

A GREAT FRENCH TELESCOPE.

A great refractor is just finished and placed in position for Dr. Janssen at Meudon. It is a combined photographic and visual telescope. The two lenses were made by the celebrated Henry Brothers, of the Paris Observatory. The mounting is by Gauthier, of Paris. Both lenses will be mounted in the same tube, which is square, and of steel. The visual objective is 32 3/4 inches in diameter, while the photographic objective is 24 1/2 inches in diameter. Both lenses are of the same focal strength, 669 inches. The large objective will be the guiding part of the instrument when used for photography. This great telescope is housed in the ruins of the old royal palace, a part of the palace serving as the tower for the great dome, which dome is 66 feet in diameter and weighs some 60 or 80 tons. The dome is to be moved by a gas engine of 12 horse power. The observing chair is attached to the dome and moves with it. All the fine circles are to be read from the eye end by means of electric lights, the electricity for which is generated by an 8-horse power engine half a mile distant. In what was formerly the royal stables.—Scientific American.
