Before the steamship State of California crossed in yesterday morning one of the passengers, Mr. Sauer, of San Francisco, met with a painful accident. He was coming out of the social hall, when the steamer gave a lurch, throwing him against the rail and badly spraining one of his ankles.

The steamship State of California arrived in from San Francisco yesterday. The freight discharged at this port was as follows: 286 packages of groceries and fruit, 156 sacks bark, 54 packages sugar fruit and 48 packages sundries. The consignees were Ford & Stokes, Ross, Higgins & Co., Parker & Hanson, Elmore, Sanborn & Co., A. V. Allen and G. W. Lounsbury.

Edward Brekhus, the "inspired Swede," is expected in Astoria about the 24th inst., and will speak in the Swedish Evangelical Lutheran church at 7:30 p. m. The British ship Annesley, which is on the way down the River from Portland, met with a slight accident in getting away from the elevator dock. She had just let go her lines when she ran her nose on a sunken spar at the north end of the dock, which had been carried down by the late freshet. This forced her bow against the dock, causing her to spring her jibboom. Some of her forward rigging was also damaged and a large derrick on the dock was carried away. The damage was small.

The owners of the Treadwell Gold Mining company, of Juneau, have discovered the culprit who made a raid on the chlorination works of that concern a few weeks ago. The value of the precipitates stolen was $2,000, and a portion of the property has been found in the driveway of C. F. Fuch in Juneau. The store was in charge of Frank Jensen, who has been arrested. The capture was a clever piece of detective work on the part of the officers in whose hands the case was placed. The robbery was the most extensive one in the history of Alaska for many years.

THOUGHT IT WAS MAY 1. "Yes, you're right. Our cat is sick, sure enough," said a Third street drug-list, looking down as he spoke to the store fellow, whose backbone stood up higher than four axes.

"You see it was this a-way. I accidentally dropped on the floor a sample box of Little Early Riser Pills, and as it rolled across the room Tom saw it, and being naturally of a playful disposition, he caught the box in his claws and had quite a frolic with it. By and by he chewed the box cover off, and before we knew it Tom had eaten and swallowed all those pills.

"He seemed quite proud of his meal, and acted as though he wanted more. Well, sir, in about an hour that cat commenced house cleaning, and thought is fat as a hog ten days ago, you see now he's as thin as a plate, and I believe you could show him a gross of pills and he wouldn't blink."

HARD TIMES AND HARD LUCK. "Talk about hard luck," said a seedy sport yesterday near Jeff's restaurant.

"I saw a two-bit piece in the middle of the street car track today, and made a jump for it, came pretty near getting run over, too, by the car, and then when I got on the sidewalk it wasn't a quarter nohow—just one of those out-of-date 20-cent pieces."

"Speaking about breakfast and hard luck," said a sad-looking sport from Seattle, "I got it in the neck up at Portland last week. I landed in the town with just $11, and to have a dead-shot on two weeks' feed, I bought a meal ticket with forty-two meals on her. They punched one meal out of it, and in placing it in my pocket I dropped the pasteboard, and as it lay on the pavement, and before I could pick it up, a big Irishman, with hob-nails in his shoe soles, stepped on it and punched out the other forty-one, and that's the reason I'm down here feeding on clams."

"You all don't know what hard times are," said an Arkansas sport, whose stomach he claimed was as empty as a cistern. "Why just look here," and he bared his breast, showing the slow healing of a large blister.

"Great Caesar!" exclaimed the bar-keeper, "how did you get that?"

"Climbing persimmon trees all last fall, down in the Mississippi valley, trying to get my breakfast," replied Arkansas. "Oh, I tell you the boys and poverty are playmates down there these clams."

THE SOCIETY MINERVA. Last Evening's Entertainment at Bethania Church.

