Associated Press

Washington, Oct. 23 .- The senate met at 10 o'clock this morning. The legislative day of October 17th continues. The consideration of the silver repeal bill was resumed. Jones, of Nevada, resumed his argument in opposition to

The opinion is now general that the empromise bill will never be introluced in the senate. The reason for this is that the compromisers have been unable to get a sufficient number of pledges to guarantee the passage of the bill. The most authentic statement of bill. The most authentic statement of the number of pledges makes it thirtynine, or four short of a majority. The pledges are all from democrats. The republicans have been appealed to to help them out, but have all, repeal and silver men alike, refused to join the movement. The repeal republicans refuse because of the failure to provide for the bond issue and because of the for the bond issue and because of the the short time the Sherman law is to be continued. There is a belief that the two republican factions might unite the two republican factions might unite upon the bill, and with the aid of the populists and possibly a few democrats, pass it. However, they are still at work among the members, and even hope to bring the president to their way of thinking, In cases of absolute failure, the senate may either adjourn to December 1st, press the bill on the present plan, or attempt to secure the cloture. Doubtless Hill will press the cloture resolution if he is sure of sufficient assistance.

will make an effort to agree upon the measure, which hardly seems probale, and will try to get the democratic senators' assistance or sufficient of it to put the bill through. It now develops that there are eight democrats who have not signed the agreement to support a compromise. They are Mills, Hill, Mitchell (Wisconsin), McPherson, Vilas, Voorhees, and Irby. About the only definite announcement made after the compromise was declared off, was that there would be no effort tomorrow at the cloture, and the silver men have reorganized their forces and are prepared to continue the fight indefinitely. Whether this is given out in carnest or for a purpose, some silver senators have announced that when they heard that the compromise bill would not be presented, they would make no more factious opposition, but would give way as soon as the prepared speeches were concluded and let the repeal bill pass. There can be little doubt that Senator Voorhees had this in his mine early in the day when he said that he would ask for an adjournment, he cut off all possibility of taking up that question tomorrow. Senators Palmer and McPherson and other repeal senators had a long conference with the president of an adjournment, he cut off all possibility of taking up that question tomorrow. Senators Palmer and McPherson and other repeal senators had a long conference with the president of an adjournment, he cut off all possibility of taking up that question tomorrow. Senators Palmer and McPherson and other repeal senators had a long conference with the president of an adjournment, he cut off all possibility of taking up that question tomorrow. Senators Palmer and McPherson and other repeal senators had a long conference with the president of the senator palmer expressed the seniments of the executive.

There is no mistaking the fact that inany silver democratic senators feel greatly relieved that the compromise amendment will not be offered. They say that they surrendered all their convictions contrary to their best judgment, and th that Senator Palmer expressed the sentiments of the executive.

There is no mistaking the fact that many silver democratic senators feel greatly relieved that the compromise amendment will not be offered. They say that they surrendered all their convictions contrary to their best judgment, and that they are more than willing to have the administration take the responsibility of not accepting a settlement. Some repeal senators who have heretofore stood staunchly by the administration, are also criticising the course which has been pursued in the compromise matter by the administration. The senators opposed to unconditional repeal are still laboring to secure a majority of the democratic senators in favor of a compromise. One of them said tonight that they had sesured, including Senator Daniel, who signed today, 33 names.

WORKING FOR THE FAIR.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Director-General M. H. DeYoung, of the Mid-Winter Fair, arrived here today and had conferences with a number of delegations desiring to make exhibits at that exposition. Mr. DeYoung this afternoon entered into a contract with Capt. Holmes, representing the Canadian government, for a mineral and agricultural exhibit by the dominion.

HELD UP A CONSTABLE

Tacoma, Oct. 23.—Policeman M. Ja-cobs was held up between three and four this morning on his beat. He thought he heard a noise in a butcher shop on C street and started to investigate about the rear of the building. As he was turning the corner a man shoved a pistol under his nose and said: "Throw up your hands, you blue coated hound." Jacobs did so, "Now get out of here. You are not wanted. See?" Jacobs saw. Arriving at the nearest police signal station he telement for help. On arrival they found that the men had attempted to open a safe with a poorly contrived ratchet and bit, but had left before accomplishing their purpose.

