

ABOUT THE CITY.

City council last night.

Mayor Crosby is still too weak to attend to his official duties.

Spring has probably been ruled off the weather-books for this year.

St. Patrick O'Hara's green necktie was the admiration and envy of the whole council board last evening.

George Rodman was made the recipient of the city's bounty last night to the extent of $10 for killing five dogs.

J. A. Rannels, The Astorian's route agent, has recovered from a severe spell of sickness, and was on the streets again yesterday. He will resume his work at the end of the week.

Mrs. Tuttle, wife of Dr. Jay Tuttle, is seriously ill. Dr. Tuttle will, until further notice, be found at his residence, 639 Cedar street, one block south and one block west of the hospital.

Mrs. Marion Withers, an old resident of the county and a native of Scotland, died yesterday morning at the home of her son-in-law, William Edgar. San Francisco papers please copy.

Loomis, the young man who seems to have a streak of insanity on the subject of disturbing Salvation Army meetings, is again in trouble for the same offence. His trial will come up before Judge Cleveland today.

Councilmen Welch, Thomson, O'Hara and Bergman had a battle royal for a few minutes last night at the council meeting over the Wall street grade question. They all shook hands mentally and settled down to business after it was over.

The pilot commissioners met yesterday afternoon pursuant to adjournment, but failed to transact any business. The San Jose investigation will be held at the end of the week, and it is likely that a permanent clerk will be appointed on Saturday.

C. R. Thomson has begun suit against the Astoria and Portland Railway Co., and several other defendants, on behalf of the West Shore Mills Co. and Jas. Neish for $10,241.62, which amount, it is claimed, represents the value of the material used in the construction of the road last year.

The funeral of Mrs. Marion Withers, who died in this city yesterday aged 82 years, will take place from the residence of her son-in-law, William Edgar, 53 Spruce street, at 10 o'clock this morning. The interment is to be made in Clatsop cemetery, and friends of the deceased lady are invited to attend.

Who can answer the questions propounded by Herman Wise in his ads?

There is a considerable amount of discussion over the timber brought down from Olney on Wednesday night for exhibition at the World's Fair. It is claimed, by men who know what the timber resources of this county are, that the specimens in no way represent the best quality of vegetable growth, and that they should be kept back at all hazards and competent parties sent out to locate and bring in really representative logs.

Do not be deceived with cheap pictures, but get your work done at Crow's gallery and you will not regret it.

Mr. C. W. Bryant, the agent for Northwestern Oregon of C. W. Ayers, mining commissioner for the state to the World's Fair, came down from Portland yesterday, and is staying at the Astor house. Mr. Bryant desires The Astorian to say that the time for collecting exhibits is very limited, and that the active co-operation of all is earnestly desired to enable the proper showing to be made from this section of the country. While here the assistant commissioner will make a trip to Nehalem bay in order to procure samples of coal and mineral wax from that locality.

Columbia Tender Company No. 3, will give a ball April 8th, at Columbia cannery. All invited.

The jars of fruit put up by Mr. E. W. Allen, to form Oregon's exhibit in the horticultural department at the Columbian Exposition, have been carefully packed in boxes under the supervision of Dr. Jay G. Lewis, of Sparta, who will be in charge of the exhibit at Chicago, and are being stored at the corner of Sixth and Oak streets, in Portland, till the time arrives for shipping it. The exhibit fills 115 boxes, and contains many samples of fruit, which are not likely to be excelled. Dr. Lewis and Mr. Allen are getting the business of their department systematized, and the horticultural exhibit will be on hand in good time and condition.

E. W. Kuykendall, the undertaker, embalmer and funeral director, has his parlors in the Welch block, No. 73, Water street. Call up telephone No. 7.

The work of dumping rock on the jetty at the mouth of the river is to be resumed at once, and the first tow will probably come down next Monday. The barges and plant used on the jetty generally, have been overhauled and put in thorough repair during the winter, and the new contractors for supplying the rock, Messrs. Maxwell & Huber, have opened a quarry near Washougal, and will supply the rock as fast as desired. If there is enough money left, the jetty will probably be completed this summer. It has already demonstrated that the project is a complete success, and before long the entrance of the Columbia, says the Oregonian, will have a deeper channel than any other harbor in the United States.

