INVADING THE GOLD RESERVE

EXCLUSIVE

The Financial Situation Discussed at a Cabinet Meeting.

OLEVELAND AND OARLISLE AGREE

Heavy Shipments of Gold to Canada-And Corresponding Shrinkages in the Treasury Reserve Fund.

Associated Press. Washington, April 21 .- At a cabinet meeting this morning, at which all the members of the cabinet were present with the exception of Secretary Herbert, of the navy department, the financial situation, it is understood, was almost the exclusive topic of discussion. The meeting lasted for two hours and a half, and was the longest session of the cabinet since the new administration came into power. When the treasury department closed its doors this afternoon the gold reserve of $100,000,000 was increased to the extent of $2,500,000 to $3,000,000. When the day opened there was in the treasury $185,000 of free gold. This amount was increased by gold offers from the West, aggregating about $1,250,000. The large New York cut this down to such an extent that when the cabinet met Secretary Carlisle found that the order for gold up to that time (about 1 o'clock), had wiped out the free gold and invaded the gold reserve to the extent of $2.557,000. As far as it can be officially ascertained, this amount was taken out of the gold reserve today for export tomorrow, although it is unofficially stated that $700,000 in gold, exclusive of that taken out at New York was withdrawn from the sub-treasury at Boston for export to Canada. If so, this would make about $5,000,000 in gold taken out of the country for shipment tomorrow, and leave the gold reserve invaded to the extent of $3,000,000. It is believed that this invasion will be but temporary and that within a few days the depleted reserve will be restored to the orginal figures of $100,000,000. While noththe decision of the treasury department in regard to the payment in gold of these notes are thing paid in gold upon presentation proves conclusively that redeemed as heretofore. New York, April 21.-When the upper crust of the $100,000,000 gold reserve was removed, the financial world stood by and witnessed the going of it, and yet tonight, in this financial center, no quaking of the earth is felt, and folks who are most interested are wondering why there has been no crash of world's nor wreck of spheres. Indeed, some financiers are looking into each other's faces and ejaculating as to whether they have been fanatic or uncannily superstitious. The engagement of gold for exfort from here on steamers sailing tomorrow and on Tuesday, amount to $6,175,000, and from Boston, $750,000. There was much diversity of opinion in th efinancial community during the day over Secretary Carlisle's statement, in the main the judgment is unfavorable, and this to no small extent because of the statement's ambiguity. On the stock market accumulating "bull rumors" from Washington, diverted practically all attention from the secretary's circular, but the sterling exchange market opened in utter confusion, reflecting the very unusual occurrence of a scare among the regular remitters against foreign credits. The demand for sterling bills this time proceeding from bankers Goubtful about the gold payment of treasury notes and anxious to anticipate their payments so heavily as to force up sterling rates to the highest rates touched since the panic of 1884. In the midst of this turmoil foreign lenders of money called in numerous loans, and these notes being drawn with the gold clause, payment to today than he did eight years ago in specie in at least one case demanded and obtained, presented at the sub- house, according to some authorities, treasury, were promptly redeemed in he has made more than any executive gold. This is the first time since the re sumtion of specie payments that the reserve has been cut into, counting in subsidiary coin as a part of the available funds of the treasury. said, with regard to the gold situation: "I do not think any action necessary, no atrificial restriction that could be placed upon the export of gold would mend matters in the least. We are simply coming to a silver basis in the natural course of events, and if the present mode of financiering continues we will soon have little gold in the country, but will have plenty of silver."

STATEMENT CRITICISED.

New York, April 21 .- Secretary Carlisle's statement on the gold situation was thu general topic of conversation on Wall street this afternoon. It is not favorably received on the ground that it is felt to be indefinite. Most bankers scenexpressed themselves as unable to comprehend the secretary's intention with reference to treasury notes.

Russel Sage said this morning: " believe that if people do not lose their heads we shall weather the storm, and that the currency question will eventually be arranged satisfactorily. It is a pity, however, that Secretary Car-lisle does not take a bold stand upon withdrawals of gold for shipment from this subject and give us an idea of what he intends to do."

MANIPULATING STOCKS

New York April 21 .- The course of the stock market today was erratic in the extreme, owing to the publication of Secretary Carlisle's statement, and the conflicting rumors from Washington regarding the probable financial policy of the administration. Purchases by London saved the market from a bad break in the early trading, but the bears promptly renewed their attacks when they found that gold engagements would be heavier than expected, and that the banks and other lenders were disposed to exact higher rates from borrowers.

STORM IN CHICAGO.

The Natives of Tropical Countries Suffer from the Cold. Chicago, April 21.-The storm which has been raging for three days, still continues. At a late hour tonight sleet was falling fast, and the wind blowing nearly forty miles an hour. REPORT.

Second Reading of the Home Rule Bill in the Commons.

BALFOUR'S BALEFUL PREDICTIONS

The Grand Old Man Makes a Powerful Plea in a Noble Cause-His Voice and Intellect Unimpaired.

Associated Press London, April 21.-The commons was crowded today with people anxious to witness the final contest over the second reading of the home rule bill. Dr. Tanner, nationalist member from Middle Cork, was on hand early bearing with him a beautiful bouquet of flowers for Gladstone sent from Ireland, and accompanied by the inscription "All blessing and power to the friend of poor and distressed Ireland; may God prosper you."

Balfour spoke at length on the bill. He could not believe that this childish imitation of the United States constitution would ever commend itself to the judgment of the British people. To make it a law would lead ultimately to the disintegration of the empire. In closing, Balfour said: "If you commit this great political crime, you make yourselves responsible for an irreparable national disaster, and all hopes of a Peaceful and united Ireland vanish

Prolonged cheers greeted Gladstone when he arose to address the house. He was in splendld form, his voice being clear and full. The principle weapons of the opposition, were bold assertion, persistent axaggeration, constant misconstruction, and copious, arbitrary and baseless prophecies. In closing, Gladstone said:

"You cannot be surprised that we have undertaken the solution of this great question, and as on one hand it is not the least of the arduous efforts of the liberal party, so on the other hand it will have its place in history; aye, and not remote, but early history, as not the least durable, fruitful and blessed among its accomplished acts."

Morley, chief secretary for Ireland, moved a closure, and it was adopted. A vote was taken on the announcement and the bill passed its second readin on a vote of 347 to 304. TWO MURDERERS ESCAPED.

The two murderers unlocked the cells of Carlisle W. Harris and the murdered Osgood, and invited these to escape with thom, but both Harris and Osgood refused.

Sing Sing. April 21.-The brother of Roshl arrived ten days ago from Europe with $7,000, which Roehl inherited.
