CAUGHT IN A HURRICANE

The Ship "Challenger" Terribly Damaged in a Storm.

FLYING SIGNALS OF DISTRESS

Twelve of the Crew Are Washed Overboard, and Four Have Their Limbs Broken.

Special to THE ASTORIAN.]
NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The captain of the steamer Normandie reports that yesterday afternoon he sighted the American ship Challenger flying signals of distress, and sent a boat to her through a howling storm. Capt. Thompson, of the Challenger, reported that during a terrific hurricane on September 1st twelve of his crew were washed overboard, and the majority of the remainder were too ill to work. In addition to the twelve men killed, four men had their arms and legs broken, leaving but four men to work the ship. The Challenger was terribly crippled. The captain asked no assistance, but sent a letter by the Normandie to the ship's owners. The Challenger is a first-class American three-master, of 1,500 tons burden, and is owned by Arthur Sewall & Co. of Bath, Maine. She had taken a cargo of general merchandise from Portland, Or., to West Hartlepool, England, and was on her way home in ballast to receive a cargo here for Portland. The Challenger carried thirty-two men, officers and cooks. A tug will go out to look for her to-day. She was sighted about two hundred and fifty miles out at sea, and will be brought to this port.

THE KILGORE MYSTERY.

The Theory that They Were Murdered Disbelieved.

Special to THE ASTORIAN.]
SAN JOSE, Sept. 15.—Mr. Reemes corroborates the report that both Kilgore, the missing Oregon rancher, and Charles Putnam, the man who accompanied Kilgore, were in San Jose September 1st. "I knew the men," said Mr. Reemes to a United Press correspondent this morning, "as well as I know anyone, for I was treasurer of Klamath county when Putnam was sheriff, and Kilgore lived near Linkville, that being the county seat, and Kilgore, Putnam and his wife and child were at my house on September 1st. They spoke of getting work with their teams here, or buying cheap lands, but I gave them no encouragement and they then said they would go on to Monterey county and see what they could do there. It could not have been Kilgore's wagon that was found at Montague, as that is in Siskiyou county, only fifteen miles south of the state line. I have not heard from them since they left but have no doubt they are safe."

HEAVY EMBEZZLERS.

Special to THE ASTORIAN.]
THEY CONVERT $70,000 OF BONDS TO THEIR OWN USE.
BOSTON, Sept. 15.—Walter Potter and A. D. Lovell, of Potter, Lovell & Co., have been arrested on a charge of embezzlement and larceny, on complaint of Charles Richardson, of Philadelphia, president of the Edge Hill Furnace company. He alleges an embezzlement and larceny of $70,000 worth of the bonds of the Edge Hill company. These bonds were deposited with Potter and Lovell and it is alleged that they converted them to their own use.

To Suppress Monopolists.

Special to THE ASTORIAN.]
CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—A suit was begun by the city this afternoon to forfeit the charter of the Chicago Gas Trust, or the four gas companies of which it is composed. DEATH FROM BOY-BY.

The Terrible Epidemic Attacks a Ship's Crew off Patagonia.

A SIMILAR CASE UNRECORDED.

In Nine Cases Mortification Set In And the Men Fell Victims to The Dreaded Disease.

Special to THE UNITED PRESS.]
NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Sept. 15.—After five years in the Antarctic seas the whaling bark Petrel, Capt. Edward J. Reed, is once more in port. Capt. Reed says that while off Patagonia several months ago a gale came up from the shore during which his crew was taken sick and his feet began to swell. The swelling continued until his whole body was affected. One after another the crew were similarly taken, until thirty-four had the disease. They swelled to almost twice their usual size, and flesh assumed a yellowish hue. With nine men mortification set in and they died. Two others of the crew were washed overboard in the gale and were drowned. Physicians here report the epidemic as boy-boy. It is the first case on record of its having come on board a ship in a gale.

THE "CORWIN'S" MOVEMENTS.

