The holiday number of the West Shore is an elegant specimen of color printing. Its designs are beautiful and varied, and its literary features are of the highest order, all being saited to the season. Nothing finer ern illustrated papers. Every journ-alist in the northwest feels proud that such a publication, which has no rival outside of New York City, should be produced here, and every citizen of the porthwest should take an equal pride in it and give it a hearty sup-port. Copies of the holiday number can be purchased of news dealers, or by mail from the publishers at Port-land, Oregon. Price 25 cents.

Under this promise the Chinese on board raised a purse of $60. The em-balming so far as salting the body down was concerned was a success, but the barrel in which it was stowed was too small and a portion of the cadaver protruded over the rim.

One of the sailors whose watch had been below when the embalming had been done, came on deck the next morning and fell over the barrel. When he found it contained a dead Chinese he seized an ax and literally hacked the body to pieces, realizing what he had done and fearing the wrath of the dead man's countrymen,

AN ECZEMA 17 YEARS. Cured in 8 Weeks. One of the Greatest Cures Ever Performed by the Cuticura Remedies.

At the age of three months a rash (which afterwards proved to be eczema or salt rheum) made its appearance on my face. Physician after physician was called. None of them did me any good at all, but made me worse. The disease continued unabated; I spread to my arms and legs, till I was laid up entirely, and from continually sitting on the floor on a pillow, my limbs contracted so that I lost all control of them and was utterly helpless. My mother would have to lift me out and into bed. I could get around the house on my hands and feet, but I could not get my clothes on at all, and had to wear a sort of dressing gown. My hair had all matted down or fallen off, and my head, face and ears were une scab. The disease continued in this manner until I was seventeen years old, as do to do to day in January, 1879. I read an account in the rribune of your Curicuma Rewkedles. It described my case so exactly that I thought, as a last resort, to give them a trial. Ween I first applied them I was all raw and beeding, from scratching myself, but I went asleep almost immediate ly, something I had not done for years, the effect was so soothing. In about two weeks I could stand straight but not walk, I was so weak; but my sores were nearly well. As I car as I can judge, the Curicura Remedies.
