THE PROSPECT IS FAVORABLE. Some Encouraging Paints on the Rail Road Question.

F. E. Habersham, the surveyor, and D. W. Cummings, William Reid's sec-retary, were in the city yesterday, and went up to Portland last night on the steamer. When questioned concerning the floating of the bonds of the Astoria and South Coast railroad, as reported by telegram and given in yesterday's Astobian, the gentlemen claimed to be not fully posted.

They believe the deal is nearly consummated, but do not claim it is completed, but seemed to feel confident that it will be in the near future, and that as soon as any definite news can be announced it will be given for publication here, that the people of Astoria may know the exact condition of what he went to interview William Reid, who is now claimed to be in Construction company. The fact that Reid wants to settle the claim, and is prepared to do so, is almost proof posiand if so, it is likely to be from the lost, including several women, who sale of the bonds.

Cummings is preparing to be here during the fall and winter, and from a reliable source, though obtained in a roundabout manner, this fact was as-certained. If he is coming here, it is because work is to be resumed on the per Ferral Processing the Commarket. Never fall it is because work is to be resumed on the extension of the railroad, and if it is, market. Never fall it is because of the bonds having been sold.

These are the straws which very clearly indicate the facts in the case, and are given without any coloring or them.

Our great offer to subscribers eclipses any ever heretofore made. Charles Dickens was the greatest novelist who ever lived. No author before or since his time has went the fame that he achieved, and his works are even more popular to-day than during his lifetime. They abound in wit, humor, pathos, masterly delineation of character, vivid descriptions of places and incidents, thrilling and skillfully wrought plots. Each book is intensely interesting. No homeshould be without a set of these great and remarkable works. Not to have read them is to be far behind the age in which we live. The set of Dickens' works which we offer as a an incidents, three three contains the following world-famous works, each one of which is public complete, unchanged, and absolutely unabridged:

The above are without question the most famous novels that were ever written. For a quarter of a century they have been celebrated in every nook and corner of the civilized world. Yet there are thousands of homes in America not yet supplied with a set of Dickens, the usual high cost of the books preventing people in moderate circumstances from enjoying this luxury. But now, owing to the use of modern improved printing, folding and stitching machinery, the extremely low price of white paper, and the great competition in the book trade, we are enabled to offer to our subscribers and readers a set of Dickens' works at a price which all can afford to pay. Every home in the land may now be supplied with a set of the great author's works. of the great author's works.
