QUEEN LIL'S FUTURE

Cleveland Sticks to His Former Opinion.

MANY PUBLIC MEN DIFFER

Advisability of Gresham's Course is a Matter of General Comment.

Associated Press. Washington, Nov. 11.—The state and navy department officials are extremely reticent regarding what action is to be taken to carry out the policy announced by Secretary Gresham on the Hawaiian question. The navy department professes to know nothing of any order issued to carry out the restoration of the queen. If the United States minister has instructions to carry out the policy of the government he can call upon the government naval forces to assist him, but in this case that would devolve upon Minister Willis the duty of presenting his credentials to the present government, and then proceeding to take steps to depose it from power. There is almost as great embarrassment in another possible course, which is that Minister Willis may be accredited to Queen Lil, herself, and to her former government. Gresham argues that the provisional government expires by its own limitation, and that might involve the ignoring of the present government. But the present government has been equally recognized by the United States as a government "de jure."

Washington, Nov. 11.—It is probable that the instructions of Minister Willis to Hawaii are to ascertain whether the provisional government of Hawaii will consent to retire peacefully and make way for the restoration of Queen Liliouokalani. If they refuse to do this, Minister Willis will probably wait for further instructions. Minister Willis was due to arrive at Honolulu last Saturday. The United States is now represented at Honolulu by the flagship Philadelphia and the corvette Kearsarge. They are regarded as sufficient to enforce any contention of this government. So far as known no steps have been taken by the navy department to reinforce them in anticipation of trouble following the execution of the new policy of the United States. In case more ships are needed, it is regarded by some people as a strong probability that the Yorktown at Callao, the Alliance at La Libertad, and the Monterey, Mohican, and Ranger at San Francisco, all of which vessels could be concentrated at Honolulu in from two to four weeks' time, will be sent. Expressions of opinion by public men now in Washington upon the letter of Secretary Gresham on the Hawaiian affair are varied. Some emphatically approve of the sentiment expressed in the epistle, and others denounce it with great vehemence. Many politicians and public officials from modesty, courtesy, or policy, refuse to talk on the question at all. Everyone of them, however, is discussing the matter, and all are eagerly waiting further developments. Senator Morgan, chairman of the committee on foreign relations, is not at all pleased at the turn of affairs. He said that this government would not restore the queen. The administration has recognized the provisional government, and accredited its representatives, and they could not be discredited under the circumstances. Congressman Hill, of Illinois, takes deep interest in the subject, and in reference to it today, said: "I believe the policy of interference by our government on behalf of a monarchy is contrary to every tradition and impulse of the American people. As to the question of veracity between this administration on one side and Minister Stevens, Capt. Wilts, now dead, and five commissioners on the other side, all of whom are witnesses, we ought to have the full testimony of before holding them guilty of false statements and a conspiracy to be carried out by force and fraud. As yet we have no testimony whatever against them. Stevens bore a high character as a discreet and able representative of this government."

Senator Faulkner, of West Virginia, had only glanced at Secretary Gresham's letter, he said, but inferring that the main idea of Secretary Gresham's statement was the restoration of a monarchy in Hawaii, he could not understand how that could be brought about by the United States under existing conditions.

WON BY PORTLAND.

Portland, Or., Nov. 11.—The football game this afternoon between the amateur athletic club team of this city and the Tacoma athletic club team, resulted in a victory for Portland by a score of 18 to 6. The home team outplayed the visitors at every point. Though the Tacoma outweighed the Portlanders by 2 pounds, they were no match for the home team in the rush. The playing of Captain Joe Smith, McDonald, Page, and Ellsworth, of the Portlanders, was frequently applauded.

A DELEGATION.

West Virginians Visit McKinley and Congratulate Him.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 11.—West Virginia was the first state to send a body of representative citizens to Columbus to congratulate McKinley in person. Thirty citizens of Wheeling came here for this purpose on a special train this afternoon. B. Bart, of the Wheeling "Intelligencer," addressed the governor in behalf of the party. In part he said: "We have most prospered under the measure which bears your honored name; we have suffered most under the threat to wipe out that law." McKinley replied: "The people have spoken in a public protest against free trade. Our victory was aided by many democrats who were unwilling to vote for a policy which sacrifices the interests of the workingman and the prosperity and patriotism of the country. I shall be glad when West Virginia shall with a fair and full vote, record itself for the republican principles and policy, which will mean success for your industrial state."

THE COUNTY OFFICERS.

Multnomah's Taxpayers Intend to Make an Investigation.

