EARLY DAYS IN MONTANA. Col. R. F. May, of Bozeman, had a stand in Helena in 1868. "Twenty-five cents would not go far toward buying fruit in those days," he said the other day. "One man who was courting a young lady used to come to my place and buy four apples for $5, $1.25 apiece, and then present them to his sweetheart. I always picked out four of the best apples I had and wrapped them up in tissue paper and piaced them in a neat candy box for him. By and by the same persons and families, as well as by a steady increasing sale. Few, if any, medicines have met with such continued success and popularity as has marked the introduction and progress of Brandreth's Pills, which, after a trial of over fifty years, are conceded to be the safest and most effective purgative and blood purifier introduced to the public. That this is the result of merit, and that Brandreth's Pills actually perform all that is claimed for them, is conclusively prove dby the fact that those who regard them with the greatest favor are those who have used them the longest. Col. R. F. May, of Bozeman, had a for them. Oranges were $2.50 to $3 each, and the Montana pioneers who are rich today did not buy them.

"The first shipment of sweet potatoes ever received in Montana was sent to me, and they cost me $1.35 a pound The first man that came along on the street was a Chinaman, I was opening them on the sidewalk. He bought two pounds at $1.50 a pound. Bookkeepers then were paid $12 a day. For a little stand on the street, in front of a store, I paid $30 a month rent in advance, A very ordinary wooden building across the street, used as a saloon, rented for $400 a month.

"Newspapers sold for 50c each. Magazines cost $1.25 each. One day I had an unusual stock of fruit, which I feared would spoil on my hands, and so I got 100 circulars printed . They were very small, but cost 10c apiece. I did not hire boys to distribute them, but took them around myself.

"Much of the fruit I sold came 1600 miles by stage, and this fact had a great deal to do with the prices. As transportation facilities increased prices gradually fell. The prices I have quoted are no higher than the average prices in those days; everything was the same way."

Compared with Judge Bolse's easy going popular pioneer manner of con ducting a court, Judge Burnett is getting quite a reputation for his strictness in keeping order. No one is allowed to stand around while court is in session or to make any improper approaches upon the dignity of the court. The Albany Democrat has thi relating to an occurrence at present term of the Linn Co. court: "Judge Burnett not only keeps a very commendable order in court; but he does not stand much foolishness generally. Yesterday Judge McFadden, the wellknown Corvallis lawyer, interposed a demurrer in a certain case. It appeared to the court that it was done merely for delay and the judge promptly fined the Corvallis attorney $5 for contempt of court, which will no doubt break up a common practice not in the interest of justice."-Capital Journal

Although published several days ago. the order of Judge Fullerton postponing the Oregon Pacific sale to June 28, was not signed until a few days ago the judge refusing to do so until having good evidence that the $50,000 for the employes would be paid, as prom-
