AT CANNON BEACH

ular Resort.

UNRIVALLED AND MAGNIFICENT

Here Is the Sportsman's Paradise and the Holiday Seekers' Haven of Peaceful Rest.

There is no more beautiful spot on the coast than Cannon Beach, and it is safe to say that but few places will afford the summer visitor more real enjoyment for the same expenditure of money It is the sportsman's paradise, and lovers of the gun and rod can find plenty of fish and game in the mountains that form a background to the picturesque beach. Every stream is filled with speckled beauties the sight of which would throw into ecstacies even the least enthusiastic angler. The Austin House is the only hotel at Cannon Beach and, under the management of J. P. Austin, guests are assured of first-class accommodations. The hotel overlooks the ocean and commands a magnificent view up and down the beach. The scenery around the Austin House is in every sense grand. Arch Cape is but a short distance down the beach, and it is here that excellent salt water fishing can be obtained. Mussels, crabs, rock oysters, clams and other shell fish are found in abundance. From the hotel it is but two hours' walk over to the Necarney mountain, famous for its hidden treasure. Perhaps the grandest view in the country can be had from the trail that leads over this mountain. At a height of over a thousand feet, one can see from the Columbia river on the north to Cape Lookout on the south, with the restless ocean breaking on the rocks so far below that the noise of the breakers reaches one's ears only in a faint murmur. Other attractions at Cannon Beach are the fantastic looking rocks along the coast, and the peculiar ringing sand that forms the hard, white beach. The surf bathing is excellent and safe, there being but little undertow. The beach slopes gradually for quite a distance, and there are no dangerous holes to contend with. The Austin House stage meets the train at Seaside every other day and conveys passengers to and from Cannon Beach. Mr. Austin has expended a great deal of time and money in making his place what it is, and people visiting the coast can find no more attractive spot to spend a few days in rest and recreation than at this popular resort For rates at the Austin house and information regarding the beach, address J. P. Austin, Cannon

A VIOLENT COMMOTION.

In the stomach and bowels produced by a violent purgative and its consequent drenching action, never are, because it is impossible they should be followed by permanent good effects. No specific which weakens and convulses the organs for whose relief it is used can do good. Blue pilis, calonal, podyphylfin, salts and senna, vegetable or mineral pilis, are drastic remedies generally void of benefit. A reliable and effective substitute for them is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which effects a change both natural and thorough in the bowels when they are constipated. A sufficient and regular secretion of bile by the liver and sound digestion are also promoted by its use. Maiaria in all its forms, rheumatism and kidney trouble are obviated by this fine reformer of disordered conditions of the system. A wineglassful three times a day is about the dose.