Special to THE ASTORIAN.]
SHE FAILED TO OVERHAUL ANY SEAT POACHERS.
SPECIAL TO THE ASTORIAN.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15.—News has been received in this city that the United States revenue cutter Corwin has arrived at Sitka from Behring sea, with the report that no poachers were overhauled and no seizures made. The Corwin has gained in speed since going to Alaska waters, and now averages 11 knots per hour. The Corwin will probably remain in Alaska all this winter, unless orders to proceed elsewhere are received from the naval authorities at Washington. She will shortly proceed on a cruise among the various bays and inlets of Alaska for the purpose of heading off British whisky smugglers. It is known that several smugglers have been operating in Upper Alaska, and if the Corwin overtakes any of these they will promptly be seized. She will leave on this cruise about the end of the present month.

At Death's Door.

I was a great sufferer from Rheumatism and Kidney and Liver trouble. My lungs were also seriously affected. Doctors said I could not possibly live. Seven bottles of Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup with the Plasters entirely cured me. Hundreds of persons in Oregon, can vouch for the fact that this medicine saved my life.

OREGON STATE FAIR.

The Best Exhibition Ever Given in the State.

SALER, Or., Sept. 15.—The Oregon State Fair opened to-day with the largest attendance and entries ever recorded in its history. The exhibits of the Willamette valley grains and fruits were very large, as well as a display from southern Oregon. One local grower has fine ton exhibits. The premiums amount to $15,000, and three good races are booked with a crowded track for each day. Three cow loads of Norman and Clyde stallions arrived from Illinois this morning, and the heavy horse show is going throughout. A marked improvement in draft horses is noticeable in western Oregon over the stock of a year ago. The weather is perfect, being clear and cool.

AN OREGONIAN SUICIDES.

Special to THE ASTORIAN.]
REO BLUFF, Cal., Sept. 15.—Byron Springer, a wealthy stockman, of Prineville, Or., committed suicide here this morning. He telegraphed the sheriff here last Friday to arrest two men for horse stealing. He arrived Saturday night with the warrant, and the men were tried, but there was no evidence to convict them and they were released. They had Springer arrested for false imprisonment, and the trial was set for 10 o'clock to-day. At 9 a. m. the people were startled by the loud report of a pistol at the hotel, and upon going to Springer's room they found him lying on the floor shot through the head. His remains will be sent to Oregon to-morrow.

GANG OF COUNTERFEITERS.

Special to THE ASTORIAN.]
THEY ARE BEING HUNTED DOWN BY DETECTIVES.
TORONTO, Sept. 15.—Superintendent Bell, of the United States Secret Service, arrived here last night, accompanied by two detectives. They are after counterfeiters who have located in Canada. Mr. Bell says a gang of the most clever American counterfeiters has been located in Ontario for some time, and they have been issuing not only ordinary green goods, but also a lot of well executed imitations of old coins. The detectives claim to know their whereabouts.

MANGLED ON THE RAIL.

A Man Throws Himself Under the Wheels of an Engine.

WANTED HIS NEICE WITH HIM.

The Heroic Action of the Conductor Saves the Young Lady a Terrible Fate.

Special by THE UNITED PRESS.]
CAMDEN, Sept. 15.—John Carnell, 65 years old, a prominent resident of Glassboro, threw himself under the wheels of an engine in the Pennsylvania road depot in this city this morning, and was mangled to death upon the track. He first attempted to pull his niece, Miss Mary Carnell, with him, but she was grabbed by the conductor, John Connell, and Carnell made the fatal plunge alone. Opinions vary as to whether the dead man meant to murder his niece before taking his own life. At the sight of the approaching train Carnell became excited. When it drew near he suddenly grasped his niece by the arm and tried to push and put her in front of the engine. Conductor Connell saw the act, and rushed to the young lady's aid. He reached her not a moment too soon, as he was just falling with her beneath the wheels. Conductor Connell tore her from the desperate man's grasp and Carnell fell headlong to his fate. Carnell when picked up was terribly mangled.
