FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS

THE MURDERER CAPTURED.

The suspected murderer of Snellman has been caught.

The circumstances which led to Reit er's identification as the murderer, and the story of the arrest, forms quite an interesting chapter in the detection of criminals, and shows conclusively that at the time when Sheriff Smith appeared to be doing least in the direction of apprehending the murderer, he was in reality most active and rapidly completing a chain of circum stantial evidence which will be instrumental in having meted out to Reiter a fitting punishment for his most hor rible crime Sheriff Smith was first notified of Snellman's disappearance on August 12th, by Otto Johansen, the employe of the murdered man. Johansen stated that Snellman had last been seen ir the company of a stranger whose appearance, as was afterward proven e described with a fair degree of exactitude. With this slight clue the sheriff began his work, and was soon in ossession of the information that J R. Reiter, the man now under arrest and that he answered the description man's company. Reiter went to Portrived here, and remained there until the 11th, when he went to Oregon City. Within twenty-four hours after learn-4th and the 11th, and had him quietly shadowed pending definite news of Spellman's fate. The finding of the murdered man's body was not reported to the sheriff until Saturday last, the 19th, when he went to the scene day and telegraphing the Oregon City chief of police to arrest Reiter. Deputy Dell Mooer started for Oregon City on the day following, and was accompanied by Wm. Kohler, an employe of N. Hilleary, at Olney, who had seen the man described by Johansen in that vicinity of the landing. It was not the intention of Sheriff Smith to make public the fact of the arres until the murderer was behind the bars, but the friends of Snellman in Uniontown were excited over the affair, and inclined to the belief that because the sheriff had made no statement of his progress, he was still in the dark. Ex-Chief Barry believed that the man wanted was a relative of Mary Cook, and having stated that he ould get bim, Andrew Johnson, an uncle of Snellman, went to the sheriff and said, he was about to engage Barry in the case. Sheriff Smith was then forced to give the information that the murderer was already in safe keeping, and that he would arrive in this city today by the Telephone in custody of