Portland, Nov. 11.—At a meeting of taxpayers tonight the reports of the committees who were appointed several days ago to endeavor to secure a reduction in the assessment and to investigate the conduct of county officials in relation to the county finances, were read and adopted. The report of the committee to investigate the county officials reflected severely on their method of doing business and the committee had gone so far as to request prosecuting attorney Hume to issue warrants for the arrest of the sheriff, county clerk, and treasurer, for the purpose of fining them for not making up and publishing their reports as required by statute. The prosecuting attorney had refused to issue warrants on the ground that the grand jury now in session were investigating the county matters. A committee of seven, with ex-Senator Corbett as chairman, was appointed to wait upon the state board of equalization for the purpose of securing a reduction of Multnomah county's assessment. The committee appointed to investigate the county officials was instructed to pursue its investigations. The committees already in existence were empowered to increase their number to one hundred from the tax payers of the county to be known as the committee of safety, who are to render their moral and financial support.

WAITING FOR DEVELOPMENTS.

Merchants Scared to Let Their Goods Go to Honolulu.

San Francisco, Nov. 11.—Hawaiian Consul Wilder was disagreeably surprised today when he presented a draft drawn on the provisional government at the bank and the bank refused to honor it. It was explained to him by the bank officials that they did not know what might happen in Honolulu when the contents of Secretary Gresham's letter became known there, and they did not care to take any risks. Heretofore drafts on the provisional government have been paid without question. It is also stated that the merchants here are uneasy about the situation, and they are making no shipments of freight to Honolulu on the Monowai, which leaves here next Thursday. They are waiting to see what is going to happen.

THERE IS COLLUSION.

All the European Anarchists Believed to be Banded Together.

Paris, Nov. 11.—A high Spanish police official has arrived here on a special mission connected with the recent dynamite bomb outrage at Barcelona. Several arrests of French anarchists suspected of complicity in the Lycee theatre of complicity in the Lycee theatre, believed that an investigation will result in disclosures showing that the anarchists of Europe are acting in concert and that all the recent dynamite outrages and conspiracies have been carefully planned by a central committee, whose headquarters have not yet been located.

WON BY YALE.

New York, Nov. 11.—The Yale and the University of Pennsylvania football eleven met at the Manhattan field today. It was not a championship game, as the university has withdrawn from the league. Big interest was manifested nevertheless. It was a well-played game on the whole, on both sides, and ended in favor of Yale by a score of 14 to 6.

EXPLOSION IN A DRUG STORE.

Warsaw, Nov. 11.—A dispatch from the Russian-Polish town of Litovsk says that an explosion in a chemist's shop has killed twenty-one people, and wounded many more.

COOL ROBBERS THESE

Plundered a Morning Passenger Train.

POLITE TO THE ENGINEER

They Get away with a Nice Little Sum, and Never Came Back.

Associated Press. Cairo, Ill., Nov. 11.—The Illinois Central train has been held up at Mayfield Bridge, Ky., eight miles south of here, by five masked men. The robbers secured a small amount of cash and a valuable package, the contents of which are unknown. There is no clue to the perpetrators. The package is said to have contained fourteen hundred dollars. The robbers also robbed the passengers, getting but little, however. Bloodhounds have been sent from Paducah, Ky., to track the robbers. The passengers were not disturbed. The robbery was so well planned that there was scarcely any excitement. Three men climbed the engine tank. One covered the engineer with a revolver and addressed him by his right name, saying politely, "Mr. Clark, pull out as soon as you can." He told the engineer that he had no wish to hurt him, but would kill him if he disobeyed. Fireman Butler ran away and hid on the engine pilot. One of the robbers fired the engine like an old timer, from Bardwell to Port Jefferson. Here the engineer was instructed to stop the train at the Mayfield trestle. There the robbers sent the engineer ahead of them at the point of the pistol and shot guns to the express car. Engineer Clark called to Messenger McNeil to open the door as commanded by the robbers and the engineer told the messenger not to shoot, the robbers using him as a target. The car was opened, and the robbers secured two packages of money, one of a small amount and the other said to contain $7,000. The messenger had hidden other valuable packages. The incidents of the holdup were so quick that the passengers on the train were not aware of what was taking place ahead. The robbers escaped.

RODE INTO THE TOWN

And Shot at Everybody They Saw on the Street.

Paris, Ky., Nov. 11.—Last night eight strangers rode into North Middletown. It is supposed to be their intention to rob the bank. They shot at every person on the street, mortally wounding Burt Morris, an old negro. The citizens opened fire on the desperadoes, who answered with a volley from their pistols. The murderers then left, but returned an hour later, when they were charged upon by the citizens, and driven out of town. Three of the robbers were badly wounded, but were carried off by the others.

