NOTICE.

THE FIRST OREGON NEWSPAPER

The following notice of an Oregon historical treasure appeared in the Port-

A few days ago Captain J. H. D. Gray, of Astoria, sent to Portland a well preserved and neatly bound volume of the Oregon Spectator, which was published at Oregon City in 1846. It was the first paper published in Oregon. It is a four column folio The steamer State of California sailed printed in minion type, and has a neat yesterday for San Francisco. She took typographical appearance. The bound volume is the property of the Gray estate, and has been sent to James T. Gray of Portland, who has been requested by a number of old timers to let them see it.

The first number of the Spectator was issued Feb. 5th, 1846. Its editor and proprietor was Wm. G. T'Vault. After the first issue it changed hands, H. A. G. Lee became editor, and J. Fleming proprietor. They continued together till July 23d 1846, when Mr. Fleming became editor and proprietor. On October 1, 1846, Gov. Geo. L. Curry became editor and Fleming was proprietor. Oct. 15th, 1846, N. W. Colwell bought out Mr. Fleming. The Spectator was issued every two weeks. It tells of the "lively" times on the Willamette, with the racers Mogul and Franklin, that ran twice a week from Oregon City to Champoter with a capacity of 15 or 20 passengers, Another item of unusual interest is that giving the following facts: In 1840 there were in Oregon 36 American settiers, 26 married women, 13 lay Protestant ministers, 13 Methodist (ordained) 1 Presbyterian (ordained), 5 Congregational (ordained), 32 American women and 32 children.

WOMAN'S WORLD.

"What shall I do with you children this cold stormy day?" despairingly asks a mother whose children had not learned to amuse themselves. For others like her let me suggest a use of old catalogues and picture books about the house. Paints and brushes and seed catalogues will furnish extended amusement. The small folk will delight in painting pictures. Then another way to keep them busy is to have them cut out pictures. It educates their eye to exactness, too. Pricking out pictures on clean paper is some thing else that amuses them. It requires an older hand to fasten the picture on the paper around which the pin marks Mr. W. C. Grant, of Detroit, was go. Any little child will like to see the among the arrivals from Eastern states same picture, which he will by holding the clean paper to the light. Let children have a book into which they may paste pictures just as their fancy dictates. If they follow their like it will be play; if they do as you tell them to it will soon become tiresome.

the worst forms of catarrh, with the use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Romedy. Its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties effect a perfect and permanent cure, no matter how bad the case, or of how long standing. It's a remedy that succeeds where everything else has failed. Thousands of such cases can be pointed out. That's the reason its proprietors back their faith in it with money. They offer $500 reward for a case of catarrh which they cannot cure. It's a medicine that allows them to take such a risk. Doesn't common sense lead you to take such a medicine? "An advertising fake," you say.

Funny, isn't it, how some people prefer sickness to health when the remedy is positive and the guarantee absolute.

Wise men don't put money back of "fakes." And "faking" doesn't pay.

They believe in themselves. Isn't it worth a trial? Isn't any trial preferable to catarrh!

This means $1.00 for each Coin, a much smaller sum than the people would have to pay for them if purchased through an indirect medium. Every patriotic man, woman and child should endeavor to own and cherish one of these Coins, as they will be valuable in future years—a cherished object of family pride.
