The pretended independent journ: lsm that has been dependent for its excuse for living upon the superiority of Mr. Cleveland to the average dem ocratic party, is steeped in sorrow: well-defined, though but partially ack nowledged. The mistakes of the pres ident come thick and fast, and there has not, since Andrew Johnson, been such a series of blunders in the life of any public man. He managed his campaign of re-election, which he calied edication, with great energy and skill, and it seems to have exhausted his strength and wearled his fortunes He has had no good-luck since his reelection. His first speeches after his personal triumph were curiously at varlance with the current feeling of his party, and indicated that he had reached a state of exaltation that itself advertised the departure of wisdom. There has been nothing like it in the making period made manifest the weakness at first indicated. Instead of selecting the strong men of his party for his constitutional advisers, he discriminated against them all, with a single exception-Mr. Carlisle.

Here is a specimen of free-trade inconsistency taken from a Southern free trade newspaper. It says: "Governor McKinley's refusal to accept the effers of a big jollification meeting and suggesting that the money for such a purpose would be better spent in aid of the army of unemployed workmen shows that while he is dreadfully wrong on the tariff, he has a kind heart, and much common sense." Inconsistency like this, remarks the Economist, "contains only the element or honest difference of opinion upon a great national question. The presence of personal prejudice dissolves like magic when the chords of human sympathy are touched in the hearts of men, no matter how radically the, may differ upon those questions which make or unmake the contentment of telling millions."

In discussing the remarkable atterances of Colorado's governor at the recent ininers' convention at Salida, Bradstreet's, in referring to the the ory set forth that the right to coln money was given to the general government by the states as a trustthis trust calling for continuous cainage-demonstrates the untenable nature of that view by pointing out that not only does the constitution of the United States, in Section 8, of Article I, give congress the power to coin money, and to regulate the value thereof, but in section 10 of the same article, it expressly provides that no state shall coin money.

The exclusion from the mails of the letters and literature of the so-called investment companies which are located in many cities throughout the country, and which upon examination have been found to be nothing more nor less than swindling concerns, is an important step in the protection of Heart Failure.

HOW TO AVOID IT.

The epitaph on many a tombstone is "heart failure." No wonder, when we consider the immense strain which is put on that small organ. Marvelous as it is, beating 100,000 times and exerting a force equal to 5,184,000 pounds daily, it has its limit—its endurance often is too severely tested. So common are diseases of the heart-though often for a considerable time without the suspicions of the afflicted person being in the least excited-that it is stated that on person is four has a bad heart! Dr. Franklin Miles, of Elkhar, Ind., has for years made a special study of all diseases of the heart, and his remarkable success has made his of heart disease to be pain, distress or tender uesa in the chest, back, stomach, barels, lef shoulder and arm, shortness of breath, smothering spells, fainting, etc.

Mr. George R. Smith, of Burnes, Yates
Co., N. Y., writes: — "Dr. Milles' New HEART CURE less worked wonderfully on mind and body so I can do a good day's work. I feel ten years younger and take more interest in uffairs. I had shortness of breath, pulpitation, pain under left shoulder blade, pain around the heart, I could not steep on my right side. Since I have taken Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure I view well, and have no pulpita-tion. It has made my heart stronger. I wish you would print this, because I want all to know what Dr. Miles' Heart Cure has done

" For months my wife suffered with palp fittion, smothering spells, and was unable to sleep on her left side. She tried several doctors without relief. Your Heart Care was recommended. After taking three bottles, she fully recovered her health, Your medicines do what you claim."—CHAS.
