LOCAL AND GENERAL.

ticn to the Astoria Public Library, which the lady managers inaugurated last summer, has been the salvation of that institution during the stress of hard times. The average running expenses of the library are about $60 monthly. In what other way could that amount of money be spent to be of greater service to the citizens of Astoria - employer and employers 15. Astoria - employer and employes? If you have any doubts as to the beneficence of the library, spend a few leisure moments each day in visiting it, and satisfy yourself. Examine the books, notice the class of people who frequent it, the rules that govern, etc., and if you ar satisfied (which we think you will be) that the library association is doing good work and merits your support, leave your name with the librarian as a regular donator of from 50 cents to $1.00 per month. A number of people were out of town when the donation list was made out last summer, and others the ladies failed to see. This notice is particularly for them. Ask the librarian to allow you to look over the list of gentlemen who have generously donated 50 cents or $1.00 1er month to keep the library going, and we think you will agree that they are business men who would not give money unless they believed it to be for the good of the city and citizens. Miss Bessie Rutter is engaged to do the collecting, which she will endeavor to do the 1st of each month. The lady managers wish to thank all those who have so generously responded to their calls for financial aid, and request those who have not and can do so to call at the library and leave their autographs.

The irrepressible lunatic who vends the Pomeroy Independent once a week other gifts the gods choose to fling to it, says; "The merchants of our cities hamed can command the situation and get the buik of the trade at the cities named, if they will pursue the lines of a liberal policy already laid down. There is no reason why they cannot rell all lines of goods as cheaply and pay even more for our products than Portland, which is fenced in by a dangerous bar at the mouth of the Columbia, and expensive and dangerous pilotage inland up the Columbia until such time as that mighty stream is opened for molasses, potatoes, and whatever time as that mighty stream is opened to free navigation from Kettle Falls to the sea. These are our convictions. sustained by the facts of the treasured past and the wisest ken of the brightest prophetic visions of the future." A little further on he remarks: "The prophetic writers of old always raised stomach, but on a full meal their prophecies were always of the mercies of the god on their coat of arms. The same spirit actuates the people in these democratic times." The emptiness of the stomach of the Independent liar when he told that falsehood about 'the Columbia River bar must have been appalling.

An accident occurred about noon las Saturday which resulted in the death several hours later of David Gerrard, v ho lives five miles southwest of Philomath, says the Corvallis Times. Mr Gerrard was en route to Philomath and while descending Bier's Hill, it is st-pposed that the brake of the wagon gave way, the wagon ran on to the horses and a runaway resited. After running over a couple of small stumps, the wagon struck a third and was over it rned. The unfortunate man was thrown out, the wagon seat fell across his back, and and the wagon bed fell or top of the seat. He was picked up phortiy after in an unconscious condition and was taken to the residence of Augustus Koverstein. Dr. Logan was summoned and found that six ribs were broken, and blood was pouring from his ears. Without recovering consciousness, Gerrard lingered until Sunday, 4 . m., when he died. The remains were interred in the Newton cemetery yesterday afternoon. Gerrard came to this county from Eugene about five years ago, and leaves a wife and four small children, who are said to be in straitened circumstances.
