A CHANGE.

Yesterday morning I purchased from Samuel Elmore, his entire interest in the Astorian-Columbian Publishing Company and I have now complete proprietorship and control of The Astorian.

With this change come increased facilities, valuable assistance, and renewed strength and vigor that will enable me to make The Astorian a better newspa-

It is my highest ambition to make Th Astorian invaluable to the business interests and prosperity of Astoria, and welcome visitor in every household.

I shall endeavor to guide the policy of The Astorian so that it shall receive and deserve the hearty support of th people of this city.

Heart Failure.

HOW TO AVOID IT.

The epitaph on many a tombstone is "heart failure." No wonder, when we consider the immense strain which is put on that small organ. Marvelous as it is, beating 100,000 times and exerting a force equal to 5,184,000 pounds daily, it has its limit-its endurance often is too severely tested. So common are diseases of the heart—though often for a considerable time without the suspicions of the afflicted person being in the least excited—that it is stated that one The Oregonian is evidently ashamed of itself, for its stupid outburst against the pilots of this city, and Astoria, and the many control of the city, and astoria, and the city of the city and astoria, and the city of the city and city of the city world in general.
