The Champion Shot of the World.

Astoria enjoys the distinction at F. Smith, born in Mono county, Cal., Aug. 14, 1871. She is a very intelligent and agreeable young lady, and is accompanied by her parents, both of whom are also excellent shots with rifle or shot gun. Miss Smith has been shooting ever since she was kine years old, and has traveled extensively, not only in this country, but in Europe, having been presented to Queen Victoria and given an exhibition before the royal family. The young lady and her parents are located at 75 Main street, near Second, and on Sullivan, to take place in Portland on the 27th inst., the Oregonian says: Sullivan is the pride of the Astoria sporting fraternity, and his friends, no doubt, are ready to back him heavily against the Portland fire boy. As for Quainted with his prowess in the ring to hesitate in placing their money, and all concede that he will have a snap should he meet Sullivan.

Grant Trallinger returned yesterday afternoon from up the river where he panied by ladies. After this, every Wednesday afternoon will be reserved for ladies, many of whom have expressed a desire to take lessons of Miss Smith. Her feats are marvelous, mouth Rock Pants Co.'s Pants, to and her father challenges the best shots of the world to compete with

THE WIRES ARE DOWN.

Only last week it was announced that the telegraph line between Portland and this city had been rebuilt, land and this city had been rebuilt, and it was hoped that it would be in working order for a long time, but last evening early, it went down for some unknown cause and consequently The Astorian is this morning without its usual telegraphic report When we are connected with the rest of the world by railroad, it will then be an easy matter to have the line in good order, for it can at once be repaired when a break occurs, but it cannot at present, for it runs through a wild section that can only same one and one-half miles to secure a depth of eighteen feet at low tide, reported to the chief of engineers as follows: "Young's bay is located on the Oregon shore of the Columbia, nine miles from its mouth. It is three miles across its widest part, and extends back from the general line of the river the same distance. It waters are generally shallow, not exceeding six feet at low water. Its banks on the north and west sides are low and swampy. be reached by daylight.

J. V. S. BARBETT, ESQ.:

DEAR SIE: You ask me, Did I act on your advice? I did, and have to thank you. For years I have suffered from indigestion and headaches. Taking your advice, I purchased a bottle of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. Before I had finished it I could eat almost anything with impunity, and have been since rarely troubled with a headache of any kind, for which I give due credit to your advice and Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla.
