Closing the School Term.

The Methodist Episcopal church never before contained such a large audience as it did last evening on the occasion of the commencement exercises of the High School and the anniversary exercises of the Cleroan Literary Society. Long before 8 o'clock the church was filled to overflowing, and even standing room was difficult to obtain. The decorations were both tasteful and elaborate, flowers, ferns and flags combining to make the scene as beautiful as could well be imagined. The program was opened with a selection on banjo and violin by Messrs. Masten and Wood of Kansas City, who displayed an ability which was most enthusiastically applauded. Miss Besse Rutter next rendered a salutatory address on behalf of the Cleroan Literary Society, reviewing briefly and ably the good work accomplished by the society during the past year, and detailing the great and numerous benefits to be derived from a thorough study of choice literature.

Miss Gene Lewis was prevented from rendering her part, a recitation, by reason of a severe sore throat.

Mr. Will H. Levings was heartily applauded for his oration on "The Unseen in History."

Miss Carruthers rendered a vocal solo in her usual charming manner, and was followed by a lively debate between Andrew Dalgity, for the affirmative, and Alfred Cleveland for the negative. Mr. Dalgity brought forth an array of forcible points amusingly put, while Mr. Cleveland handled his case with marked ability and a great degree of ardor.

The next number was the presentation to John McCue of a richly embossed diploma from the Cleroan Society, he being the first and only graduate to receive such a token of regard from his co-laborers in literary work.

The interim between the first and second parts was occupied by Messrs. Masten and Wood, on the guitar and banjo, whose selections throughout the evening completely captivated the audience.

opened by an essay read by Miss Martha Gilbert. Miss Gilbert's paper exhibited throughout that delicate and refined tone so characteristic of the truly cultivated intellect. Miss Gilbert won high encomiums by her excellent production, and graceful and modest demeanor.

John McCue's oration on the subject "The Morning Cometh," was treated in a very masterly manner. Mrs. J. T. Ross next rendered a vocal solo with extraordinary effect, and was heartily ecored. She responded with "Kiss and Let's Make Up Again," which made a happy hit. Miss Maud Warren executed a pleasing accompaniment.

The valedictory and class prophecy by Miss Kate Dement, was thickly studded with witty expression and some of the graduates must have feared a realization of their gloomy future as pictured by the young lady.

The diplomas were then presented to the graduates, and Professor Wright's touching words affected them deeply.

Hon. C. W. Fulton addressed the graduating class with words replete with wholesome advice. He enjoined upon them the necessity of relying on their own resources in the great human struggle for supremacy and success, and hoped they might be steadfast to the end, so that when they were ready to depart from this earthly life into the great unknown eternity, they might feel as though some life had been made brighter and the world made better by their having lived in it.

The highly successful program was concluded at 10:30 by a selection by Messrs. Masten and Wood.

CEDAR STREET SCHOOL.

Room No. 3, at Cedar school was crowded to suffocation to hear the pupils acquit themselves at the closing exercises yesterday. The exercises were mostly by the pupils of the primary departments, and the parents and visitors generally showed their interest by listening for fully two and a half hours. Space forbids the mention of many creditable selections. Miss Adele Sevey's recitation "The Day is Done," was beautifully rendered as was Miss Edith Shaffer's "The Bridge." The pupils' work in the examinations was inspected by those present, who were greatly pleased with the progress the school had made in all departments during the year. Miss Dickinson's room was beautifully decorated for the occasion. A full report of the results of the examinations will be published in a day or two in the Astorian. The school certainly has had a very prosperous year.

AT ALDERBROOK.

School closed at Alderbrook yesterday with a royal good time. Alderbrook people never do things by halves, and this was never more manifest than at this time. At 10:30 the closing exercises proper commenced with a good program, which lasted about an hour and a half. The girls, and the boys, too, did remarkably well, and the singing was superb. Mrs. Rannels conducted the musical part with great effect. The large and appreciative audience applauded very earnestly. At twelve o'clock the contents of the baskets provided for the occasion were piled upon the tables, which were surrounded by the attending crowds, who soon satisfied the cravings of the "inner man," leaving enough to supply many more. At 2 o'clock the Democratic medal contest began, which was intently listened to until the close.

JERRY'S, The Only Restaurant

the contestants doing their best. A box of nice oranges was sent by Messrs Foard & Stokes, to be distributed among the pupils, and a vote of thanks to them was unanimously passed.

ALONG THE WHARVES.

The British ship Crofton Hall will be finished loading about Thursday next.

The British bark Algon Bay, hence with grain for Queestown for orders, is discharging at Dublin.

The British steamer Coquilhan is expected to arrive today.

Among the veteran schooners that ply in the coastwise trade, says the Bath, Maine, Enterprise, is the Good Intent, Captain Wardwell, Rockland. The Good Intent is 23 tons register, and was launched at Braintree, Mass., in 1813, making her 80 years old. She has been repaired, rebuilt, used hundreds of spars and acres of canvas, but still, like the Irishman's jack-knife, is the same old original, and the skipper claims that there are still in the hull two or three white oak planks that were in her when she was launched. The Good Intent is still in good repair, and barring accidents, which she has successfully avoided for such a long time, there is no reason why she will not be in service on her hundredth birthday. Good Intent is no misnomer. The Globe, a brig of 329 tons register, was recently in the Liverpool docks unloading a cargo. She was built in 1836, and has been in constant service for fifty-seven years, but a survey showed her to be seaworthy and apparently good for many more voyages.

The Solitaire, Thompson master, is now loading with general merchandise at Portland, and will soon be down river to complete her cargo with salmon shipments. C. P. Uphur is agent.

J. W. Crow, successor to Ryan & Co., 637 Third street, have just received a full line of 1893 patterns in wall paper, and comprising all the latest designs and shades, at the lowest prices. Call and see them.

Oregon has adopted a unique and practical method of displaying the woods produced in that state, says the World's Columbian Illustrated. At Jackson Park there is a house constructed entirely of Oregon woods. It is ten feet square and nineteen feet high, and is surmounted by an open cupola. The body of the structure is a yellow pine. The roof is of red cedar shingles, and is supported by four doric columns. The columns are of maple and are very richly carved. The roof of the cupola is supported by four small doric columns or carved oak. The interior is finished with panel work containing about all the woods of the state, among which are manzanita, madrone, yew, laurel, myrtle, ash, maple, oak, spruce, balsam, fir, sugar pine, bird's eye pine, cherry, curly maple and alder. The house forms the Oregon pavilion in the Forestry building.

Water rates are delinquent today, and if not paid the water will be turned off without further notice. W. N. Smith, Superintendent.

According to advices received from Observer Pague yesterday, today's weather will be damp, with fresh, south to west winds prevailing, and a small storm off the Washington coast. When the dispatch was received, the committee in charge thought best to postpone the Pioneer picnic until Friday next. There was general satisfaction when the postponement was announced, for the reason that much of the success of the affair will depend upon the condition of the grounds. It was expected that many hundreds of children, with their parents, will be present if the day is suitable for such an affair. Many would not attend if the ground was damp. The attendance, too, is likely to be larger on any other day than Saturday, when there is usually a great rush of business until 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

All members of the Carpenters and Joiners Union, No. 529, are notified that on Thursday, June 8th, will be held the semi-annual nomination meeting. A full attendance is required. Fines will be strictly enforced. By order of the president, WILLIAM A. FRY, R. S.
