THE CHRISTMAS LETTER.

It is to be regretted that any delay should have been occasioned in giving to the press of the country and in hav ing read in the nation's congress the resolutions presented by Fresident Osborn at the meeting of the Portland Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday. | ture. The truth or faisity of Pennoyer's statements can be readily established beyond fear of successful contradiction. In fact, the Oregonian, taking Brad street's as an authority, shows that less than six per cent of the residents of Fortland are contained in the sum total as other people's habits. of unemployed and those depending is that there are many occupations which women can fill as acceptably as men. That being the case, no discrimination should be made in their remuneration. If a woman does a man's work as well as a man, she should receive a man's pay.

A report comes from Mexico that squads of Chinese are heading for the Rio Grande in contribut belief that it will be an easy matter to cross into the United States territory. The reward of the smugglers is put at $50 per lead. Quite that amount, remarks an exchande, rewarded the agents who participated in the extensive smuggling by way of Puget Sound ports, and a tion is completed the better, and even then there will be deception

Property owners have been brought t a realization of the fact that in orde. to bring about fruitful results, the in ducement offered for a railroad subsidy must be greater than that subscribed for the deal with Mr. Remington. This is evidenced by the liberality with which many have responded during the past two or three days, an example which will, we trust, be followed by all. An acre of land within the limit of the city of Astoria will certainly be worth more after a railroad is built than could be had for a score of acreunder the conditions now existing Why, then, should holders of realt hesitate about making an investmen which would yield such a magnificen return. Hapily for the future of the town, the citizens are now working to Attempt at Suicide.

It Might Have Been Pressnted.

[From the Boston Post.] While the walks in the Public Garden were crowded yesterday afternoon about 4.30 o'clock, people near the entrance gates at the corner of Beacon and Charles streets were norrified to see a man suddenly plum.

the ground. While waiting for a conveyance at office questioned the would-be saicide, who wa about 50 years of age, as to has name, addresand reason for wishing to end his life, b the man steadfastly remsed to give any info mation regarding himself. He was taken t chusetts General Hospital to inc surgical attendance given him. Aithor, weak from loss of blood it is probable will recover. About 9 o'clock in-t night hospital attendant got a little information from him. He said his name was Samu-D-, and that he came some weeks in from New Brunswick. The last few do his head has felt queer, and he has been wa dering about the city, not knowing which wa to turn. What impelled him to commit hi rash act he was unable to say. The above is the familier but terrible story of the results of mental decomposed enused by overstrain of the nervous system People who have diminess, headacte or bar ache, or who are troubled with despondent feelings, are already well on the road which leads to instaily and anicide, "Dr. Miles Medical Co.: 1 cannot food language in which to express my app (cia-tion of the great benefit I have derived from the use of your Restorative Nervine When life became a burden I would use the Nervine to soothe my weakened us rves, and to calm my exhausted and irritable brain." --Mas. thirds of the population of O.egon are unemployed and more than one third without sufficient means of support It goes without saying that the per centage of unemployed is greater in Portand than e'sewhere in the state Then where are the 249,500 unemployed to be found? "Mr. De Lashmutt did not consider it wise for the chamber to fall into the governor's error of overdrawing the picture. If any resolutions were to be adopted, let them state the state of affairs as it exists, and show that Portland is no worse off than any other city in the country." We quote from the Oregonian's account of the meeting of Portland's Chamber of Commerce,

That argument, if carried to its logical conclusion, would allow the inference to be drawn that Portland's con dition is no worse-but certainly as deplorable-as that of Cleveland, Ohio, ference between a dog and a man. where the unemployed and their derendents are shown to number 100,000, being 34% per cent of the entire population; or that Oregon throughout is June, December, August, and February in the same boat with Evansville, Ind., where 45 per cent of the population are included in the unemployed and their dependents. Certainly Mr. De Lashmutt's point is not well taken. One thing is certain, while money is not plentiful in Astoria, there are no cases of starvation, and but few unemployed. If we except the property owners whose employment in the main consists in collecting rents and waiting for the building of a railroad to transcontinental connection

It has often been declared by those who profess to be familiar with the signs of the times, that this is woman's era, and there seems to be plenty of era, and there seems to be plenty of proof for those who are looking for it. Occupations which for ages have been held by men, such as clerksnips, e.c., are in many instances passing into the hands of what has he et fore been designated as the "softer sex." The sight of women as ticket-cellers is not an uncommon one in the clerated rallroad offices in the East, and quite re-cently another city railroad in that section of the country has signified its road offices in the East, and quite reintention of displacing its male clerks there will be a saving of a few thous-mand dollars, but the main idea, of course is the "advance of women." Doubtiess in time they will be able to support their husbands on their carnings. It is a fact, however, that in this country, by women. Incidentally, it is presumed.
