GOVERNORS WEPT TOGETHER

Two of the Insane Cranks Embrace Each other in Public.

THE BLOODY SHIRT ONCE MORE

Tillman and Llewellyn Celebrated a Little Love Feast and both became Hysterical.

Associated Press.

St. Louis, Oct. 5.—The last day of the Pan-American Bimetallic Convention opened an hour late. The question came then upon the adoption of the report of the resolution committee.

At the afternoon session of the bimetallic league, Governor Tillman of South Carolina made an address. He declared that the financial question presented but another form of slavery, white slavery. As to sectionalism, every section would vote as its interests demanded. He had no apologies to make for the attempts to secure honest government by honest men unawed by the bayonets of Grant's soldiers. He cited statistics and showed that the West and South could control the president and the senate and come within nine of a majority of the house, and these men could be picked up east of the Mississippi. Would the West meet the South?

Governor Llewellyn answered, "What would the governor of South Carolina ask? Had not Kansas sent ex-Confederates to congress? Was not this an olive branch of peace? Was it not a sufficient pledge that the issue was dead, that the bloody chasm had been crossed and that the West was prepared to do her part?"

As Governor Llewellyn closed, Governor Tillman rose and the two governors grasped hands on their common platform amid cheers, which subsided only when the convention was exhausted.

THE FINAL DETAILS.

Horrible Results of Louisiana's Fearful Catastrophe.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 5.—The storm horror continues to grow in the frightful loss of property and life hour by hour as the reports come in, though it is believed that approximately the full details are now at hand. In the Pointe a la Hache country, the death list is swollen to 83, with a prospect of reaching a hundred before all are heard from. At Shell Beach and St. Malo Island the loss is about 30. In Mississippi Sound and vicinity, probably a score have been reported. The Chantolleur Islands are swept away with great loss of life and property. The loss of life in the Cook Bayou country will approximate 200. News from Grand Isle this morning places the loss of life there at not above 25, all negroes. The property damage is $100,000. In Cheniere, the population is about 1,400 and the loss of life from 900 to 1000. Seventy-two were drowned in Chinese camps on Bayou Senet and Bayou Andre. The estimated aggregate loss of life in the storm is between twelve and fifteen hundred. The property loss is several millions. Fifty-seven bodies were found in the vicinity of Grand Prairie, and at the old quarantine station at Bayou du Font, 10 were drowned. Coffins were out of the question and the unidentified were buried in trenches. The sufferings of the survivors are being relieved as much as possible and the second shipment of supplies was sent in this morning. Dead bodies are floating around on every side. The situation is unparalleled in the history of the South.

BIG ELEVATOR DESTROYED.

La Grande, Or., Oct. 5.—A fire last night destroyed the elevator of the Pacific Coast Elevator Company, the largest at any interior point on the coast. The origin of the fire is unknown. When it was discovered the entire eastern end of the building was enveloped in flames. The grain destroyed in the elevator amounted to about 40,000 bushels, the largest individual loss being A. B. Conley, the Grande Ronde valley wheat king, who had upwards of 20,000 bushels in the burned building. The loss on the building and machinery is estimated at $50,000.

IMMENSE LUMBER RAFT BUILT.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 5.—On the next trip of the steamer National City to this port from Coos Bay she will probably have in tow one of the largest cigar shaped rafts that has ever come to this city. The raft is 65 feet in length, with a beam of 42 feet and draws 16 feet of water. There are 2515 piles in the raft, aggregating 4,100,000 feet of lumber. The raft has already been constructed and is ready to be towed here, but as the draught of water on the bar would not permit the raft being brought over, high water is waited for. The raft is consigned to the San Francisco Bridge Company.

It is not likely that a second raft of the same dimensions will be built, as there is too much difficulty in bringing it here.

DOINGS IN THE HOUSE.

The Negro Representative Once More Scores the Southern Democrats.

Washington, Oct. 5.—In the house, Colonel Oates called up the bill repealing the statute requiring affirmative proof of the loyalty of pensioners, of wars previous to the late war, and also permitting such pensioners to secure bounty lands earned by service in the Mexican and Indian wars. At the suggestion of Burrows, the bill was withdrawn. Oates then called up a bill disqualifying United States judges from sitting in cases in which they had ever been interested as counsellor, or by ties of consanguinity, and it passed, with a bill permitting boiler inspection at the place of manufacture, and also the bill including the secretary of agriculture in the list of presidential successors.

