THE WINNER OF A BIG FORTUNE

Boundless Captures the Great Chicago Derby.

HARVEST FOR THE BOOKMAKERS

The Favorite Never in the Race—Snapper Garrison Rides the Victor and is Well Rewarded.

Associated Press. Chicago, June 24.—This day has long been looked forward to, alike by the fashionably and sporting fraternity. It is the famous Derby Day. The conditions provide absolutely for the payment of $50,000 to the winner, $7,000 to the second horse and $3,000 to the third.

At half-past two it seems almost certain that the race will be run with fair weather. At this hour the greatest crowd is present that ever was seen on the grounds, and every train arriving is jammed.

Later.—The tenth American Derby is over, and like a majority of the great races this year, it brought woe to the betting public and joy to the bookmakers. The largest crowd ever gathered on a race track in this country saw Boundless win in a canter.

The grand stand, betting ring, club house and lawns were crowded with 75,000 people. Carriages, four-in-hands and other conveyances by hundreds were packed in the side track. Before the race started, however, several thousands left the grounds tired of waiting. The worst of it was there was no excuse for the delay at the post.

It was nearly six o'clock when the flag dropped. Even then the start was not good enough. St. Croix and Chorister had a slight advantage, but Don Alonzo's nose was near by, and Ingomar was at his girth. A length away and half a length apart came Plutus, Aldebaran, Clifford, Lookout and G. W. Johnson, while the rear was fetched up by Ramapo, Boundless, St. Leonard, Operto, Tyro and Strathrose.

At least ten lengths separated the leader from the last horse, but the crowd were well pleased. Young Ray, on Plutus, and Miller on Aldebaran drew their whips at once and sent their mounts to the front. In the meantime the backers of Don Alonzo were horrified to see him disappearing in the rear.

dered considerably, and Garrison kept his mount back to avoid being pocketed. In the meantime Lookout dropped out, and Aldebaran was heading at the end of the first mile. St. Leonard at his girth, with Ingomar a length away, Chorister and Clifford next. But suddenly Garrison saw an opening and shot Boundless forward. Martin drew his whip and sent Clifford after him, and the great struggle was on in earnest. Aural saw them coming and drew ahead of Aldebaran. The order as they swung into the stretch was St. Leonard, Clifford, Aldebaran, Boundless, Ingomar, Chorister, and St. Croix. Down the course they came amid the cries from the grand-stand and at a sixteenth from home, Boundless passed St. Leonard and Clifford as though they were standing still.

THE GERMAN ELECTIONS.

Berlin, June 24.—The progress of today's by-elections appears to support the government calculation that re-balloting will give it sixty-nine seats. The government will thus have in the new reichstag 199 votes out of 397.