PUTTING UP THE MONEY.

Krng's Defalcations Will Not Cost Se attle Very Much.

Seattle, Oct. 22.—The bondsmen of Adolph Krug, the defaulting city treasurer, together with the banks of the city, have made arrangements to return to the city treasury the amount of his shortage. The actual amount in which Krug defaulted was$206,273. The y took possession of warrants, notes, checks and other securities found in his vaults amounting to $82,706, leaving a net deficit of $122,567. The bondsmen have also made arrangements with the have also made arrangements with the banks by which some of the heaviest borrowers of the city funds will be able to reduce this amount by $40,000, leaving about $86,000 for Krug and his leaving about $80,000 for Krug and his bondsmen to put up. Owing to the financial depression but few of the bondsmen were able to meet their share. To save the credit of the city the clearing house banks furnished the $86,000, taking security for the loan. The proposition was submitted to the council tonight and will probably be acceuted tomerrow.

FOSTER IN MORE TROUBLE.

He Is Sued by a Female Creditor of

His Old Firm. Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 23.—A Leader special from Tiffin, Ohio, says that a suit was begun tonight by Mrs. Anna Ball, of Fostoria, one of the creditors of ex-Governor Foster, to enjoin the of ex-Governor Foster, to enjoin the transfer of certain property, real and personal. Seventern defendants are named. The principal ones are exGovernor Foster and his mother. The firm, it is alleged, was insolvent two years ago, and in October, 1883, Charles Foster deeded his homestead and other real property to his mother, who in turn deeded it to his wife, but the deed was not recorded until the day of the assignment, on May 26, 1893; that on March 21st, 1893, Charles Foster and his wife deeded $110,000 worth of property to William L. Harkness, a creditor, but the deeds were not recorded until after the assignment.

cloture resolution if he is sure of sufficient assistance.

Voorhees stated this afternoon that he would close today's session and end the legislatieve day of Tuesday by moving an adjournment till tomorrow. It is surmised that this action may be for the purpose of putting matters in to shape for bringing up the cloture question. When it became apparent today that the compromise scheme had failed, the silver men renewed their old tactice of calling for a quorum.

The prevailing opinion in the senate late this afternoon was that the efforts to secure a compromise on the democratic side will not be renewed. There are indications that there will not be many more speeches, and when these are concluded the voting must necessarily begin. The republican senators will make an effort to agree upon the measure, which hardly seems probable, and will try to get the democratic senators' assistance or sufficient of it to AN AFFAIR IN NEBRASKA.

APPLAUDED FOR HIS THEORIES

He Says that the Senate Must be Ruled By the Majority or it Must Die.

Associated Press in thousands gathered in the big Acad-Senator David B. Hill speak. It was nnounced as a grand democratic ratiecasion to have a long series of resoutions printed and distributed. The resolutions contained a pledge to support Cleveland and the national dem-port Cleveland and the national democratic administration and demanded a prompt and absolute repeal of the silver purchase clause of the Sherman act. When Senator Hill came to the front the great crowd cheered and half the audience rose to its feet. Speaking of the Sherman law, he said:

"The law is illogical in its construction, vicious in its tendencies, and injurious in its operation. The president of the United States, Grover Cleveland, has performed a patriotic act in promptly convening congress and recommending the repeal of the Sherman law. In a desperate attempt to prevent or delay the passage of this bill, the freedom of debate has been abused. No matter what may be the necessity for a change in the senate rules has been abundantly demonstrated. necessity for a change in the senate rules has been abundantly demonstra-ted. I promise you that the effort for a change will be continued irrespective of the fate of the present bill. The ma-jority must be permitted to dominate, and control its proceedings, or else all legislation will become impossible."

DOINGS IN THE HOUSE.

Washington, Oct. 23.—The house today passed the printing bill, and also the bill to provide for a steam revenue cutter on the great lakes. Chairman Sayres, of the appropriations committee, has served a notice on his democratic colleagues, that, unless they joined with him in economising, this