The bill restoring the property of the Mormon church, now in the hands of a receiver, in accordance with the provisions of the Edmunds-Tucker act, to that church, passed. The consideration of the Tucker bill was resumed. Murray taking the floor for the completion of the speech he began yesterday. The colored man declared that no gambler or conjurer ever devised more plans to defraud his victims than those conducted by Southern democratic politicians to rob men of his race of their votes. He applied such epithets as "murderers," "thieves," and "ballot-box rappers," to the Southern democratic politicians and appealed eloquently to the Northern democrats, Western populists, and patriotic republicans everywhere to resist the passage of this nefarious bill. He announced that the bill was a step in the direct abrogation of the thirteenth, fourteenth, and fifteenth amendments and called on the people of his race to mark well every man who voted for this bill. "But even if the bill passes," said Murray, "I cannot believe but the good and philanthropic man in the White House is too humane to strike down the legal walls that protect the black man."

RAILROAD STATISTICS.

Some Very Interesting Figures From the Commerce Commission.

Washington, Oct. 5.—The fifth statistical report of the interstate commerce commission just submitted, shows a total railway mileage in this country on June 30th, 1892, of 171,563 miles. The increase during the year, 3,160 miles, being the smallest reported for a number of years. The total number of employees, $21,417, an increase of 37,130. A capitalization of 162,397 miles covered by the report, shows $10,226,748,134. The gross earnings from operations during the year are put at $1,171,407,343; the operating expenses, $780,997,996; and the net earnings, $390,409,347; the income of railways from investments, $141,960,782, making a net income from operations of $532,370,129. The number of railway employees killed during the year was 2,554, being less than in the previous year. The number of employees injured in excess of the previous year, being 23,267. The number of passengers killed was largely in excess of the previous year, being 376 in 1892, as against 293 in 1891; while the number of passengers injured was 2,227 in 1892, against 2,972 in 1891.

CAPTURED THE ROBBERS.

Plucky Posse of Sheriffs in a Fierce Fight in Montana.

Tacoma, Oct. 5.—The last of the Northern Pacific train robbers were captured this morning near Kalspell, Montana. Four of the robbers were taken and a fifth man, who was in company with them, One robber, John Chipman, was killed. The captured men are Charles Jones, alias Kincaid, wounded; Ben Hall, alias Ben Mattered, shot through the thigh and not expected to live; and Charles Brown. The name of the man caught with the robbers is unknown. A report to Assistant General Superintendent Dickenson says that the men were taken to Kalspell this afternoon, and from there will be taken to Livingston for trial. The bandits can be tried on three charges: robbery, murder of two if the posse, and robbing the United States mail train. The captors will get the $3000 reward.

WON BY THE AUSTRALIANS.

New York, Oct. 5.—The international cricket match between the Australians and the New Yorks, terminated today in the Australians' favor, the score standing Australians, 216; New Yorks, 159. The Australians will play a Philadelphia eleven on Saturday and Monday, and then will go to Boston, Chicago, Toronto, and on to San Francisco, where they will sail for home, late in November.

BOMBARDING RIO AGAIN.

London, Oct. 5.—A high British official received a dispatch from Rio Janeiro today saying that the insurgents were again bombarding the city.

THEY MUST RACE OVER AGAIN

Vigilant and Valkyrie in Light and Changeable Winds.

THOUSANDS WERE DISAPPOINTED

The British Yacht Had the Best of it though there was no Real Race to Judge by.

Associated Press.

New York, Oct. 5.—The first of the series of five races for the America cup between the British yacht Valkyrie and the American yacht Vigilant, was sailed today. The course was to be fifteen miles to windward, or leeward and return, the yachts to cover the course in six hours. At 4:35 p. m., the Valkyrie led by a mile. There was no race as the time limit was exceeded.

Baffled by light and variable winds, the yachts Vigilant and Valkyrie started today on the first of the international races for the America's cup but were compelled to abandon the contest. The English cutter was then a mile in advance of the Vigilant and the point from which they started almost six hours before, yet miles away. It was a keen disappointment to the thousands who had stood by the rails and clung to vantage ground on board the steamers all day. The overpowering attraction of the big race between the English and American prize winners drew the biggest throngs that ever sailed to Sandy Hook to see a yacht race and every boat was crowded. There was as a matter of fact, no actual contest between the yachts, but under today's conditions, it has to be admitted that the Valkyrie had everything her own way. The little wind prevailing, was close to due northwest and the regatta committee decided that the boats should start away to leeward for the first fifteen miles, and return to the windward. The international racers were lying close to the starting point, busy with preparations till well on to 11 o'clock, when they began to make sail. There was a general remark that the Vigilant's sail area was greater than her opponent's. When the preparatory gun was fired the Valkyrie came round and found a position under the Vigilant's lee quarter. Both boats then headed for the line. It only took forty seconds after the starting gun was fired for the Vigilant to get over the line. The English boat was about six lengths behind. When two miles out the centre boarder gained half a minute in time, apparently.

