SUNDAY CLOSING WINS THE DAY

Decision Adverse to Opening the Exposition on That Day.

ALSO A DISSENTING OPINION

Synopsis of the Views of Judges Woods and Jenkins—Appealed to a Higher Court.

Associated Press.
Chicago, June 8.—In the United States circuit court today Judges Jenkins and Wood delivered a decision favoring the closing of the World's Fair gates on Sunday. Judge Grosscup filed a dissenting opinion holding that the injunction should not issue. On behalf of the World's Fair, an appeal will be taken to the United States Supreme court.

Judge Woods said that Jackson Park was lawfully devoted for exposition purposes, and that the exposition had been, in fact, turned over to the federal government by the local corporation, and that its control was therefore absolute as was its control of the federal building. It would be held that the Sunday closing rule having once been passed by the local directory and approved by the national commission, the former body could not change it. Regarding the case before Judge Stein, of the state court, he held that it was no bar to the proceedings, because it is inadmissible to say that the government must in conformity to a state court. Judge Jenkins took the view that the Sunday closing condition was not a question of religious belief, but a matter of scientific research, that man required one day to rest, and that this had been recognized by the United States ever since their formation. Judge Grosscup in dissenting held that the commissioners had jurisdiction over the exhibits and awarding prizes, also the right to modify, but not to make rules in reference to the $5,000,000 appropriated by congress. He held it was not the nature of the gift, but a contract between the United States and a local corporation. He said: "If the national commission has charge of the exposition as claimed, it was the first time he had ever heard of a donor making himself a donation. The government having broken its contract by withholding part of this appropriation, therefore the local organization was released from its contract with the government. If hereafter disagreed from the conclusions of the judges."

FARGO'S GREAT FIRE.

The Flames Still Raging Yesterday—Extent of the Damage.

Fargo, N. D. June 8.—Exact figures of last night's big fire are not obtainable. Nearly three thousand people are homeless, and as many more out of work. All hotels except the Headquarters, all of the banks except the First National, all the groceries except two, all the secret societies halls, and all the machinery warehouses except Walter A. Woods and the Monitor drill, are destroyed. Fire companies are here from Grand Forks, Jamestown, Casselton and other neighboring towns, but the flames are still burning furiously. The fire made a clean sweep twice blocks long and five blocks wide. At least half the business part of the city is in ruins. The Great Northern trestle is burned. The flames blocked traffic on the Northern Pacific. The Western Union building is destroyed and the telegraph wires badly demoralized.

POSTPONED UNTIL AUGUST.

Washington, June 8.—The Pacific coast trip, which the senate committee on immigration and naturalization expected to begin this week in furtherance of the investigation recently begun by it in New York, has been postponed until the first week in August. The committee on territories, charged with the duty of making an investigation during the recess of congress, will accompany the committee on immigration when it goes west.

DISCLAIMS RESPONSIBILITY.

Washington, June 8.—The Star says: President Cleveland told the members of congress today that under no circumstances would there be issued bonds unless especially authorized by congress. The administration, he said, was not responsible for the present financial situation, and it lay with congress and not the administration to find a remedy for it.

ANNEXATION OF HAWAII.

San Francisco, June 8.—Advices from Honolulu dated June 1st, say the annexation party of Hawaii have settled in their own minds that the United States is going to establish a protectorate over the islands. It is reported that Minister Blount had dropped a hint that a protectorate is the proper thing to look for.

ALLEGED PENSION FRAUDS.

Serious Charges Against the Boards of Examining Surgeons.

Washington, June 8.—The question of reorganizing the board of pension examining surgeons throughout the country is just now under consideration by Secretary Hoke Smith, Commissioner Lochren and Deputy Commissioner Murphy. There are 126 of these boards each containing three members, and their work is a very important factor in the department of state that careful examinations have revealed incompetence and gross carelessness in these boards, and in some instances the evidence indicates that improper influences have been successfully applied to secure reports in claims favorable to applicants. It is stated that it is the purpose of Commissioner Lochren to appoint on these boards only men who stand in the very front ranks of the profession, and men of unquestioned integrity. The politics of the applicants will not be made of first importance, although, all other things being equal, democrats will be given preference.

THE FAILURES CONTINUE.

Chattanooga, Tenn., June 8.—D. B. Loveman, a leading drygoods merchant, failed. He has given Hon. H. C. Clay Evans a deed of trust to all his property, valued at $50,000. Preferred creditors hold claims aggregating $12,000. The amount of unsecured liabilities is unknown, but it is heavy.

Chicago, June 8.—Conrad Nichoff, private banker, made an assignment this morning. The assets are scheduled at $40,000, liabilities, $20,000.

Wilmington, Del., June 8.—Bellah & Co., wholesale dealers in iron and steel, have failed.

