The Americans again showed the British last evening that indomitable pluck and perseverance is sure to win on the football field, as elsewhere, and while Captain Bartholomew of the British team was disappointed by several men who were to play, but failed to appear on the field, it must be said that the victory of the home team was a decisive one. The score was 2 to1. Bell of the British team played magnificently, as did also Bartholomew, Addis and Ridehalgh. For the American, Tallant, Smith, Higgins, McLean, and Rathom, did excellent work, and many times saved their team from apparent defeat. Altogether the game was an exciting one and much enjoyed by the large audience. The members of the British team still think they can defeat Captain Tallant's aggregation of Americans, and may send a challenge. The club will meet this evening for the transaction of business of the utmost importance, and all the members are expected to be present at 7:30 sharp.

Condition of The Water Supply.

The following communication will explain itself:

Astoria, July 17th, 1893.

Editor Astorian: The wormy and abusive articles against the Astoria water commission in the last "Sunday Herald" and in this evening's "Budget" seem to require some notice by the commission, because some person from reading those effusions might think them truthful if not refuted.

Just now I will notice the condition and bad contents of the reservoir, and hereafter I will notice the whole of the articles.

First, then, as to the reservoir: It is the same reservoir that has been used the past eight or ten years; it is built of stone and water lime or hydraulic cement, the walls from 2 to 4 feet thick and the bottom from half a foot to one foot thick, of said stone and water lime, completely water tight, and is equal to any waterworks reservoir of its size in the United States.

No water, or other liquid can get into it from the outside unless it rises to the top of the 12 feet walls and runs over them. There is a drain under it to carry any leakage from the reservoir or elsewhere away from it.

No water can get into the reservoir except it comes from Bear Creek through the pipe that has brought all the water of the works the past several years. And the bad water in the reservoir now, about which so much complaint is made, is from the same pure mountain stream water that we have used the past eight or ten years and are using every day now; and it smells bad and is impure only from being kept in the reservoir some twenty days while the flow from the pipe, a few hours each day, was filling the reservoir immediately after cleaning it some four of five weeks ago. The malodorous water complained of so much by families and the papers, some ten days ago, was some of that long "pent up" water in the reservoir, let into the distributing pipes, incautiously by the superintendent, before he noticed its unwholesome condition. No more of it has been let into the pipes since that day, and no more will be let in, as there is no occasion to do so. The water now flowing through the pipes is the part of the same mountain stream we have used in past years, going direct to all water takers without going into the reservoir in any manner.

For the Water Commission, by
W. W. PARKER,

Articles of incorporation of the Gilstrap Canning Company were filed in the county clerk's office yesterday. The incorporators are F. R. Stokes, J. R. Gilstrap and Charles E. Woodcock.
