Some may laugh at this and think that as the deep water is here the railroad must of necessity come here. Such people must bear in mind that the river and harbor bill just signed, provides for an inspection of Young's bay with a view of having that channel deepened. Col. Mendell yesterday Is new and even and her diffully to ate on the Secondaria, within its stated that $60,000 would open up a channel there, so that ships could enter. Even should the government not do it, land owners there can well afford to stand the expense. People who sneer at the idea of a railroad being constructed to Frankfort need not is think it strange that the Northern Pseific should build to a town which has only three or four buildings in it, Morgan & Sherman for they own 1,240 acres of land near by, and will probably build there within a year.

Owners of land can well afford to give at least one-half of it to secure a railroad, for the balance with a railroad is at ouce far more valuable than the whole without a road. A through railroad may yet be built from the Willamette valley in this direction, and have its water terminal on Young's bay or at New Astoria, and lively towns spring up there like magic, while Astoria, with all her grand natural advantages, remains quiet.