THE PRINCESS AT THE FAIR.

Chicago, June 8.—The Princess Estelle visited the World's Fair grounds today.

About 450,000 people were on the fair grounds to do honor to the Infanta. No woman was ever honored with a grander greeting or more cordial welcome than that accorded her. Tonight fully 200,000 people were at the grounds, the attraction being dual, the Infanta and magnificent magnificent electrical and pyrotechnical display.

REDUCING RAILROAD RATES.

Chicago, June 8.—The Central Traffic Association lines today knocked the last leg from under the stand taken by the Western Passenger Association, by making a World's Fair excursion rate on the basis of one fare for the round trip basis on the highest rate for limited tickets on the route traveled.

GASOLINE EXPLOSION.

St. Louis, June 8.—A tank of gasoline exploded in Samuel Reynolds' grocery store on the first floor of a tenement house occupied by a number of families. Sixteen people were more or less seriously burned and injured by broken glass and debris. Three are not expected to live.

CHICAGO WHEAT MARKET.

Chicago, June 8.—On the board of trade today wheat touched the lowest point ever reached in the history of this market. Cash wheat sold at 63. The entire trade is exceedingly bearish.

PROBABLY A CANARD.

Washington, June 8.—If Blount has resigned as Minister to Hawaii, as stated in a San Francisco dispatch, the fact is not known at the state department.

FIRE IN OSKOSH.

Oshkosh, June 8.—Many buildings on Main street and Jefferson avenue were destroyed by fire this afternoon. The loss is estimated at $200,000.

THE GUEST OF COLUMBUS.

Columbus, June 8.—The Duke of Veragua arrived this morning as the guest of the city.

It may not be generally known that the naval officers in Uncle Sam's new cruisers smoke 4-cent cigars, and pure Havans at that. These cigars are not exactly smuggled, but they pay noduty, and come into port under the protection of the Stars and Stripes and Uncle Sam's big guns. Customs officers don't bother the cruisers, and the officers of the navy enjoy good cigars at native Cuban prices. One of the big white cruisers on her last return from the West Indies brought in a supply of 100,000 pure Havans, and the officers of other vessels are now smoking them, free from care or duty.—(Philadelphia Record.)

BOSS OF INTELLIGENCE OFFICE—No; but we have several who may become angels any day; they light the fire with kerosene.

NOMINATED BY ACCLAMATION

William McKinley Will Be Ohio's Next Governor.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC CONVENTION

The Great Protectionist Reviews the Financial Situation—The Democratic Administration Denounced.

Associated Press.
Columbus, O., June 8.—Governor McKinley today received the laurels of success which prostrate, perhaps, of higher honors to come. The great protectionist in accepting the nomination as the republican candidate for governor of Ohio, virtually outlined the declaration of principles by which he may be judged as a candidate for the presidency. After the convention had been called to order the Duke of Veragua and party entered the hall amid loud applause. At this juncture Colonel Robert Nevis, in an eloquent address, nominated McKinley for Governor. The nomination was made by acclamation. While waiting for the committee to bring McKinley in, Lieutenant Governor Harris was nominated by acclamation. Then McKinley entered amid an outburst of applause. Taking the platform he delivered his address of acceptance. In opening he said the nomination was both an honor and one which imposed a duty. He might forego the honor, but could not refuse the duty.

He reviewed at length the financial situation, saying: "was it to be wondered that the people were distrustful, especially in view of the fact that the administration had put forth no line of financial policy? Cleveland says the Sherman silver bill is the cause of the depression, but does not convene congress to repeal it. While waiting for the democrats to carry out the declarations in their platform on the tariff, the country's business is paralyzed because of uncertainty. If the expectation of what the democrats would do has destroyed confidence, what will a full realization do? But the democratic party is so divided into factions and split asunder on the tariff and currency issues that a do-nothing policy must be the result. The only direction to look for relief is the republican party." The speaker then took up the pension frauds question, saying he did not object to the striking of unworthy pensioners from the rolls, but declared the ruling of the secretary of the interior would result in striking from the pension rolls, thousands of worthy dependent soldiers.

The platform endorses the national republican platform of 1892 and the administration of President Harrison. It favors protection to American labor and industries, and reciprocity; protests against free wool, demands the enactment of laws to restrict immigration; condemns the policy of the present administration towards pensioners, and denounces the avowed purpose of the democrats to repeal the bank tax.

THE SHERMAN YAW.

