Congress Failed to Provide the Ready Cash.

THE COST OF REGISTERING

All the Chinese Will Probably Hand in Their Names as Soon as Possible.

Associated Press.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Although congress has amended the Geary act so as to allow the Chinese six months more in which to register, it adjourned without making any appropriation to carry out the provisions of the act. The chairman of the committee on appropriations had cognizance of the necessity of the treasury department's need of money to carry out the law, and it is probable that if the urgency deficiency bill had passed the clause appropriating enough money at least to begin operations would have been inserted in the bill. As it is, the registrations under the act will not begin until the appropriations are made. Meanwhile the internal revenue bureau of the treasury department will make all its preparations and, as soon as the money is available, it will be prepared to assign its officers so that they can begin work at once. The bureau has assurances that an effort will be made to get the bill through in the early days of the session so that the work of registration will not be long deferred. It is said that all the Chinese now in this country, approximating 160,000, can be registered in 60 days, if they promptly take advantage of the opportunity.

FIGURES FROM WASHINGTON.

Interesting Statistics of the Work of Various Departments.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The chief of the bureau of statistics has issued a statement of the imports and exports of the United States for the nine months ending Sept. 30, 1893. They are: Imports, $625,331,972, and for the same period ending September 30, 1892, $656,166,909.

Exports, $587,940,111, and for the same period in 1892, $653,856,620.

The statement of gold coin and bullion for nine months of 1893, is as follows: Exports, $776,378,514; Imports, $65,663,632. Exports and imports of silver coin and bullion for nine months of 1893 are: Exports, $33,419,714; Imports, $15,006,254.

The treasury department figures show 439,517 immigrants arrived in the United States during the nine months ending September 30, against 476,643 arrived in the same period in 1892.

The annual report of the recorder of the pension office department points out the satisfactory operation of the new constitution of offices. The cases disposed of during the year numbered 203,204, and there were no cases on hand on June 30, 1893.

THE MIDWINTER FAIR.

Beautiful Buildings Are Going up Like a Touch of Magic.

San Francisco, Nov. 6.—The progress thus far made by contractors on the several main buildings of the Midwinter Fair, is highly satisfactory. The brick work of the art building is all completed. The iron roof and girders are on the premises, and, even if rain does set in, there will be little or no delay on the work. The mechanics and arts building may be said to be practically under roof. Another week of good weather will put the manufacturing building under cover, so there need be no fear that the buildings will not be ready in time. The most notable progress made during the past week has been in connection with the administration building, which has risen two stories in height during eight days. The various concessionaires are also making rapid progress.

IS GOING INSANE.

Train Dispatcher Cannot Stand the Result of His Carelessness.

Reno, Nev., Nov. 6.—It is reported that Mollen, the train dispatcher whose fatal error caused the collision on the Central Pacific last Sunday morning and the death of six men, is almost insane. He has been taken to Pyramid Lake to avoid excitement, as it is feared that his life will be endangered by the knowledge of the full details of the disaster. The names of the four tramps killed have been ascertained to be Leroy Norris, of Eldorado, Utah; Frank B. Small, of Waterville, Me.; J. A. Williams, of Portland, Ore.; and G. A. Trumbo. The coroner's inquest will be held Wednesday. In Williams' pocket was a paper bearing the address of J. J. Gorman, Fourth and Washington streets, Portland.

GOING TO OBSTRUCT.

Silver Men May Prove as Stupid as Irish Members of Parliament.

Washington, Nov. 6.—There are rumors that Voorhees will introduce the free coinage of silver bill at the opening of the regular session. Voorhees declines to talk about the matter, but it is pointed out that he has always been a silver man, and that he declared during the debate on the repeal bill that he was no less a friend of silver than he has always been. The silver men say that the fight is only begun. When congress assembles they propose to keep it well to the front in connection with every great issue between the parties, from the tariff to the repeal of the federal election laws. Indeed, it is intended that the silver men shall act as a body of obstructionists as did the Parnellites in the British parliament, till silver shall receive a hearing.

A SMUGGLER SHOT.

Whatcom, Wash., Nov. 6.—Harry Hall the smuggler who was arrested here about two weeks ago with eighteen 5-tal cans of opium in his possession, was shot today while attempting to make his escape from Deputy United States Marshal McGinnis, who had started to take him and Chin Kee Hong to Seattle for examination before the United States grand jury. Hall, as he calls himself, though admitting this is not his real name, was shot in the leg and taken back to jail. The wound is not dangerous, but will prevent his removal for a few days. The man seems to be well educated, and is said to belong to a good family.

