

LIKE PLENTY OF LIGHT.

"A pair of nippers and half a dozen eighteen-inch gas-burner tips," was the order given by a jaunty young woman who visited a hardware store the other day. "That lady," said the proprietor after her departure, "is an actress and is just going on the road. All theatrical people, while travelling on the road, carry nippers and tips with them. The managers of hotels in small towns try to save gas by putting bits of cotton in the bedroom burners, thus impeding the flow. The minute an actor strikes a light and detects this he pulls out his nippers and tips. Oh, comes the faked burner and on goes one that has the full head of gas come through. Before leaving he arranges things as he found them and goes merrily along to get the better of the next economical landlord on his route."

THE MOUND-BUILDERS.

THEIR WORKS AND RELICS.

BY EV. STEPHEN D. PEET, Ph. D.

EDITOR OF AMERICAN ANTIQUARIAN.

Author of Animal Effigies and Emblematic Mounds, etc.

This book treats of the Mound-builders; their occupation, modes of life, religious systems, tribal divisions and early migrations. The work contains descriptions of the earthworks of all classes. The classification of the mounds is made according to their uses, whether as village residences, as defenses, as religious structures, or as sacrificial or burial places. The work contains many illustrations and descriptions of Mound-builders' relics, especially pipes and pottery. The value of the book is that it contains a comprehensive view of the whole field, and gives information about the mounds and relics of all states and districts. It is one of a series which is devoted to prehistoric America, and perhaps would be regarded as the most interesting volume. The author solicits subscriptions. Orders can be sent to the publishing house, 75 Wabash avenue, Chicago, or to the author at Avon, Ill.
