A Card to the Public.

My attention was this evening called to the following item in the Budget:

It will be a good thing for the town when the old bankrupt stock of Dinmore is gotten rid of, and the whole outfit leaves town. It has been no good from the start. It is about time the people shut down on these outside penny-catch concerns.

In reply to the above, I wish to state that I object, most emphatically, to any blackmailing scheme. Regarding advertising as a business proposition, I shall advertise only where I know it will bring good results. Mr. Dunbar kept quiet from February 22d until March 22d, during which period I advertised in his paper. On the latter date I discontinued my advertisement, having found that the Budget was deficient in circulation, and consequently useless as an advertising medium. Since then I have repeatedly refused the solicitations of his agents for patronage, and thinking to coerce me he now tries the blackmailing method. The following shows for itself:

Astoria, March, 1893.
M. Dinmore Bankrupt Sale.
To the Astoria Budget, Dr. to advertising from February 22d, to March 22d, $21.
Received payment, Astoria Budget, per L. E. S.

The bargains given at the Dinmore bankrupt sale speak for themselves, and no blackmailing newspaper idiots need apply for advertising patronage.

THROUGHED WITH SIGHTSEERS

The Great Show Receiving Its Finishing Touches.

IMMENSITY OF THE WORK

Much Time Required to Get Even an Idea of the Architectural Splendors Alone.

Associated Press.
Chicago, May 2.—Work on the unfinished portions of the World's Fair was resumed this morning, and thousands of men were soon busy putting the finishing touches on the great show, while other thousands were at work putting exhibits in place. In the midst of all throngs of sightseers strolled through the grounds, mostly engaged in getting an idea of the architectural splendors, which so far as outward appearances go, are complete. This alone is more than can be accomplished in a single day. The immensity of the work, appeared great to the spectators as they moved from point to point and found the vast amount of exertion necessary merely to walk around the great structures. The mere sight of them does not afford a fair gauge of the size, because all are so large that nothing of ordinary dimensions is in sight to furnish a standard of measurement.

CARGO OF MONOGLIANS.

Vancouver, B. C., May 2.—The Canadian Pacific Railway steamer Empress of China, arrived at 6:10 this morning from Hong Kong and Yokohama. She left Hong Kong April 12th and Yokohama April 21st, reaching Victoria at 4 p. m., yesterday. She brings 112 saloon passengers, 211 Japanese, and 886 Chinese, most of whom are for Portland and Havana. She has forty sacks of mail. She had moderate winds throughout, and but for heavy weather near the coast would have made remarkably fast time.

LOOKS LIKE CROOKEDNESS.

Sioux City, May 2.—The assignee, E. H. Hubbard, of the Union Loan and Trust Company, has made a statement which has created a sensation here. When the company failed their liabilities were placed at about $750,000, with the assets twice that amount. It is proved from the assignee's statement, that the liabilities are immensely greater, amounting to about $5,000,000. The paper has been sold all over the country, and is held mainly by the banks.

MISSOURI FLOODS.

St. Louis, May 2.—Advices from Southern Missouri and Northeastern Arkansas are to the effect that the third flood of this year in the White and Black Rivers is pouring down and doing great damage to all kinds of property. People are obliged to abandon their homes. Bottom lands of both the White and Black rivers are flooded for scores of miles. All crops are either damaged or wholly destroyed.

EUROPEAN IMMIGRANTS COMING.

New York, May 2.—There is a big rush of immigrants to this country, several thousand being now on the ocean, headed for this port. The reason for the rush now is that the immigration laws go into effect tomorrow. Ten thousand Italians left Marselles on eleven steamships which have just sailed from that port. There the 1,300 more bound from Bremen, and migration from other ports is equally large.

INSURGENTS WELL ARMED.

New York, May 2.—The Herald's Key West correspondent gives further advice regarding the Cuban revolution. It is said to be due to dissatisfaction over the election of representatives to the Spanish court in March, and excessive taxation. The force of the insurgents April 23 amounted to 1500 men, unusually well armed.

AN AGED SUICIDE.

Vienna, May 2.—Baron Richard Pokeske, president of the extensively circulated tourist journal, Fremdenblatt, suicided today by jumping from a 4th story window. He was 80 years old and feared the loss of his eyesight.

BERING SEA BUSINESS.

Paris, May 2.—The Bering Sea tribunal of arbitration resumed its session today. J. C. Carter, counsel for the United States, continued his argument.

THE WHEELMEN BEHIND TIME.

Utica, N. Y. May 2.—The relay bicycle riders from Boston to Chicago, reached here at noon, six hours behind the schedule.

THE DANGER PAST.

Cincinnati, May 2.—The heavy rains have ceased, and cooler weather prevails. The danger of a disastrous flood in the Ohio river is not now imminent.

The greatest damage is along the smaller rivers of Ohio. The Miami is higher than since 1884. Along the Little Miami thousands of acres of planted ground are submerged.

RATES STILL GOING DOWN.

Denver, May 2.—The Denver and Rio Grande have today further reduced round trip tickets to Chicago to $30. Other roads have met the cut, and it is understood that a rate of $20 to Chicago will be made this afternoon.

TEMPERANCE PEOPLE DISAGREE.

London, May 2.—Lady Biddulph, leader of the British Woman's Temperance Association, states that Mrs. J. Ellen Foster, the noted American temperance advocate, will not be allowed to speak in the convention.

