The school season is over, and the young folks are free to go to the seaside or the World's Fair. They reflected credit on their teachers and themselves by the proficiency which they displayed at the public schools, as well as at the select school yesterday. Astoria has good reason to be proud of her schools. Her people pay cheerfully the school tax, and are pleased at the ample returns which they re ceive therefrom. The teachers are all zealous and competent. The county superintendent, Mr. Lyman, is in hearty sympathy with efficational progress, and well calculated to inspire the teacher with arder and enthusiasm which are essential to success. As head of the high school Professor Wright has also set a good example, and exercised a beneficial influence. In due time we hope that Astoria will have a college wherein our young people may attain the highest grades of scholar-

Some one complained at the recent manner with the fire companies might receive instruction from the Fargo fire. In that progressive North Dakota city, the fire had gained irresistible headway in fifteen minutes, and in half an hour, it had destroyed property worth about $1,500,000. It did not avail that Fargo was built beside a large river; that its streets were broad and regular, or that it had a good fire brigade. In this city the public interests demand that the fire companies should receive liberal treatment and be kept in that high state of efficiency for which the department has gained a national reputation.

The current number of the Pacific Banker and Investor contains much useful information concerning banks and banking in Oregon, California and matters of current interest. We observe that according to the bank returns the individual deposits in Portland on May 1st, were $4,480,222; in Stattle, $2,200,402; and in Tacoma, $1,-052,531. It may be seen from this that the Portland banks have more deposits than those in the other two cities. The Pacific banker is well gists. adapted to make known to eastern investors the merits of the Pacific slope, STRICKEN DEAD.

TRUSTWORTHY STATEMENTS.

A recent New York dispatch reads:
"James C. H——, a fine looking and apparently healthy man, was observed to stagger while walking on Fifth Avenue this afternoon, and after taking one or two uncertain steps fell to the sidewalk. When picked up he was dead. A physician ex-amined the body, and pronounced heart disease the cause of death. A peculiarly sad feature of the case is that Mr. H—— was on his way to Maine, to settle in the home of his boyhood. He had passed the previous ten years in the western mining country, and had amassed a fortune. If YOU have any of the symptoms given in the following testimonials Although seventy-five years old I feel twenty years younger. I claim my cure to be almost a miracle."

THEIR WORKS AND RELICS,

REV. STEPHEN D. PEET, Ph. D.

This book treats of the Mound-builders; their occupation, mo 'es of life, religious systems, teibal divisious and early migrations. The work contains descriptions of the earthworks of all classes. The classification of the mounds is made according to their uses, whether as village residences, as defenses, as religious structures, or as sacrificial or burial places. The work contains many illustrations and icscriptions of Mound-builders' relics, es-descriptions of Mound-builders' relics, especially pipes and pottery.

The value of the book is that it contains a comprehensive view of the whole field, and gives information about the mounds and relics of all states and districts. It is one of a series which is devoted to pre-historic America, and perhaps would be regarded as the most interesting volume.
