Cleveland Announces The Names of a Portion of His Cabinet.

GRESHAM, SECRETARY OF STATE

for the War Office, and Blazell for Postmaster General.

Associated Prens. Lakewood, N. J., Feb. 11.-Clevelan has officially announced the names of through the Associated Press this even-WALTER Q. GRESHAM, of Blinois

JOHN G. CARLISLE, of Kentucky, sec retary of finance.

DANIEL S. LAMONT, of New York,

WILSON S. BISSEL, of Buffalo, N. Y. postmaster general, On making the announcement, Cleve land said: "There is no need of any mystery in regard to the cabinet and it is useless to speculate and indulge in guesswork. I shall make no secret of the matter, but shall announce the names of the gentlemen selected to fill the positions as fast as I receive their acceptances and permission to make the matter public." Cleveland would say nothing in regard mentioned in connection with them. It is considered an odd coincidence that night on Friday.

Judge Gresham should succeed as secretary of state one who has been his lifelong friend in the republican party and in the state of Indiana. John W. Foster and Judge Gresham have been on inti- versity and militia purposes. mate terms for many years, and during Judge Gresham's recent visit to Washington, Secretary Foster was one of his callers and as chance would have it, they discussed in a friendly and informal way the Bering sea arbitration case and other matters of present diplomacy. Judge Gresham will be indirectly the successor of Mr. Blaine, whose political course Judge Gresham was not always able to approve. Itw as the Blaine following that defeated Gresham for the republican nom-ination in 1888, and chose instead, Gresham's Indiana rival, Benjamin Harrison, By the turn of the political wheel during the last three months, Harrison has been relegated to private life while his old-time rival in Indiana, and bitter personal enemy now comes to the front as the man of next importance to the president himself, under a democratic administration. President Harrison, it is conceded, made the greatest mistake of his life when he falled to nominate Gresham seat on the supreme bench, as he might fittingly have done two years ago. Possibly Gresham would not have taken it, but if he had it would have removed fied by any condition of affairs like that him from the field of politics and taken him out of Harrison's way. There are observers in the capitol who already look to the future and say that Gresham will be the democratic candidate for president in 1896, and that Harrison will be his mpetitor on the republican ticket. The belief is general here that Judge Gresham will now become permanently at-tached to the democratic party and that his part in the politics in the near fuden transition from one party to another and from the quiet of the bench to the center of action at Washington, excites comment here as an example of the queer surprises which our political system is capable of producing

He Benounces the Home Rule Measure Introduced by Gladstone.

London, Feb. 14.-In the commons to day, Lord George Hamilton asked Gladstone when he proposed to introduce the bill dealing with Irish land tenure. Gladstone declined to commit the government to any pledge to introduce the land bill. Balfour, then, amid loud unionist cheers began to reply to Gladstone's speech, of last evening. He said:

"The house first of all has the right to inquire into any bill, good or bad required. The prime minister must see that a bill of this magnitude is hardly justifrom which the necessity of the crimes act arose. It is criminal to attempt to set up in Ireland, a legislature practically independent of the imperial paritament. Ulster at least deserved exceptional treatment for which no provision ap-

Balfour contended that the plan outlined for dealing with the constabulary, with the civil servants of the governmen would certainly lead to the infliction of great hardships.

Republicans and Populists Engage in Fierce Battle Ending In the Defeat of the Former.

Associated Press. Topesa, Ks., Feb. 14.—This afternoon, by order of the republican house, B. C. Rich, clerk of the populist house, was arrested in a restaurant by the sergeant-atarms of the republican house on a charge of contempt of court. The populists at once rallied, forcibly repulsed the sergeant-at-arms, released him, and excerted him to the governor's office. During the down and several men on each side badly bruised by blows from fists. The encounter occurred in the very center of the city and created the greatest excitement. Later, Rich was triumphantly escorted into the hall of the house of representatives, his wife holding one arm and Representative Wordsworth of Atchison, the other. His appearance in the hall was greeted with cheers and clap ing of hands. Later, the republicans ha sworn out warrants before Justice Ches ncy charging Representatives Ryan an Reading and Clerk M. Scott with assaul and battery. The constable appeared i with friends and announced that he would neither go with the constable nor give bond for his appearance. The constab lingered, grim and determined and an nounced that he would make the arrest even if he had to summon a posse. The constable finding the attempt t make the arrest while such great excite ment prevailed, might precipitate seriou trouble, made no attempt to serve th warrants and will not until tomorrow calms down materially. THE HOME RULE BILL. London, Feb. 14.—The frish home rule bill is favorably received by liberal and Irish members. John Dillon and Michael-Davitt make the following statement: "The bill offers Ireland a legislature, free to deal in all Irish affairs, with the executive government responsible to that legislature. In all the main principles and in political machinery its provisions are much better than the bill of 'M. The Irish parliamentary party has cerdially accepted the new home rule constitu-tion, subject to its endsavors in committee to improve the financial arrangements, and to have the time shortened wherein land legislation is to be withheld from the purview of the Irish national legislature."