During the first two miles the breeze freshened up but scarcely had the spurt made itself known than it died out and there was less air than prevailed previously. From then the boats entered into a drifting match. They were about six miles out with the Vigilant pretty nearly half a mile ahead, when the accident of the day occurred. She lost her wind and could not hold her helm. It was fully a quarter of an hour before the Vigilant made any indication of picking up again. By that time her adversary was so far ahead that it was generally conceded that the English boat must win the race unless a good stiff breeze should spring up. The wind began to haul to the south and the yachts had to make a tack to reach the outer buoy. In this work the Vigilant gained a little on the Valkyrie. The Valkyrie rounded the buoy amid the wild shriekings of steam whistles. Twenty-six minutes after this the Vigilant made the turn with even greater clamor. She was a mile behind and had to allow over a minute and three-quarters. When about half the homeward journey had been completed Lord Dunraven, who was on his own boat hailed his tug, asked for a tow line and brought her back to the bay under steam power. The Vigilant did the same thing. There will be no race tomorrow, but another attempt will be made on Saturday.

BLOUNT'S QUEER REPORT.

Washington, Oct. 5.—"The nature of Mr. Blount's recommendation regarding the annexation question," says a morning paper, "is to the effect that no action should be taken by the United States without the full consent of the natives as well as the foreigners. If Cleveland adopts the recommendations submitted, it practically means that the queen will be restored to power. Each of the native votes is to be equal to that of the foreigner, and it will mean further, the complete ascendancy of Claus Spreckels, the sugar king."

FIGHTING AGAINST CLEVELAND.

Some More Bitter Opposition to the Acts of the President.

Washington, Oct. 5.—The senate today on a motion of Voorhees proceeded in executive session to the consideration of the presidential appointments for positions in the territories, which had violated the home rule plank in the democratic platform. Speeches were made in opposition to the appointments by Hill of New York, and Davis, and Washburn of Minnesota, and others. Hill's speech criticised such appointments in general as a violation of the democratic platform. Some of the president's friends defended the appointments on the ground that the appointments so made were all of a strictly national character. Voorhees and Haley spoke on this line. The opponents of confirmation believe that they can defeat the administration. They count on all republicans and on Senators Hill and Murphy of New York, Allen of Nebraska, Martin of Kansas, and possibly Roach of North Dakota.

SOME SENSIBLE TALK.

A Rational and Honest View of the Money Question.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 5.—The republican state convention to nominate an associate justice of the supreme court and regents of the University, met here today. District Judge A. C. Harrison, of Hall county, was nominated for associate justice. On the question of finance and silver, the platform says: "The American people from tradition and interest favor bimetallicism and the republican party has demanded the use of both gold and silver as standard money with such restrictions and under such provisions to be determined by legislation as will secure the maintenance of the parity of values between the two metals, so that the purchasing and debt paying power of the dollar, whether silver or gold, shall be at all times equal."

TROUBLE WITH STRIKERS.

Wallace, Idaho, Oct. 5. The Union miners of Canyon Creek have decided to go on with the strike and not accept the tender of the mine-owners for $3.50 per day for miners and $3 for carmen and shovelers.

The Butte Union which has loaned the local unions a considerable amount of money, sent in delegates and demanded that the strike be carried on. The mine owners say they will put competent men to work as fast as they can get them.

NOMINATED A SCOUNDREL.

Saratoga, N. Y., Oct. 5.—The democratic state convention met here this morning and Isaac Maynard was named for judge of the court of appeals. The committee on credentials began its work of hearing contests which occupied the entire day. Even if the anti-party contestants are admitted, the Hill men will have control of the convention. For this reason it has been decided to deal gently with the anti-snappers. There are contests in fourteen districts.

IN THE DIM DISTANCE.

Tacoma, Oct. 5.—A movement has been successfully started to hold a general Northwest Coast Fair in this city during the months of August, September, and October of next year. All the coast states and Idaho, Nevada, Montana, Alaska, and British Columbia, will be invited to participate. The buildings of the Exposition here are to be enlarged for the purpose. Subscriptions to the fund have already been made.

BIG WHISKY FIRM GONE.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 5.—The well known whisky firm of Bartley Johnson & Co., has suspended. The attorney for the firm says the amount involved is about $400,000, with assets double that sum.

ATTENDANCE AT THE FAIR.

Chicago, Oct. 5.—The attendance at the Fair today, was 213,882, of which 179,965 paid.