Ryan & Co. 537, Third street, have just received a full line of 1893 patterns in wall paper, and comprising all the latest designs and shades, at the lowest prices. Call and see them.

relief at the first moment its need is indicated. This is true, not only in relation to the often fatal attempt to "wear out a cold," or actual disease with which one has been attacked, but in the matter of the strain of work. If lawyers and business men, and women pursuing any absorbing occupation, would take rest as soon as fatigue becomes evident, their staying power would be greatly prolonged. Stop work at your desk; lean back and close the eyes, and relax the frame so far as possible, for fifteen minutes; lie down if convenient for the same length of time—in any way relieve the tension, however briefly, but promptly, and the result will be a large ratio of gain in endurance.

Mrs. M. McKenzie, corner Main and Third streets, invites the ladies of Astoria to call on Wednesday and Thursday of this week, to her opening of spring and summer millinery.

Captain Thomas Brakely, a retired sea captain of San Francisco, was in the Portland yesterday en route to the Sound, where he contemplates making a pleasure trip to the north on one of the sealers which are now fitting out at that port. Though taking no part in the trouble between the sailors and shipowners at San Francisco, he has yet watched the matter with much interest.

"There is no doubt that the sailors are carrying matters too far," said he, "but there is much justice in their complaints. They demand higher wages and better food, and it is a notorious fact that in both of these instances they are inadequately supplied. They are losing public sympathy, though, on account of many anarchical methods which are attributed to them. The organized shipowners are renewing their efforts to win the fight, which has now been waging for the past three months. It is claimed that the shipowners are far stronger than they were in the beginning, and several owners who refused at first to join the Shipbuilders' and Shipowners' Association, are now recognized members and are taking an active part in the fight against the seamen."

The finder will be rewarded by returning to this office a small oval ring and no questions will be asked. It is the gift of a deceased father to his daughter, and is valued for its associations.

While writing with all the scientific knowledge of a great astronomer, Camille Flammarion, in his marvelous story, "Omega: The End of the World," which begins in the April number of The Cosmopolitan magazine, keeps the reader at the highest point of excitement by his vivid description of the alarm and despair excited by the approach of a comet whose collision with the earth had been declared by astronomers inevitable. The description begins at a time when the business of the world has been suspended, and at a great mass meeting held in the Institute of France, we hear the discussion of scientists as to the possibility of a second deluge, the drying up of all the surface water of the globe, or the total destruction of human life by cold, together with all the possible phases of death paralleled by the history of the moon. For scientific statement and sensational effect this characteristic production of French genius is unique, and the reader who reads this marvelous story—and if he begins it he will certainly finish it—will have assimilated without effort, a compact store of scientific knowledge. In this way, apart from its absorbing interest, this remarkable piece of fiction will have a distinct scientific value.

Take notice that my line of wall paper is the largest and highest grade ever brought to Astoria, and is worthy of any city on the coast. Paper furnished free to any one who is not convinced as to the truth of this statement. Give me a call. Prices from 15c to 35c per double roll. B. F. Allen.

Articles of incorporation of the following have been filed at Salem: Columbia, Washington, Chinook, Pacific, Ilwaco, Sand Island, Bakers Bay, Fort Canby and American Star Fishing companies. The incorporators, trustees, and articles of incorporation are similar for all the eight companies as in the following:

This certifies that J. G. Megler and R. A. Hawkins both of the state of Washington, and George W. Sanborn, of the state of Oregon, have associated themselves to form, and have formed a private corporation under the laws of the state of Washington.

1. The name assumed by the company, and by which it shall be known is "The Pacific Fish Company."
2. Its duration shall be fifty years.
3. Its principal office and place of business shall be Ilwaco, in the state of Washington.
4. Its capital stock shall be five thousand dollars divided into fifty shares of one hundred dollars each.
5. The objects of this corporation are and shall be to take, obtain, can, salt, dry, and pack salmon and other fish.
6. That J. G. Megler, R. A. Hawkins and George W. Sanborn, are hereby appointed trustees of this corporation, who shall manage the business and concerns of the corporation for one year, and thereafter there shall be elected annually three trustees.

Our Public School Exhibit.