A NOVEL SUIT.

Damages for Job Printing Against a Governor.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 6.—Governor Geo. W. Peck, Attorney General J. L. O'Connor, Assistant Attorney General J. W. Clancy, and Colonel Clarence L. Clark, were made defendants today in a suit brought by Tracy, Gibbs & Co., a job printing firm of this city, to recover $7,500 which is part of a large sum of money alleged to have been advanced last summer to enable the Madison Times to execute an order for printing an edition of the roster of the Wisconsin soldiers, specially given it by the governor. The Madison Democrat Company, the regular state printers, compelled the governor to cancel the order, but the money had already been swallowed up. The suit is brought against the defendants on the theory that they were all interested directly or indirectly in the Times. The suit has caused a political sensation.

NO VERDICT YET.

San Francisco, Nov. 6.—At 4 o'clock this afternoon the case of Nellie Horton, charged with the murder of Chas. Hagan, a telegraph operator, was given to the jury. At the close of the trial Miss Horton again went into a fit of hysteria, becoming so bad that Judge Wallace would not send her back to the county jail, but ordered the prisoner to be given into the custody of her sister, Mrs. Cummings, to be cared for. At 10 o'clock the jury was still out, and Miss Horton was at her sister's house under guard of a policeman.

POSTMASTERS APPOINTED.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The president has reappointed a number of postmasters who failed of confirmation. Among them is H. Brunk, of Ashland, vice A. P. Hammond, removed.

A NIGHT OF TERROR.

At a station on the Louisville and Nashville last winter the station-keeper had an exciting time. It was midnight, and the station being in a deserted part of the country, had been left by the station-keeper was not sleepy and determined to sit up the greater part of the night, especially as he had an unusually large sum of money in his cash drawer, and he felt uneasy about it. Robberies of stations and farmhouses down the line had been frequent. So he settled himself down to a vigil. As he felt hungry he took a can of oysters down from the shelf and set it on the stove. A moment after there was a knock at the door, and he admitted a cold, drenched tramp, whom he allowed to lie down by the fire. Just then a train came around the bend and the station-agent stepped outside to display the go-ahead signal. He felt distrustful of the tramp and feared that he would fool with the money drawer. As the train passed he hurried into the room and had scarcely opened the door and seen the tramp standing by the stove with something glistening in his hand, when there was a report and the agent felt a stinging sensation over the eye.

WHAT IT SIGNIFIES.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The elections throughout the country are awaited with great interest by public men in this city, who see in them an indication of the result of the presidential

CARLISLE ON SILVER

The Secretary's Bold Ideas on the Situation.

WILL NOT COIN SEIGNORAGE

Thoroughly in Accord with Cleveland in His Views about Finances.

Associated Press.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The treasury department today had an actual working balance not to exceed $2,000,000. If this becomes exhausted, the department will have to meet current obligations from the gold reserve. The treasury officials, however, hope for better times and believe that further loss will be stopped. It is predicted that the present coinage of gold between now and January 1st, will amount to $20,000,000.

New York, Nov. 6.—Mr. Carlisle, secretary of the treasury arrived here this morning. He declined to say anything in relation to the financial situation, or to express any opinion as to the outlook. In reply to a question from a reporter for the Evening Post, Carlisle said that he had not issued any order directing the mints to coin the silver bullion in the treasury, or any part of it.

"What I have done is just this," said Carlisle. "We could use a few more silver dollars, and I therefore directed the mints to get ready to coin bullion when it was deemed advisable to do so. It would take more than five years to coin all the silver bullion now in the treasury. If we should begin to coin it the seignorage would in round figures amount to more than $1,000,000 a month. With the certainty that the purchases of silver bullion will be stopped, we can probably use the silver to advantage. I should be sorry therefore to see any law passed, as was recently suggested, that we set aside that portion of the bullion that would become seignorage and coin it alone and at once and thus add to the treasury available cash. If we did that, I think the coin would come back to us in a way we should not desire to see. Something should be left to the discretion of the secretary. The law at present invests him with the authority to coin such of the silver bullion as may be necessary for the redemption of treasury notes."

A DESPERATE DUEL.

Spokane, Nov. 6.—A duel was fought last evening in the Selkirk saloon at Colville. Two miners, McDonald, formerly a bar-keeper, and Harrington, who had started the feud while at work in the Bonanza mine, fought out their differences. Eight shots were exchanged. McDonald was shot in the abdomen and will probably die. Harrington got a ball in the right thigh. Both the wounded men were brought to the hospital here tonight.