Statement That It Will Be Repealed Without Any Compromise.
Washington, June 8.—An evening paper has the following: General Tracy, of Albany, who is one of the most conspicuous anti-silver leaders in congress, and who is regarded as one of the strongest friends of the administration on the floor of the house, is in this city and saw the president today. General Tracy says that the Sherman law will be repealed at the coming session without the passage of any substitute measure, or the adoption of any compromise with the free silver men. He also gave it as his opinion that the proposed repeal of the ten-per-cent tax on the circulation of state banks, would fall of passage. Coming from General Tracy, these views are of more than ordinary value. Senator Jones of Arkansas took an entirely different view from that entertained by General Tracy. The Sherman law can never be repealed in the senate unless some other measure looking to the coinage of silver is substituted.

AN APPOINTMENT BY CARLISLE.

Washington, June 8.—Secretary Carlisle today appointed Worthington Ford of Brooklyn chief of the bureau of statistics of the treasury department. During the last Cleveland administration he served as chief of the bureau of statistics of the department of state. Mr. Ford is worth nearly $1,000,000.

THE PAST AND THE PRESENT.

Chicago, June 8.—A unique program was observed today in the opening of the Nebraska State building. The past and present were brought together, face to face. Tribes of Indians, whose ancestors had hunted deer and buffalo on the wide prairies of the of the state, rubbed elbows with distinguished citizens of that commonwealth, and the utmost good feeling prevailed.

ALONG THE WHARVES.

The steam schooner Harrison will shortly arrive here from Portland on the way to Nehalem.

The steamer South Coast left for San Francisco yesterday morning. She had a full cargo and a fair list of passengers.

The repairs to the pilot schooner are about completed. She is now as good as ever.

The American ship Reaper arrived down yesterday morning from Portland, partially loaded with an assorted cargo for New York. She will take about 150 tons of freight on board at this port, consisting of salmon and lumber.

The bark Jennie Harkness crossed out yesterday, bound for New York. She takes a cargo of lumber.

The steamer Augusta sailed yesterday for Tillamook.

The steamer R. P. Elmore sailed for Tillamook yesterday.

A dog with a tin pail tied to his tail is not an unusual sight, but a whole dash off with a bell buoy to his tail certainly is. That was the spectacle witnessed by the people who went to see the wreck of the yacht Alva on Nantucket Shoals, blown up recently. A ton of dynamite had been placed in the sunken yacht by divers and was exploded all at once by electricity. Fragments of the wreck were blown 200 feet into the air, and a whale about 50 feet long that had been inspecting the operation at too close range, got mad, or perhaps had his feelings hurt. Anyway he dashed around at a terrible rate and finally got himself tangled up in the moorings of the bell buoy that marked the entrance of the Pollock Rip Slue. Without taking time to untangle himself he simply broke the mooring chains and the last seen of that whale he was tearing out to sea at a wild rate of speed dragging the buoy after him and its bell ringing like a fire alarm. The wreck was blown up successfully, however, and is no longer a danger to navigation.—Marine Journal.

The best is none too good for the people of Astoria. Use St. Charles' unadventured evaporated cream. Absolutely pure, perfectly sterilized, never spoils; a blessing to babies, a boon to good cooking.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. W. Wolf of Portland is in the city.

Colonel John Adair of Sunnymead was in town yesterday.

Miss Rosa Wipand of Portland is visiting Mrs. H. B. Parker.

Mr. D. K. Warren of Warrenton came over to town yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Maxwell of Portland are guests at the Occident.

Mr. J. A. Benedict of Portland came down the river yesterday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. I. McMichael of Minneapolis arrived in this city yesterday.

Eddie Parker is spending his vacation here until the next term of school.

Mr. W. H. Orpwood, a representative of the Philadelphia Mercury, is in the city.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

Following are the real estate transfers as reported for the Astorian by the Astoria Abstract, Title and Trust Company:

June 8th, 1893.
United States to John Murray SE 1/4 of sec. 24, T 8 N. R 8 W $200

Johnny (knowingly)—"What a lovely disposition your sister has, hasn't she?"

"Yes, just now, but this is her bathroom disposition, you know."

Conductor (glancing at ticket)—"Sorry sir, but we don't stop at that place."

Fetherwaite—"What place?"

Conductor—"Simpson, the pawnbroker's!"

She—"Why is it when doctors get ill they never attend to their own cases?"

He—"I don't know, but I should say it was because they can't charge themselves for it."

Backed by capital: Bliffers—"I wonder if Diggs has much money behind him?"

Spotts—"He had the other day when I saw him. He was leaning against the Bank of England."

Dressed to kill, but didn't—Jack—Calling on Miss Brighteyes pretty regularly, I notice.

George—Y—s, rather.

Jack—How does your suit progress?

George—Not so well as I thought it would latest English cut, too.—New York Weekly.

Eastern Churchman—Well, I must say I am surprised to hear that you doubt like the Rev. Dr. Boanerges. Here in the East he has always been considered a very sound man.
