THE REAL ARGUMENT.

Natural resources are so large on this planet compared with human needs that it is certain that any natural product earnestly desired and diligently sought for will manifest itself in de some future Edison may solve the extraction of these small particles, saying nothing of the possible discovery of other Californias and Australias. In a few decades the silver problem will be transmuted into the gold problem

As everything must have a name, these pieces may be called what they are-"disks."

fewer disks of silver to equal it.

Had the disk proposition been in operation in previous years, the seller is 1873 would have demanded about 1514 disks of silver for one disk of gold now he would require 25 silver disks, and there would have been no compli cation about it, and no possible panie to far as silver was concerned.

The disk proposition would render available for money all the silver and gold in the world, without the possibility of loss or injury, except from such characteristics as inhere and are common to the ownership of every kind and description of material wealth. Should the seller unticipate a probable diminution in the value of gold, he could state his price in silver disks. and the borrower on mortgage, by pay ing a bonus for the privilege, could pay his future mature debt in either metal at his option. The Gresham law holds good only under the present system of flat money, that is, while the government can declare gold or anything else to be a legal tender. But the Gresham law would vanish into thin air under the disk dispensation, for there would be no cheaper money to drive out the dearer, both kinds of money being kept constantly equally available by the laws of trade, free from governmental arbitrary interference.

The "Pomeroy Independent" ass is offended again. He says: "We see that the editor of the New York World has revamped, liminated, and emendated what this paper said some months ago on the advisability of the final consummation of one great republic of all the republics and kingdoms of the western hemisphere. While it is unfair, without credit, for the gentleman to appropriate our ideas, we do not object to a donation of the brain in so laudable and far-reaching subject us that discussed in Harper's by the learned editor who stole his ideas from an issue of this paper some months ago."

Fong Chung, a full-blooded Chinese is now acting United States consul at Amoy, China. As such he has the power to try Americans resident in Amoy for breeches of the United States law, to which alone they are subject, a situation that is regarded as singular in connection with the present surtery seniout the Chinese in this country. Fong Chung wears a queue, and dresses throughout in the Chinese fashion, but speaks English perfectly, and is well posted on the affairs of the world, having been educated as a boy in France, and afterwards at Yale. He occupies his present position on account of the resignation of the consul and vice-consul, having been himself the interpreter and secretary, Their departure left him the ranking official.

There was a moment of deep interest at the Madeleine during the funeral of Marshal MacMahon when

"Count Muenster, German Ambassador his head uncovered, stepped out. An officer of the Red Hussars, with a silver eagle on his glittering helmet, fcllowed, and behind him came two giant nearest the church. Muenster made sign to a footman, and a landau carrying Emperor William's wreath, was driven to the curb. The wreath was of natural violets, tea roses, and carnations, among which hung a large silver

W. The dropping of a pin could have been heard in the Place de la Made eine as the Germans mounted the steps and walked into the church, saluting as they passed the coffin."

Hon. James W. Husted, while serving his sixth term as speaker of the Assembly of the state of New York, writes.

FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS

Every contract would be made for disks. When gold becomes abundant and cheap, as it certainly will, more disks of gold will be demanded and disks of gold will be demanded and gists throughout the world.

Attempt at Suicide.

It Might Have Been Prevented.

[From the Boston Post.] While the walks in the Public Garden were crowded yesterday afternoon about 4.30 o'clock, people near the entrance gates at the corner of Beacon and Charles streets were horrified to see a man suddenly plunge a knife repeatedly into his throat and fall to the ground.

While waiting for a conveyance an officer questioned the would-be suicide, who was about 50 years of age, as to his name, address, and reason for wishing to end his life, but the man steadfastly refused to give any information regarding himself. He was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital and surgical attendance given him. Although weak from loss of blood it is probable he will recover. About 9 o'clock last night a will recover. About 9 o'clock last night a hospital attendant got a little information from him. He said his name was Samuel -, and that he came some weeks ago from New Brunswick. The last few days his head has felt queer, and he has been wandering about the city, not knowing which way to turn. What impelled him to commit his rash act he was unable to say. The above is the familiar but terrible story of the results of mental decongement caused by overstrain of the nervous system. People who have diminess, headache or backache, or who are troubled with a locally or despondent feelings, are already well on the road which leads to insanity and swielde.

Revolution In Eating

has been brought about by the introduction of COTTOLENE, the new vegetable shortening. The discovery of this product, and the demonstration of its remarkable qualities, has attracted the widest interest. Hitherto the common shortening has been lard, or indifferent butter. Every one has probably suffered occasional discomfort from lard-cooked food; while it is well known that thousands are obliged to abstain entirely from everything of that kind. To such people, Cottolene is of peculiar value, widening as it does, the ange of what may be eaten and enjoyed. COTTOLENE is a cooking marvel. It combines with the food-imparts to it a tempting color, a delicate flavor, and an appetizing crispness. No trace of greasiness remains to offend the taste, or disturb the digestion.

COTTOLENE is worthy of the careful notice of all those who value good food, of itself or for its hygienic properties.