TEMPORARY COMMISSIONS.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The president has issued temporary commissions to a number of his nominees who failed of confirmation by the senate so that they can perform the duties of the offices pending the reassembling of congress. Among them are Robert E. Preston, director of the mint, and D. G. Browne, collector of customs for the district of Montana and Idaho.

MURDERED FOR GOLD.

Oklahoma City, Nov. 6.—A negro named Clark, his wife, and daughter, were found in a cabin in the country today with their throats cut and their skulls crushed in. Mrs. Clark is dead and the others cannot live. The deed was done by John Mulligan, a negro, who lived with them. His purpose was robbery.

CASH FOR HIS SERVICES.

San Francisco, Nov. 6.—Fred Shultz, who furnished the government officials with information leading to the seizure of 500 boxes of opium, on the steamer Romulus, has been awarded $1,000 by Judge Morrow.

election in 1896. Politicians look upon the election not as being an endorsement of the democratic party or a rebuke, but as an indication of public feeling. Viewed from a Washington standpoint, the elections are interesting as presenting the thoughts of the people on multifarious questions without involving any fresh political significance.

STRIKERS IN MARSEILLES.

Marseilles, Nov. 6.—The employes of the street car lines are on strike for more wages and fewer hours. They began rioting yesterday and continued today, aided and abetted by many citizens. Mobs have overturned many cars which the companies attempted to run, saturated them with kerosene and burned them. They also tore up the tracks and absolutely blocked traffic in some of the principal streets. The police are powerless, and it is thought it will be necessary to send soldiers to disperse the mob.

MORE TROUBLE IN THE CAMP.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—The democratic minority of the city council met in special session this morning for the purpose of electing a mayor pro tem, to succeed the late Mayor Harrison. No republicans attended, and the democrats instructed the sergeant-at-arms to bring them in at 5 p. m., to which time an adjournment was taken. Alderman Swift, republican, claims to have been elected at Saturday's special meeting.

WILL NOT LET THEM GO.

New York, Nov. 6.—It is believed here that the vessels bought by the Brazilian government will not be allowed to leave port on the ground that they are manned by American sailors hired for the express purpose of going to Brazil to fight. This is contrary to the United States laws.

A NOBLE ANIMAL DEAD.

Louisville, Nov. 6.—Longfellow, king of the turf, is dead. His death occurred at Lexington. He was foaled 26 years ago, and died of old age. He was the greatest race-horse of his time, and became the progenitor of the most famous line of turf performers in the history of this country.

AN ERRAND OF MERCY.

New York, Nov. 6.—The "World's" special Southern relief train consisting of eleven freight car loads of provisions contributed by the generous people of New York and vicinity for the sufferers at Brunswick, Ga., and the Sea Islanders, left Jersey City tonight.

THE ROAD TO RUIN.

Dallas, Tex., Nov. 6.—Charles Martin, the wealthiest young man in the city, shot and killed his mistress, Hattie Cole, today, and then killed himself.

A BIG FAILURE.

London, Nov. 6.—An examination into the accounts of Hallet & Co., navy agents and bankers, shows that their liabilities are nearly four million dollars. Several of the royal princes and most of the prominent naval officers among the unsecured creditors.

THE SWIPESVILLE BOOM.

The editor of the Swipesville Boom thus disparaged himself last week: The Boom is on the highroad to that substantial success which so becomes a journal of civilization and progress. Two years ago we hadn't a shirt to our back and now we own two.

The egg that our well-known citizen and subscriber John Bligger laid on our table last week will never be hatched. It was bad. Come again John.

We tender our thanks the Ladies' Aid Society of Swingtown for a loaf of home-made bread they sent us this week. We have bored a hole in it and inserted a handle, and find it useful as a mallet in making up our forms. We are thankful our wife wasn't born and raised in Swingtown.

There was a dog fight in Pewter alley Wednesday evening and everybody except two old ladies got to prayer meeting late. Wednesday evening is the wrong time for prayer meeting.

That political hustler, Sam Melton, was in town last week looking over the legislative field. Mr. M. subscribed for the Boom. We need such men as Hon. Samuel Melton to guide the ship of state.

Our fellow townsman, Dr. Billings, amputated the leg of the man who was injured three days ago in the sawmill with most satisfactory results, as the doctor always does.

Our young friend Tom Spangle became the husband of Miss Birdie Smith of Smith's Run, on Tuesday of last week. Miss Smith is worth $10,000 in her own right and Tom—well, Tom is the luckiest man in the county.

The report that we are about to get a steam press lacks foundation in fact. The Boom will still continue to be hand-made. Now is the time to subscribe.
