TODAY'S WEATHER.

Portland, Or., June 1.-For Oregon and Washington: Continued fair weather.

Local weather for the twenty-four hours ending at 5 p. m., yesterday, furnished by the U. S. Department of A iculture, weather bureau. Maximum temperature, 85 degrees.

Minimum temperature, 53 degrees. Precipitation, none. Total precipitation from July 1st, 1892, to date $1.71 inches. Excess of precipitation from July 1st, 4892, to date, 7.91 inches.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

People who go to the World's Fair should not try to examine closely the numerous exhibits if their time is limited to a few days, or even a week, Each person should devote most time to exhibits connected with his business trade or profession. The former might, for instance, examine with profit, the best implements, as well as the best specimens of field and garden products. He should make note of the exhibitors and correspond with them for further information rather than depend on the hurried explanations that he may receive from the attendants. When the farmer has seen all the exhibits connected with his calling, he may devote the rest of his spare time to sight-seeing, taking care to do so with due discrimination and people have, relating to machinery, what is exhibited in that department, in preference to wandering from one building to another, engaged in aimless sight-seeing. What is said here applies to artizans and many people engaged in the professions. They should regard the exhibition as a lesson from which much profitable information may be derived.

People should also take pride in their respective states or territories and products are displayed. They should compare mentally, the exhibits of the several states with the view-of gleaning information for the public good. they might extend their researches to foreign lands, especially, those whose products correspond with the fruits, flowers and plants raised in their own state. By pursuing the course thus outlined, observers will return to Oregon and other states with a store of fresh knowledge that

THE SEASON'S DROWNINGS.

The unusual mortality among the fishermen this year is generally attriband ignorance of how to handle their boats on the part of others; and it is admitted on all sides that this reckthe breakers near the jetty. It is well known that when salmon are plentiful the fishermen do not go outside or into the dangerous places they now seek in their desire to gain the means of unusually great volume of fresh water rushing out to the ocean, just so long will the salmon be slow to head up stream, until the time approaches when they seek the headwaters to spawn. Salmon delight to sport in the breakers, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is a knowledge of this fact that is in a farge measure responsible for cessor to J. C. Dement.

the rashness of the gillnet men in dally risk their lives.

The almost total absence of steel heads and blue-backs in the pack this year is another fact which points strongly to the scarcity of fish, although packers are not complaining on

AWonderful Engine.—Cannat Be Surpassed

An engine exerting surpassing power is always a source of wonder, and yet how many are entirely forgetful of the existence within themselves of an engine more powerful and enduring than any ever invented. Not perhaps until they experience irregular pulse, heart fluttering, asthmatic breathing, tenderness in shoulder and arm, swollen ankles, weak and hungry spells, smohering, short breath, or pain in side, when its existence is no longer to be denied, as the possessor must know he has heart disease. Mrs. LeHar, Fitchburg, Mich., had heart disease fifteen years; had to hire house help; lived on liquid food, used Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and all symtoms left her, Youtinued use cured her. STRICKEN DEAD

TRUSTWORTHY STATEMENTS.

A recent New York dispatch reads:
"James C. H——, a fine looking and apparently healthy man, was observed to stagger while walking on Fifth Avenue this afternoon, and after taking one or two uncertain steps fell to the sidewalk. When certain steps fell to the sidewalk. When picked up he was dead. A physician examined the body, and pronounced heart disease the cause of death. A peculiarly sad feature of the case is that Mr. H——was on his way to Maine, to settle in the home of his boyhood. He had passed the previous ten years in the western mining country, and had annessed a fortune. If YOU have any of the amassed a fortune. If YOU have any of the symptoms given in the following testimonials you should lose no time in seeking relief. From John L. Roberts, Slatington, Pa.:

"I have suffered with palpitation, irregular pulse, fainting and smothering spells, pain in shoulders, side, and arms for over forty years. For twelve years have been treated without avail by prominent physicians in my neighborhood and in New York. Growing conborhood and in New York. Growing constantly worse, smothering spells followed one another, so my life was often in danger and I needed constant care. As my son had been cured by Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, he sent me three bottles. The first dose gave me instant relief. Before using the last bottle I was completely cured. Although seventy-five years old I feel twenty years younger. I claim my cure to be almost a miracle."

THE MOUND-BUILDERS

THEIR WORKS AND RELICS,

-BY-

REV. STEPHEN D. PEET, Ph. D.

EDITOR OF AMERICAN ANTIQUARIAN.

Author of Animal Efficies and Emblematic Mounds, etc.

This book treats of the Mound-builders; their occupation, inodes of life, religious systems, tribal divisions and early migrations.

The work contains descriptions of the earthworks of all classes. The classification of the mounds is made according to their uses, whether as village residences, as defenses, as religious structures, or as sacrificial or burial places.

religious structures, or as sacrinear of our places.

The work contains many illustrations and descriptions of Mound-builders' relics, especially pipes and pottery.

The value of the book is that it contains a comprehensive view of the whole field, and gives information about the mounds and relics of all states and districts. It is one of a series which is devoted to pre-historic America, and perhaps would be regarded as the most interesting volume.

The author solicits subscriptions. Orders can be sent to the publishing house, 175 Wabash avenue, thicsgo, or to the author at Avon, iii.