TWO GOOD CONTESTS.

San Francisco, Nov. 11.—The University of California today defeated the Olympic club in a football game by a score of 12 to 6.

Hanover, N. H., Nov. 11.—Dartmouth won the intercollegiate championship football game by defeating Amherst today by a score of 34 to 0.

GOD PROTECT US.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 11.—Mrs. Lease's attack on the state administration, Senator Martin, and the fusion policy, has created a greater furore than any political event since the legislative fight last winter. Some of the populists intimate that Mrs. Lease is preparing to go over to the republican party.

WISE OLD PEPPER.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Senator Pepper, when asked about Gresham's letter on the Hawaiian question, replied: All I care about Hawaii is that it may be used for a government coaling station."

NEW RECEIVERS APPOINTED.

New York, Nov. 11.—It is announced authoritatively that it has been decided on the part of the government to ask the court today to appoint J. W. Doane, of Chicago, and Frederick K. Coudert, of New York, to be associate receivers of the Union Pacific. This will give the government three representatives. Receiver Clark will be placed in charge of the operating department, and Receiver Mink of the accounts in the departments. It is understood that additional receivers are likely to be appointed to represent other security holders of the Union Pacific.

A WAREHOUSE DESTROYED.

San Francisco, Nov. 11.—The warehouse of the Wisconsin Furniture Co. was destroyed by fire last night. The building and stock, valued at $18,000 are a total loss. The insurance is $12,000. John Peralta, a fireman, is missing, and it is believed that he perished in the flames.

A BIG LOG RAFT.

Marshfield, Or., Nov. 11.—A big log raft will be started for San Francisco tomorrow in tow of the tug Ranger. Nineteen feet of water were reported on the bar yesterday and it is believed that the raft will have no trouble in getting out.

SNOW IN NEBRASKA.

Omaha, Nov. 11.—Snow began falling here this afternoon and by 6 o'clock thirteen inches of it were on the ground. The electric street cars were not prepared for the sudden storm, and their traffic was considerably deterred.

A POSTOFFICE ROBBED.

Denver, Nov. 11.—Postmaster Bemis of Lansing, was murdered last night. It is reported that his office was robbed and the murderer escaped.

THREE MEN KILLED.

Welch, W. Va., Nov. 11.—A slate roof in the Crozier mines fell in today, killing James Bloch, John Jones, and J. B. Davis.

A WHOLESALE SENSATION.

Kalspell, Mont., Nov. 11.—The sheriff, court clerk, assessor, jailor, and county commissioner have been indicted for embezzlement and official misconduct.

PIEKER'S JEWISH FRIEND.

Something that Pickler Never Managed to Get.

The house dearly loves a good story. It will go out of its way at any time and interrupt and incidentally postpone any sort of debate to listen to one, says the Washington Post. Last Monday Mr. Pickler was speaking under the five-minute rule.

"And now, Mr. Speaker," he said, "I will conclude my remarks with a story concerning a Jewish friend of mine—"

The speaker's gavel fell. "The time of the gentleman from North Dakota has expired," he said.

"Move that the gentleman's time be extended one minute," yelled a member, bounding out of his chair as though someone had placed a bent pin in it.

"I desire to return my thanks," said Mr. Pickler. "The courtesy which has been shown me awakens a responsive chord in my bosom. It is not often in a great national crisis like the present one man is allowed to occupy the floor to the exclusion of all others. In the ensuing years I shall carry with me to my dying day as one of my most precious memories the recollection of the kindness which was made manifest in the action of my friend. If I fall to express my gratitude in terms sufficiently direct, believe me that it is not a fault of my heart, but merely an inability of the tongue. I will conclude my brief and unimportant remarks upon this great question with a story of a Jewish friend of mine, who—"

"The time of the gentleman from North Dakota has expired," said the speaker.

"Move that the time be extended one minute," called another man on the anxious seat.

There was no objection, and Mr. Pickler proceeded to re-express his gratitude at some length. When he reached his third reference to his Jewish friend the merciless gavel fell once more, cutting off the anecdote in the bloom of youth.

The performance was repeated some half a dozen times. The pages of the Record show that the story was never finished. His Jewish friend is still a mystery to every one except himself. Possibly some day when public building bills are occupying the attention of the house he may get a chance to finish a story that must be very funny, else he would not have tried so hard to tell it.