THE CUBAN REVOLUTION.

Madrid, May 2.—Newspapers advise urgent action to put down the revolution in Cuba. The sentiment demands that the last remnant of the Spanish colonial empire in America be kept at any cost.

THE LEATHER TRUST.

New York, May 2.—The organization of the great leather trust is about completed. The company will be capitalized at $100,000,000. The officers of the trust, are not known.

DECIDES AGAINST COMBINATIONS

Judge White, of the Criminal Court in Pittsburg, Pa., has defined the relations of capital and labor in a lengthy opinion. In an address of over an hour he gave combinations of both labor and capital probably the hottest roast they ever received in a court of justice. His scathing rebukes were about equally divided between the two sorts of combinations. He closed by saying:

Any organization or combination of two or more persons to force up or to force down wages and coerce unwilling laborers to comply with the rules and regulations adopted to accomplish the proposed end is unlawful. Any organization of two or more persons to obtain a monopoly of any trade or business by refusing to deal with persons not members of the organization or combination, preventing other persons from dealing with them and by other means attempting to crush out all competition is unlawful. Every laborer has a right to ask and demand whatever wages he pleases, and to refuse to work unless he receives such wages, but he has no right to interfere with other laborers or to unite in a movement to compel them to yield to the wishes of others. Every employer has a right to fix what price he will pay to his employees and to refuse to pay more, but he has no right to interfere with those who are willing to pay more, or to combine with others for the purpose of coercing unwilling employees to unite with them. To constitute a conspiracy there must be a mutual agreement or understanding, a concerted action for the accomplishment of a common purpose. Two or three or a dozen or more persons acting independently of each other without a mutual understanding or concerted action would not constitute a conspiracy. If they were acting illegally or for a wrongful purpose, they would be wrong doers, but not conspirators.

EARL OF CRAVEN'S WEDDING.

The wedding had been advertised as systematically as ever a prize fight was. So much "swager" could hardly be looked for on any one occasion again for a long time to come. Invitations of silver! The finest carriages in New York! An earl for a groom! The richest woman in America for a bride! McAllister leading his flock, all in their finery; heavens, what wonder that people who have not had enough to eat for months, came to look at these other vagrants, whose vagrancy is termed leisure! No wonder at all! What else could have been expected? People who make marriage a show, must expect spectators. The mob has no desire to interfere with the nuptials of people who keep their wedding sacred, as they should be. But when a wedding is advertised it is apt to draw.—Omaha Bee.

The earl of Craven, who was married to Miss Evelyn-Martin in New York last week, wore at the wedding trousers turned up at the bottom. One of the ushers wore a pink shirt, and the bride wore a "suffed gown." The groom had his trousers turned up because his shoes had been newly varnished. The bride wore a suffed gown because if it had not been worn before, duty would have to be paid on it, and the usher wore a pink shirt because he is a duke. Who will now say that fashions are not without reason?—Utica Observer.

Councilman Bergman moved that the council refer the question of the title to a certain lot on West Eighth street to the street committee and city attorney, to report at the next meeting, after which the council adjourned.

George Buchter and William Lynch were arrested last night on a charge of vagrancy, which was afterward changed to one of larceny, when Lynch, who was first arrested had been examined. Lynch, who is a would-be fighter, was ordered to leave town by Officer Seafeldt on Saturday night, and last evening when the Telephone left he was still here. He stated that he expected to get work, and with that understanding the officer allowed him to remain until last evening. On being taken to the city jail and searched, a large bottle of cologne, a razor and a tooth brush were found on his person, and the officer at once set out to find the owner of the property. It was learned that the articles had been stolen from the store of Dr. Strickler. Having seen Lynch and Buchter together earlier in the day, the officer went after the latter, and found him in the lower part of town. He did not at once arrest him, but shadowed him until he saw him enter a room in the lodging house over the Portland Butchering company at the corner of Benton and Second streets. Buchter soon after went out again, when Officer Seafeldt, who had secured the assistance of Dell Moore, took steps to get into the room. No key could be found, so a pane of glass was taken out of the window and the deputy sheriff pushed through. The room was then opened and in a valise was found a package containing a number of other articles similar to those found on Lynch. When confronted with the evidence of his guilt, Buchter admitted that the goods had been in his possession. He was removed to the county jail, in order that he would not have an opportunity of conversing with his fellow culprit.

WANTED TO BE AN ACTOR.

"I once thought I could be an actor," says James Whitcomb Riley, "but I found they wouldn't let me. Whenever I saw a chance to do some good acting, something that would be natural, that autocrat, the stage manager, would yell out, 'Here, that ain't the way to do that. Now you come in here, at this entrance, and you stand here, and you do this this way, and you do that that way.' Well, I was always in hot water at rehearsal, and, of course, couldn't do any good acting in the piece. My heart wasn't in it. It was all on a false basis, don't you see. Why, I used to say to him, 'No man ever said that thing the way you want me to say it. 'Tain't natural, 'tain't truthful, an' it will not go.' 'No matter,' says he, 'No matter,' says he, 'you do it the way I tell you. I've got to look out for the proper effect.' Well, I soon saw they wa'n't going to let me be an actor. I was discouraged."

The Western Union wires went down last evening, and in consequence The Astorian can give only a portion of its telegraphic report this morning.
