GREAT CALAMITY IN CHICAGO

Many Heroic Firemen Meet With a Terrible Death.

AN AGONIZING SPECTACLE

Within Full View of a Multitude the Lives of nearly Forty Brave Men Snuffed out—A Scene of Horror.

Associated Press.
Chicago, July 10.—A fire broke out today in the cold storage warehouse just south of the Sixty-fourth street gate of the World's Fair. About thirty firemen were burned to death. The fire started at the top of the cupola, which rises fully 200 feet from the ground. Through this cupola the chimney passed. Near the top is a landing, and the fire broke out thirty feet above this. As soon as the firemen arrived, thirty-five or forty of them climbed up ladders to the landing, and were preparing to throw streams of water on the burning portion, when the fire, which had burned the inside staff to a point below where the firemen stood, broke out with volcanic ferocity on all sides. An exclamation of horror broke from the lips of 20,000 people gathered about the building to see the fire. Five men saved themselves by sliding down ropes, but before the others could follow the fire burned away the ropes. Those who remained huddled together on the north side of the cupola. It was beyond the reach of any of the ladders, and the crowd stood horror-stricken, helpless to aid. The flames leaped higher, higher, until the men were almost concealed from view. At this moment one of the firemen sprang far out and was dashed to pieces on a roof sixty feet below. Another and another, crazed by the awful heat, followed his example, but met the same fate. When five had jumped the upper portion of the cupola gave way, and the remaining firemen were swallowed up in the mass of burning timbers. It is reported that three men and several clerks in an office on the third floor were crushed by the falling cupola.

The scene of horror was witnessed by many thousands of people who flocked to the locality when the alarm was sounded, and strong men wept, and women fainted as one life after another was snuffed out within full view of the multitude, but beyond the reach of human aid. The fire was not generally observed until about 1:15 p. m., and within thirty minutes a great loss of life had occurred. At the first signal the firemen rushed up the huge shaft surrounding the smokestack, and when at the summit began preparations to fight the flames, which first appeared at this point. Before the hose could be coupled, a cry of horror from the crowd below caused the firemen to look down. The whole shaft below was enfolded with flames. The men stood stolidly for a moment in full realization of their danger. Then one grasped a rope which was lowered for the purpose of raising the hose, and half sliding, half falling, reached a roof ninety feet below, in a bruised and burned condition, but still alive. The crowd below became wild with excitement, and weeping women and frenzied men rushed around wringing their hands and moaning in anguish over the inability to render aid. Suddenly every eye turned upward attracted by the preparations of a fireman to jump. He gave a quick, spasmodic leap and turned over and over half a dozen times before he struck the roof ninety feet below. When the body struck there was a fearful crash, and it bounced far up again into the air. From this time on bodies rained from the steeple, as after the first wild leap, one man after another jumped in quick succession as the flames closed in below and the heat became more intense. The spectacle became more horrible as the minutes passed, and for the last man on the cupola was reserved the most dreadful fate of all. After his companions had leaped to apparent death, and as he stood hesitating, the whole shaft began to tremble and vibrate. The lone fireman understood the ominous warning and gave a wild leap, but too late. At the very instant he sprang, the whole structure collapsed, and this human being, quivering with life and wildly grasping for support in the frenzy of despair, was seen to drop into a labyrinth of flame and fire, and disappeared into the roaring furnace below.

JACKSON AND CORBETT MATCH

Ten Thousand Dollars a Side Posted as a Forfeit.

DATE FIXED FOR NOVEMBER

The California Featherweight Feats Griffin in Four Rounds The Hottest Battle Ever Witnessed.

Associated Press.
Roby, Ind., July 10.—The Columbian Athletic Club's featherweight championship battle between Solly Smith of California and John Griffin of Braintree, Mass., tonight attracted a crowd of over 7,000 people. The men fought for a purse of $4,000 and the world's featherweight championship. Both Smith and Griffin were in excellent shape. Tom Williams and James J. Corbett of California were present. Corbett was loudly asked for, and after being persuaded, jumped into the ring and shook hands with President O'Malley. He then said: "Gentlemen, I am glad to see you all. I have come to announce that I am anxious to meet Peter Jackson. The reason I speak is because his manager 'Parson' Davies, is here tonight. I have here a check for $10,000 to fight Jackson at any time."
Parson Davies at this jumped into the ring and responded: "Gentlemen, Mr. J. J. Corbett, has just announced that Jackson followed him all over the country. I deny this. I have had $2,000 posted with the New York Clipper for a year and he has failed to cover it." After harranguing for some time the two agreed to fight in November, and each posted $10,000 with President O'Malley. The Bantams, Barry and Shea, then stepped into the ring and after four vigorous rounds, Shea was knocked out.
The event of the evening then followed:
Round 1. The two featherweights sparred cautiously for an opening. Griffin towered far above Smith. Solly, very shifty, leads and falls short. Leads again with a swinging blow, but Johnny ducks and escapes. They clinch, Griffin lands on Solly's cheek. Solly rushes to the ropes, where he uppercuts Griffin. Solly doing all the rushing.
Round 2. Smith again acts as aggressor, and adopts wild rushing tactics. Griffin leads with his right, and catches Solly on the neck.
Round 3. Smith again comes up and rushes Griffin. The latter leads and catches Sol on the neck. Both land heavily on the stomach. Griffin corners Sol, but the latter smashes him in the left eye. Sol goes right at him and lands a blow which nearly upsets John. Both are still very fresh.
Round 4. They again go it hot and heavy. Griffin lands two on Sol's neck, which makes him grunt. Sol retaliates with a hot one on the stomach. Sol gets one on the neck which sends him reeling. Sol appears to be very groggy and catches John on the point of the jaw, knocking him down and out. It was very much unexpected. Griffin was unconscious for ten minutes.

PREPARING FOR THE PRAY.

Winnemucca, Nev., July 10.—The chairman of the state central committee of the silver party of Nevada issues the following call: "The gold bugs, with Grover Cleveland at their head, are making a most determined effort to have the Sherman law repealed at the extra session of congress, and the gold standard permanently fixed upon this country. Intimidation and bribery and executive threats are their weapons. The friends of silver in nearly all of our sister state are energetically organizing for the conflict. Shall Nevada lag behind? Let every silver club in the state and in every election precinct meet in convention in their respective localities and pass resolutions in earnest protest against the repeal of the Sherman law, unless a free coinage bill be substituted, and forward the same to our senators and representatives in congress."
