Johnson was carried a distance of almost a half a mile by the "comber" that swamped the boat, but being a strong swimmer, managed to keep himself afloat until assistance arrived. He was picked up by the occupants of another of the Cutting Company's boats. Among his fellow fishermen Johnson is credited with bearing a charmed life, as he has almost miraculously escaped drowning on many previous occasions, He is among the most daring of the men who daily risk their lives in go ing into the breakers, but does not seem to mind the danger. Deputy Marshal Stewart returned yesterday from Gearhart Park, where he went to secure the body of a man found on the beach Wednesday by T. natown yesterday, frightfully hacked H. Laighton. The hair on the head and face was nearly all gone, severed and were taken off. At the and the body so swollen that it was beyond recognition. From all Indications it was evident the man had made a desperate struggle for his life. One boot was gone, and the three heavy woolen shirts he wore, were nearly off, having been pulled over his head, and in which position he evidently strangled. From all appearances the man was a fisherman, of good build, and about 5 feet 9 inches in height. Mr. Stewart brought the remaining boot and pieces of the shirt and trousers to the coroner's office, where friends may be able to identify them. In the pockets were found some cartridges of 22caliber, pin fire. Part of them were loaded with ball, and a few simply contained powder. of the Jury.

The first of the fish trap cases came up for hearing yesterday in Justice Cleveland's court before a jury of four men, as follows; R. R. Marion, W. F. Schiebe, J. Balley and Geo. Colmann. The witnesses called for the prosecution were Sheriff Smith, Constable Oberg, Captain Rehfield, and Mate Stuart, of the steamer Dwyer. Their to the effect that the trap tunnel was not hauled up when they examined it on Saturday night. For the defense, C. Olsen, the defendant, testified that the tunnel of the trap had been hauled up as tight as possible Saturday afternoon. His statement was supported by Hans Holton and Knute Colvick. The case was given to the jury about 4:20 o'clock, and at 6 Judge Cleveland dis charged them as they were unable to agree. It was stated that Mr. M. J. Kinney had expressed his willingness to plead guilty when his case comes up Some of the Ilwaco trapmen are dissatisfied at the cases being tried on this side of the river. All admit that the law should be enforced with refcrence to traps as well as in the case of gill-net men, but they think that jurisdiction properly belongs in Washington. Without admitting the justice of this stand, it is said that the Washington fish commissioner is indifferent as to whether or not he prosecutes violators of the Sunday law, and it is more than likely that on this question much will yet be said by the fisher men at Ilwaco. Olsen's case will be called again this morning at 10 o'clock, and another jury impanelled.
