeful regarding the raising of the subsidy and the successful prosecution of the work. It is to be hoped that the outlook will so improve as to enable the company to secure their franchise at the next meeting of the council and go ahead with the grading before the bad weather of winter sets in and makes it impossible for the company to comply with the terms of a franchise.

CALIFORNIA Republicans last night opened the campaign for the state election. Col. Markham, the nominee for governor, spoke in San Francisco and meetings were held in forty other cities at the same time. The fight will be close, for Mayor Pond of San Francisco, the Democratic nominee for gubernatorial honors is a very popular man, and the fact that Markham favored a division of the state will undoubtedly be used against him, in the northern part of the state.

VERY wide indeed is the range of subjects to be discussed by the Pacific Coast Board of Commerce which convenes in San Francisco on Wednesday of this week. Delegates will be present from California, Oregon and Washington, many of whom will be able and eloquent men, and the papers which will be presented will be prepared by men thoroughly familiar with their respective subjects. Such gatherings are sure to be highly beneficial to the whole coast, and will certainly far more than could be secured by efforts of towns or separate localities.

BOARD OF COMMERCE. A Representative Meeting of the Whole Pacific Coast.

The annual meeting of the Pacific Coast Board of Commerce will be held at San Francisco on Wednesday, September 17th, in the hall of the Chamber of Commerce, 431 California street. The following questions will be considered:

As to the best methods of extending and increasing the usefulness of this association; subsidizing lines of vessels between this coast and other ports and countries; upon legislation looking to proper recognition of silver in the national currency; upon proper provisions to be included in a national bankruptcy law; upon proper legislation looking to adequate and systematic improvement of Pacific coast rivers and harbors, including coast defenses; anti-Chinese legislation; interstate commerce legislation, including railroad transportation; subsidizing trans-oceanic cable lines; upon a proper plan for a united Pacific coast exhibit at the World's Fair in Chicago.

Papers and addresses are invited upon any of the foregoing topics. One of the special features of the occasion will be an address on "Bankruptcy" by Hon. Jay L. Torrey, of St. Louis, author of the Torrey bankruptcy bill, recently passed in the Lower House of Congress. Senator Stewart, of Nevada, has been invited to address the convention upon the subject of "Irregularities," a subject of vital importance to the whole Pacific Coast. Other gentlemen who have consented to address the board are: M. M. Estele, John P. Irish, W. H. Mills and Hugh Craig of San Francisco; E. W. Jones, of Los Angeles; Eugene B. Cushing, of Tacoma; William Kapa, of Portland, Or., and General John F. Gibbons, recently appointed to the command of the division of the Pacific.

The Astoria Chamber of Commerce will be represented by I. W. Case, G. Wingate and J. O. Hanthorn. A very interesting session is anticipated. It is reported that a judge at Troy has declared that the baby carriage is a nuisance when it runs into law-abiding citizens. There is no appreciation for the poor baby anywhere.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is carefully prepared from Sarsaparilla, Danielson, Mandrake, Dock, Pipsissewa, Juniper Berries, and other well-known and valuable vegetable remedies, by a peculiar combination, proportion, and process, giving to Hood's Sarsaparilla curative power not possessed by other medicines. It effects remarkable cures where others fail.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier. It cures Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Boils, Pimples, all Humors, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Sick Headache, Indigestion, General Debility, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Kidney and Liver complaints; cures every form of Tired Feeling, creates an appetite, builds up the system.

Hood's Sarsaparilla has met unparalleled success at home. Such is its popularity in Lowell, Mass., where it is made, that Lowell druggists sell more of Hood's Sarsaparilla than all other sarsaparillas or blood purifiers. The same success is extending all over the country.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar in its strength and economy. It is the only preparation of which can truly be said "100 Doses One Dollar." A bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla taken according to directions, will last a month.

A RACE FOR A WIFE.

Advising a Pretty Widow of Lapeer Not to Become a Clam.

Lewis Clam resides in Burnside township, Mich. So does Albert Butler, likewise a pretty young widow. The natural sequence followed, and according to a dispatch from Lapeer to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, both Clam and Butler fell in love with that widow, and she kept them both on the string. Clam called on her the other night and told her how much he loved her and wanted her to change her name. She consented, and the day was named. Clam had no sooner left the house than Butler, who had been waiting outside, called and pathetically advised her not to be a Clam. She said she would not if he would make haste and get a marriage license. Butler promised to use all haste, but Clam found out Butler's intention, and as soon as the county clerk's office was opened in the morning he got a license, and Butler heard of it. Each knew the other's intention, and each hired a horse to beat the other to the widow's house. Butler played into hard luck, as he got a horse that had the heaves, and while his horse was standing still in the road, and coughing as if his head would drop off, Clam dashed by and arrived at the widow's house ten minutes ahead of Butler, and by the time the tardy young man arrived at the justice's house to urge his case the widow had become a Clam.