The educational exhibit of the Astoria public school for the World's Fair was sent to Portland last night securely packed, in charge of Superintendent of Schools Lyman. This exhibit will very probably come first in excellence among those sent from every county in the state. Very great care has been taken by the teachers in its preparation, and their efforts have resulted in a splendid collection of every department of public school work.

An Astorian reporter was invited to inspect the exhibit before it left the city. It consists of several handsome books with painted celluloid covers, containing specimens of work of every class in the school as follows:

Written arithmetic, composition, penmanship, spelling, arithmetic, history, (United States) Latin lessons, Caesar, physiology, physics, business, law, geometry, letter writing, natural history, English literature, and geography.

The covers of the books were illustrated by the Misses Badollet, Powell, Lyon, and McKean, and needless to say the work is beautifully, and artistically done. On careful examination the reporter found, among the specimens of writing worthy of special excellence, the following: Misses Martha Gilbert, (H. S.) Alida Rippe, (H. S.) Janie Douglas, (7) Edith Andrews, (7) Clara Simpson, (7) Mamie Smith, (4) Hilda Larson, (3) Annie Shively, (5) and Master Helma Strom (8).

Among the essays that are particularly good are "Astoria, Its Early Discovery and Settlement," by Percy Sovery; "The City of Astoria," by Alfred Cleveland; "Water Courses of Clatsop County, and the Mouth of the Columbia," Andrew Dalgety; "Our Fisheries," Miss Annie O'Neill; "Clatsop County Rocks and Minerals," Miss Eugenie Lewis; "Clatsop County, Its Resources and Timber," Miss Florence Twombly. Accompanying the exhibit is a series of well-executed photographs. One shows a picture of the high school with teachers and pupils drawn up in front of it. The other subjects are the High school geometry class, High school algebra class, and higher arithmetic class first primary dictation lesson, and first primary number lesson. The figures on the blackboards and the whole of the interiors are clearly defined, and the set forms a very interesting collection, and gives a very good idea of the workings of the local institutions, that cannot fail to impress favorably the thousands of people that will see it at the fair. A map of Clatsop county, very accurately and neatly drawn by C. H. Strom, completes the high school exhibit.

The other schools of the county exhibiting are Cannon Beach, Chadwell, Melville, Seaside, Cedar Street, Alderbrook, and upper Astoria. McGregor & Co. furnished the chest in which the materials are packed, and the other firms who rendered valuable and gratuitous assistance were Ross, Higgins & Co., and Fisher Brothers.

The World's Fair Directors

Have 5,000,000 Souvenir Half Dollar Coins in their treasury, the gift of the American people by Act of Congress. The patriotic and historic features of these Coins and their limited number, compared with the millions who want them—our population is 66,000,000—have combined to create so great a demand for these World's Fair Souvenir Coins that they are already quoted at large premiums. Liberal offers from speculators, who wish to absorb them and reap enormous profits, have been rejected for the reason that

This is the People's Fair--

We Are the People's Servants-- and a divided sense of duty confronts us--

We need $5,000,000 to fully carry out our announced plans, and

We have decided to deal direct with the people--To whom we are directly responsible---among whom an equitable distribution of these National heirlooms should be made.

The World's Fair Offer to the American People:

That none of our plans for the people's profit be curtailed we must realize from the sale of 5,000,000 Souvenir World's Fair Fifty-cent Silver Coins the sum of $5,000,000. This means $1.00 for each Coin, a much smaller sum than the people would have to pay for them if purchased through an indirect medium. Every patriotic man, woman and child should endeavor to own and cherish one of these Coins, as they will be valuable in future years—a cherished object of family pride.

Remember that only 5,000,000 Coins must be divided among 66,000,000 people. These Coins could be sold at a high premium to Syndicates, but we have enough confidence in the people to keep the price at a Dollar for each Coin, as this will make us realize $5,000,000—the sum needed to open the Fair's gates on the people's broad plan.

World's Fair Souvenir Coin for a Dollar.

How to Get The Coins

Go to your nearest Bank and subscribe for as many coins as you need for your family and friends. These Sub-Agents of the World's Columbian Exposition will give you their receipt for your money, as delivery of these coins will not begin before December. There is no expense to you attending the distribution of the Souvenir Coins, as we send them to your local bank. If for any reason it is inconvenient for you to subscribe send Postoffice or Express Money Order or Registered Letter for as many coins as you wish with instructions how to send them to you, to
