thaler Linotype, and a complete com-tive purchasers. For further information, inquire of Samuel Elmore.

NEXT!

A truer statement of facts was never printed than in the valedictory editorial of yesterday's Astorian. It appears as a very peculiar comment on the judgment and intelligence of the population of a city claiming 8,000 residents, that they should not have the good sense for personal protection, if not for public spirit, to support a paper that has some degree of merit and ability, rather than patronize papers having no honest purpose to improve the interests of the city, either morally or financially.

When the Columbian and Astorian, for mutual protection, consolidated, The Astorian inherited the combined circulation, which it has held, and added to month by month; yet some of the short-sighted merchants of the city prefer to give their support to journals of very limited circulation, contrary to their own best interests.
What a blind policy, which, for the matter of a few dollars, confines the advertisement of goods to be sold to a few local readers! What is the object of advertising, if not to reach the greatest number of purchasers?

The Western Associated Press telegraphic report will be continued until I am convinced that the people do not care to pay for it. The Astorian will be of independent politics, friendly alike to republican and democrat.
Duly appointed agents will interview the public as to their desire for continued telegraphic information, and a pure morning journal that will, as in the past, be a credit to the intelligence and enterprise of the city. This canvass will be extensive, and if it be found that the citizens of Astoria prefer journals of a lower character than our standard, we will retire, and leave the field to such as are on a level with the expressed wish of the majority of the community. There is no sentiment in publishing a newspaper. It is strictly business and if the balance shows on the wrong side of profit and loss, the last issue will immediately follow this discovery.

The editorial chair will be occupied by J. R. Rathorn, with R. W. Gibson as city editor.

SAMUEL ELMORE.

In a period of depression it is indeed difficult for any man in business to keep an aggressive front and to act in every matter of his daily work as though his establishment were experiencing a flood of success and prosperity. But it is a duty, imposed on him, primarily for his own safety, and part of that duty, the principal part, if we may be permitted to say so, is increasing advertising. It has been proved without a doubt, by men who have made a lifetime study of such matters, that it is the small advertisement, constantly displayed, and not the fluctuating bill poster style of prominence in a paper that brings buyers and success to a business man.
When a merchant stops his advertisement he deliberately takes down his sign and hides it from the daily gaze of thousands of probable purchasers.
When he keeps it displayed he helps himself, he helps his home paper, and provided he advertises honestly and conducts his dealings with integrity, he lifts his wagon out of the rut and prosperes.

Turning to another subject, it is gratifying for us to be able to say that the subscription list shows a healthy increase. That it may continue to grow in The Astorian's earnest desire, and to bring about this result the paper will henceforth bear on its face evidence that it deserves the subscriber's patronage. What are the first two questions regarding our city?

"Where in Astoria, Oregon?"
"What does its leading paper look like?"

FUNERALS.

E. W. Kuykendall, the leading undertaker, having completed arrangements to purchase goods direct from the factories, regardless of middle men, has made a great reduction in the cost of funerals.

NATURE DEMANDS A TONIC.

We ought never to forget, even those of us who possess vigorous health, that we are wearing out—that the vital clock works so to speak, must eventually run down. This, of course, we cannot prevent, because it is in the ordinary course of nature, but we may retard the too speedy arrival of decay by the use of an invigorant which takes rank of every other—namely, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This century has not witnessed a parallel in success to this famous medicine, which not only sustains health by promoting vigor, but overcomes constipation, dyspepsia, chills and fever, nervousness, rheumatism, and other disordered conditions of the system fostered by weakness and an impoverished condition of the blood. The feeble, persons convalescing after exhausting disease, and the aged, derive infinite benefit from the use of this helpful and efficient tonic.

best demonstrated by the superior service it affords to the traveling public in maintaining two daily through trains to Omaha, St. Paul, Chicago and points east, appliances for the comfort and safety of its patrons. Besides shortening the distance materially with its fast trains. The present train schedule enables passengers to points. Forty hours quicker than any line from the Pacific Northwest.

land daily at 8:15 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

and everybody should take advantage of them to visit the World's Fair and

TOO OFTEN THE CASE.
INTERESTING PROOFS.

A young society lady, after a round of gayety, suddenly conscious of an unusual sensation. She has frequent attacks of dizziness, her back aches, and she feels blue and generally run down.

Mothers, look well to your daughters!
Daughters, look well to yourselves!
Let the first symptom denoting the approach of disease receive your instant attention. Healthy women are the hope of the race, and it is well-nigh criminal to neglect anything which promises relief.

There is hope for all sufferers from Nervous Disease. Read what follows: Mrs. Jennie C. Davis, a fine artist and an accomplished authoress, of Westfield, Wis., had been subject to headache ever since she could remember. So severe were her attacks as to cause at times temporary delirium.
All treatment had failed to relieve her, but after using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve she writes: "My record is to me, at least, satisfactory. No headache, constantly increasing appetite, and a consequent gain in weight of two and a half pounds in just one week."

Six weeks later she writes: "Have read and sewed immoderately of late, but my headaches do not return." Mrs. John B. Miller, of Valparaiso, Ind., was attacked three years ago with turn of life in its worst form. It finally went to her head, and all indications were that it would result either in insanity or softening of the brain. Her husband thus writes: "It would be impossible for me to attempt a description of her sufferings during all this time. She was treated by our very best local physicians, with but temporary benefit. She has taken four bottles of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve, and is cured. She has gained twenty pounds in weight. I tell you, she often blesses you for what you have done for her."

Recollect that for the CURE of all Nervous Diseases there is no remedy which approaches Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve. It is free from dangerous drugs and opiates. Sold by all druggists, on a positive guarantee, or
