

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON: SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 1920

YESTERDAY in Portland the foolish charges which had been preferred against Jack Grant and the other Astoria men by Dumko Kelly failed to be substantiated and the men were discharged. It is about time that this silly warfare between the two cities in reference to shipping seamen was discontinued, for it is more like child's play than the action of men. It will not be very long before all the deep sea vessels will stop at Astoria to connect with railroads here, and then Kelly will have nothing to do with furnishing sailors as crews, unless he comes down here and runs a sailor boarding house.

ASTORIA last evening proved that it is a city which appreciates a refined literary and musical entertainment, for the audience which attended the souvenir concert of Mrs. Record was composed of the best citizens, and the interest manifested by them, as well as the hearty applause they gave, and the numerous encores they demanded is proof positive that any first class entertainment will always be cordially received. The degree of intelligence in any community is evidenced by the style of literature they admire and the class of exhibitions they patronize the best.

ABSOLUTELY impossible is it that this city shall much longer be kept back in the rear rank, plodding slowly along while other and far less favored cities are rushing ahead with wondrous rapidity. It is a matter of surprise to every visitor, and they fail to understand why it is so. The rapid increase in the depth of water at the pier will in a very short time furnish an ample entrance for the largest vessels, and then Astoria will have a harbor unsurpassed by any port in the country. These grand facilities for conducting an extensive commerce are bound to be utilized, and that, too, in the near future.

PROBABILITIES of what Astoria would be after the construction of a railroad as contrasted with what it is now without a railroad are enough to make one feel determined to do all in his power to secure the advent of the iron horse feeling assured that it is a matter of the most vital importance and that too, at the present time. All over the land railroads are being extended, yet Astoria is left out in the cold, principally on account of the indifference of her citizens, who expect to have people with abundant capital come here, invest their money with a prospect of only small returns, while they themselves grow rich rapidly in consequence of the advent of the railroad. The men who invest their money must be allowed to make the greatest percentage of profit, or they will not invest.

Those Who Wish to Have the Doctor Treat Them Should Call Early, or They May Lose the Opportunity.

A man well known in this community writes the following interesting letter: "I was chopping a stump for weeks ago, when a flying chip struck me in the eye; for a short time I was (partly) blind. Then partial sight returned again. I hurried home and continued to treat it at home, until ten days ago, when I began to abandon hope of ever seeing perfectly again, unless something more than ordinary was done. I then consulted two of the leading Oculists of Portland, who told me one eye would have to be cut out to save the other. It did not exactly suit me to have my eye cut out, and so I sought other counsel. I went to Dr. Prentice, the oculist, then at Portland, and he laughed at the idea of its being necessary to cut my eye out; I joined in the laugh, for it was on my side. I have been free from pain since the first day's visit to Dr. Prentice, and improved steadily, and am now entirely well again. I feel safe in saying that if Dr. Prentice cannot cure a case he will always say so. Thos. H. Foss, Gray's River, Wash.

A Touching Scene Witnessed By a Portland Gentleman.

One week ago we received an invitation to witness a delicate surgical operation on an eye. The patient was the 17-year-old daughter of Harrison Hay. For three years she had been blind in both eyes, and a cataract, and was obliged to grope her way about in total darkness. The patient, without taking chloroform, submitted to the following operation: She was now ready for the surgical part of the work, and we stood in breathless anxiety as Dr. Prentice placed the point of his knife at the side of the eyeball, carefully touched the point of the cornea, then the blade entered the eye; we saw it pass through the eye in front of the pupil and then come out at the opposite side. It was then drawn upward, and a cut made of about one-third of the circumference of the ball. Another instrument was then passed in back of the pupil, and almost on the instant the girl said: "Oh, Dr. Prentice, I can see you!" This was spoken in tones well calculated to bring tears to one's eyes. From the time the knife touched the eye until the patient could see, it was just one minute. She was allowed to see those about her for a moment, then the eye was closed and bandaged.

In just one week after the operation she came into our office and was able to read our paper. She also wrote a letter home, saying: "Dear parents, I can see and am happy."

Mr. Jerome W. Campbell, General Superintendent of the Willamette Bridge Railway Co., saw this operation.

A LETTER. From a Patient Who Was Cured By Dr. Prentice.

PORTLAND, Or., Oct. 7, 1920. To the Suffering: For five years I have suffered with sleeplessness, nervous debility, irritation at the base of the brain, and a terrible kidney disease. I had tried so many remedies that did me no good that at last I gave up all hope of ever being a well man again. I tried many prescriptions, but none led me to visit Dr. Prentice at the Esmond hotel. I crowded in with the others and waited my turn. He examined me, told me where my trouble was, and said he could cure it without a dime. I can't say that I really believed him, but something in his manner led me to trust him. He gave me no medicine at all, yet from the day of my first visit I began to improve rapidly. I now sleep as sound as a child. My memory is greatly improved. My kidney disease and brain irritation are entirely well, my appetite splendid, and I now enjoy life and perfect health. Any afflicted person wishing to learn about my case will find me at address below.