The Society Minerva met last evening in the basement of Bethania church, the house being crowded to the doors. The program was as follows: Short address, Ole H. Olson; reading, M. Dybbis; selection on guitars and banjo, by the Uppertown Troubadours, who were warmly applauded; paper, Knute Iversen; recitation, Miss Berg; song, Miss Hulda Johnson; reading, H. Tognard; original poem, N. Steffensen; reading of society paper, "Fremad," Editor Brakke; debate on the question, "Which is the more beneficial to man—Education or money?" After an interesting presentation of both sides of the question, the house decided in favor of the affirmative. The subject for debate next Thursday evening will be: "Resolved, That intoxicating liquors have been more destructive of human life than have wars." An excellent program has been prepared for the next meeting. Six new members were elected by the society last evening.

A POOR DAY'S WORK.

The Efforts of the Subsidy Committee Yesterday Result Unsuccessful.

The sub-committee of five from the subsidy committee had the hardest day's work yesterday that they have yet experienced, and with poorer results. A number of the large owners have not yet put in their fair proportion of land, and the committee's work has been brought to a standstill. It has been determined to return all deeds at present in and abandon the idea of securing the road if a full 20 per cent cannot be obtained. It is absolutely necessary that all must contribute this amount, and the committee will not close up the subsidy until every one has been heard from according to his means.

A few names were added yesterday to the list of 20 per cent subscribers, as follows: C. W. Shively, Mrs. L. P. A. Barker, C. J. Trenchard, A. Holman, B. S. Ward.

Columbia Land and Investment Company.

The following is a corrected list of the names of those who have done their share in full:

- Alfred Kinney, Van Dusen Family, G. Wingate, C. R. Thompson, James W. Welch, George Hill, H. A. Shorey, Nancy Welch, V. Boelling, I. W. Case, D. H. Welch, Peninsula Land and Trust Co., G. W. Wood and wife, W. B. Adair, Lafayette Park Co., A. McFarland, W. S. Kinney, Lyman Kinney, S. D. Adair, W. G. Howell, John Adair, C. H. Page, J. C. Dement, S. B. Crow, John Hahn, West Shore Mills Co., Isaac Bergman, J. H. Mansell, F. S. Damant, W. Edgar, Ben Young, D. McTavish, Charles Olsen, S. A. McKean, J. T. Fulton, F. Spittle, J. P. Dickinson, B. F. Packard, A. B. Dalcilly, R. L. Jeffrey, W. W. Parker, Mrs. B. Grant, J. N. Griffin, A. A. Schenk, C. S. Wright, Herman Prael, P. O'Hara, W. L. Robb, A. Danielson, John Kopp, Charles Rogers, Mrs. L. P. A. Barker, C. W. Shively, A. Holman, B. S. Ward, C. J. Trenchard.

An examination of the records of the abstract office was made yesterday with a view to determining exactly what proportion of his holdings C. W. Shively had contributed, and it was found that a mistake had been made in not making proper allowance for a number of fractional lots and blocks, and also for certain property in Mr. Shively's name, but which is in reality owned by other parties. Mayor Kinney and Attorney C. R. Thomson, of the subcommittee, stated that the result of the examination of the records justified them in saying that Mr. Shively had given his 20 per cent, and requested that his name be placed where it belonged, among those who had done all that was expected of them for the advancement of the cause of progress.

The members of the sub-committee have been met with refusals from a few who have least reason to hold off, viz., those who are earning good salaries which are paid out of the taxes collected in the city. It is hoped, however, that they will be persuaded to respond before the close of the week. Meanwhile the efforts of the committee will not be abated in the least.

OF INTEREST TO ATHLETES. James Robinson, the athletic trainer at Princeton College, Princeton, N. J., says:

"I have found it imperative to have pure and simple remedies on hand in case of cuts, bruises, strains, sprains, etc., rheumatism, etc. Shortly after entering into my profession I discovered such a remedy in Alcock's Porous Plasters. I tried other plasters, but found them too harsh and irritating. Alcock's Porous Plasters give almost instantaneous relief, and their strengthening power is remarkable. In cases of weak back put two plasters on the small of the back and in a short time you will be capable of quite severe exercises. In "springs" and "distances" races and jumping, the muscles of the legs and feet sometimes weaken. This can invariably be relieved by cutting the plaster in narrow strips, so as to give free motion, and applying on muscles affected."
