AT CANNON BEACH.

Correspondence of The Astorian.)

Thre are more people at Canno and Brighton beaches this year than over before, the past week being an unusually lively one here. Every cottage on the beaches from Elk Creek to Arch Cape, is filled with summer visitors, and numerous camping parties from Portland and other up-river points are enjoying the sea breezes and the excellent hunting and fishing that can be found back a short distance from the coast. The hotels are filled with guests coast. The hotels are filled with guests and rooms are booked until the latter part of September.

Next season there will be a number of new cottages on this beach, several contracts having already been let. Lewis and Flanders, the two Portland gentlemen who have alread spent sevand thousand dollars on their Scal Reck place, will build new cottages and a private hotel, early next year. The contract for lumber has been awarded to the Seaside sawmill, and hauling will commence at once.

A couple of anglers went out one day last week on the South Fork of Elk Creek and in a few hours returned with 27 dozen speckled trout, many of which weighed over one pound each.

At the Elk Creek House are twenty Portland young ladies and gentlemen.
