HE LEAVES FOR BUZZARD'S BAY

Many Appointments Agreed Upon Are Left Unsigned, and May Remain Sofor Three Weeks.

Associated Press Washington, June 30 .- The detercoll an extra session for the first week in August instead of the first week in September, it is understood, was only definitely arrived at at this morning's session, after giving full weight to the numerous telegrams received from all parts of the country urging this course, and the consideration of which caused the president to change his mind. The action was foreshadowed in a remark made by one of his cabinet officers two days ago. If the president, said this member, received measonable assurance that there was a likelihood of the prompt repeal of the so-called Sherman law, he might be disposed to call congress together earlier than the time announced. It is inferred from the fact that the president has done so that he considers he has obtained the assurance desired. Most of the cabinet followed the president's example and left the city, or are leaving for brief vacations. Those who remain say the president's proclamation speaks for itself and decline to discuss the situa-

The president left this afternoon for Buzzard's Bay. He will be absent three weeks or more, his stay depending upon circumstances. The president's determination to leave the city was only reached this morning, and his departure was made so suddenly that a number of important appointments agreed upon were unsigned. It is understood that the president will transact only the most urgent public busiwhile at Buzzard's Bay, At 6 o'clock this evening the following proclamation was issued:

> Whereas, the present perilous condition is largely the result of the financial policy which the executive branch of the government finds embodied in unwise laws which must be executed until repealed by congress: Now, therefore, I. Grover Cleveland, president if the United States, in performance of a constitutional duty, do by this proclamation declare that an extraordinary occasion requires the convening of both houses of the congress of the United States in the capitol in the city of Washington, on the 7th day of August next, at 12 o'clock noon, to the end that the people may be relieved through legislation from the present impending danger and distress.
