Paris correspondence tells of the extraordinary increase of drunkenness in Paris caused by the Russians, or rather by the duties the French took upon themselves as entertainers. There was a great deal of fault before the Russians arrived as to the rules and regulations of the administration of hospitality, and this is the receipt that was adopted for rendering the Russian guests happy:

"If you invite a Russian to dinner, make a point of offering him before he takes his seat at the table, certain horns d'oeuvres, and above all, do not forget to accompany these with a dram of spirits. The stronger the latter the higher the Russian guest will esteem his entertainer, who must pour out the cognac himself, not into a liquor glass, but into a Bordeaux glass, and it is indispensable that he should drain the entire bumper to the health of his guest before the latter has time to put his glass to his lips. Each time you make a speech at dinner or at any reception, be careful to have your glass filled to the brim before you begin speaking, and the moment you have concluded your remarks, drain your glass to the very last drop at a gulp, since, if the slightest heftiness remains it means in the eyes of the Russians that your remarks have been insincere."

This was followed to the letter. The Russians stood up to their duties amazingly, but the French fell fast, and a letter written just as the Russians had departed told that it was almost impossible at that time, to find a Frenchman who was not suffering from excesses, and exclaiming "My poor head! My poor head!"

That the Franco-Russian alliance is a great fact is accepted by Europe. It is the result of young Emperor William's intense personal interest in affairs Imperial. With Bismarck as chancellor, there would have been no such alliance. As it is Russia has appeared in the Mediterranean on the invitation and under the escort and patronage of France. She is there with an iron-clad fleet that may be augmented at will. It is much better for the Russian ships to pass the winter in the sunny Mediterranean, rather than the Baltic. With the aid of France, Russia has flanked both Gibraltar and Constantinople, and is on the line of communication between England and India by way of Egypt. This disturbs all the recognized balances. Russia in possession of the greater part of Europe and Asia, a slice of north Africa, say Tripoli, and an island to complete the outline of her vast ambition.

Referring to Congressman Geary's loyalty to the interests of his state, and to his manifest disloyalty to the interests of the party of which he is a shining light, the San Francisco Argonaut aptly says: (Congressman Geary, of California, appeared before the ways and means committee of the house, one day last week, and had a hearing which lasted two hours and a half. He made an earnest plea for the protection of the industries of the state of California—that is, protected by the republican tariff; he argued strongly that no internal revenue tax be placed on domestic wines

(one of the brilliant ideas of the whiskey drinking democratic statesmen from Bourbon county, Kentucky); he pleaded, on the other hand, that the import duties on foreign wines be increased; he asked for an increase in the duty on olive oil; and, as a democratic Washington correspondent says, "he has insisted on a tariff on currants equal to that on raisins, he is satisfied that raisins will be protected against Zante currents, and he is hopeful that the tariff on wines and olives will be increased."

And then come the Alabama democrats, who want the iron interests of their state protected, while the Texan democratic wool-growers represented by Cubertson, will make an appeal in behalf of their section of the country and oppose any reduction of the tariff on wool. We are all protectionists when self-interest steps in.

The name of Gov. Wm. McKinley, now in everybody's mouth, as a few days ago in Ohio it seems to have been on everybody's ticket, will be conspicuous also in the contents of the December number of McClure's magazine. Besides a series of interesting portraits of the governor, in its department of "Human Documents," there will be a particularly and intelligent and sympathetic sketch of him.

The ambassador, Bayard, and General Patrick Collins have been responding to toasts at Liverpool. Strange to say, both the eminent gentlemen seem to be friendly to the British empire, though Bayard gave very formal notice we were selfish as to the tariff.

The fourth number of Hubert Howe Bancroft's "Book of the Fair" has been received, and is in all respects equal to its predecessors. To those who were unable to visit the great exposition it is especially valuable, conveying, as it does, a splendid idea of both the buildings and the exhibits. The cuts are marvels of perfection, while the descriptive articles are in the usual style of the gifted author.

Under the auspices of the B. P. O. Elks—Quinn Lodge No. 89—Mr. Utzinger will present one of the strongest vaudeville attractions ever given in Astoria—a show for one's wives, daughters and children. Remember the date, Friday evening, Nov. 24, at Liberty Hall. See program in our next issue. The performance will be first class in every respect.

ENDORSED BY THE PRESS. Gentlemen:—This is to certify that I have used Krause's Headache Capsules with satisfactory results. I bought a box which cost me 25c, and one capsule cured me of a dreadful sick headache. My wife and myself have both used the medicine manufactured by the Norman Lichty Mfg Co., and we recommend them to the public as being just what they are represented.

THE OPEN SWITCH.

AN ESTABLISHED SAFEGUARD. Anybody who travels by cars knows what is meant by "an open switch." It is the terror of railroad men, and the dread of the traveler. Its victims—killed, horribly mangled or maimed for life—are numbered by the score each year.

Yet even the dreaded "open switch" is not so widely fatal as in a certain disease, which, without ceasing its activity for an instant, is daily filling hundreds of graves.

What is that terrible ailment? you ask. It is Heart Disease! "But," you reply, contently, "I haven't any heart disease—my heart is all right." Are you sure?

Dr. Franklin Miles, of Elkhart, Ind., the distinguished specialist in diseases of the heart and nervous system, states that disorders of the heart are as common as those of the lungs, liver, stomach, bowels or kidneys, though often unsuspected. The reason people are not aware of this important fact is because symptoms of heart disease are not usually recognized as proceeding from this organ, but are attributed to some other source. If you have shortness of breath, fluttering or palpitation, pain or tenderness in left breast, shoulder or side, oppressed or choking sensation, fainting or smothering spells, your heart is affected.

"I had been troubled with heart disease for years. My left pulse was very weak, could at times scarcely feel it, excitement would weaken my nerves and heart, and fear of impending death stared me in the face for hours. Dr. Miles' New Cure for the Heart. Care are the only medicines that have proved of any benefit and cured me."—L. M. DYER, Cloverdale, Md.

"My wife has been taking Dr. Miles' New Cure for the Heart. She thinks it wonderful. She has not been troubled with pain or smothering spells since using it. We have also used Dr. Miles' Pills, and we find them all they are claimed to be."—GEO. L. FINK, Philadelphia, Pa.

These and hundreds of similar testimonials are convincing proofs of the wonderful powers of Dr. Miles' New Cure for the Heart. It is effective, agreeable, and above all, SAFE. Sold by druggists on a positive guarantee, or Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

Good Cooking is essential to Good Digestion.

in pastry you cannot have either without a good shortening. Lard has always had very objectionable features, causing indigestion and many other dietetic troubles. Science has come to the assistance of the cook, and of weak stomachs, with the new shortening, Cottolene. It is composed of the choicest beef suet and highly refined vegetable oil, in many respects as good as the finest imported olive oil. Physicians endorse it, cooking experts recommend it, and thousands are now using it in preference to any other shortening. Refuse all substitutes.

Send three cents in stamps to N. E. Fairbank & Co., Chicago, for book of 100 Cottolene Cook Book containing 100 recipes, prepared by the highest authority on cooking. Cottolene is sold by all grocers.

Made only by N. E. FAIRBANK & CO., ST. LOUIS and CHICAGO, NEW YORK, BOSTON.

SSS. CURES MALARIAL POISON. Nature should be assisted to throw off impurities of the blood. Nothing does it so well, so safely or so promptly as Swift's Specific.

LIFE HAD NO CHARMS. For three years I was troubled with malarial poison, which caused my appetite to fail, and I was greatly reduced in flesh, and life lost all its charm. I tried several of the popular remedies, but to no effect. I could get no relief. I then tried SSS. A few bottles of this malarial medicine cured me in a few days and I am now a permanent cure. J. A. RICE, Ocala, Fla.

DR. GUNN'S ONION SYRUP FOR COUGHS, COLDS AND CROUP. GRANDMOTHER'S ADVICE. In raising a family of nine children, my only remedy for Coughs, Colds and Croup was onion syrup. It is just as effective to-day as it was forty years ago. My grandchildren take Dr. Gunn's Onion Syrup which is already prepared and more pleasant to the taste. Sold everywhere. Large bottles 50 cents. There is no substitute for it. They're nothing as good. For sale by J. W. Conn, Druggist.
