WEEKLY. Sent by mail per year, $2.00 in advance. Postage free to subscribers.

The Astorian guarantees to its subscribers the largest circulation of any newspaper published on the Columbia river.

Advertising rates can be obtained on application to the business manager.

This paper is in possession of all the telegraph franchises, and is the only paper on the Columbia river that publishes genuine dispatches.

The Daily Astorian's circulation is five times as great as that of the combined circulation of the other daily papers of Astoria.

The Weekly Astorian, the third oldest weekly in the state of Oregon, has next to the Portland Oregonian, the largest weekly circulation in the state.

Subscribers to the Astorian are requested to notify this office, without loss of time, immediately they fail to receive their daily paper, or when they do not get it at the usual hour.

By doing this they will enable the management to place the blame on the proper parties and to insure a speedy remedy.

Handley & Co. are our Portland agents and copies of the Astorian can be had every morning at their stand on First street.

TIDE TABLE. For the Week, Beginning To-day. Table with columns for DATE, HIGH WATER, LOW WATER, and sub-columns for A.M. and P.M.

YESTERDAY'S WEATHER.

Local weather for the twenty-four hours ending at 5 p. m. yesterday, furnished by the U. S. Department of Agriculture weather bureau.

Maximum temperature, 43 degrees; minimum temperature, 32 degrees; precipitation, .58 inch.

Total precipitation from July 1, 1893, to date, 67.60 inches; excess of precipitation from July 1, 1893, to date, 18.93 inches.

Gilbert and Sullivan's new comic opera, "Utopia, Limited," has a character in it called "King Paramount."

The opera ought to take in Washington, if it is not too blunt.

The fact that New York is played out as the boss state of the democratic party has fully made its appearance in current history, and politicians may govern themselves accordingly.

New York will probably be a republican state after the next election, and the solid south will ride the high horse.

Who ever suggested the name of Patrick O'Hara for sheriff should be well satisfied with the response of the people.

He seems to be the choice of the people, regardless of politics, notwithstanding the fact that he is hard-working man and only wears a bedded shirt on Sunday.—Budget.

The costume indicated is somewhat scant for the prevailing weather, and even in the heat of summer there are two urgent objections, viz., the flies and the police.

The recent disasters to English and French expeditions in Africa—the massacre of a pursuing party of English in South Africa, and the overwhelming attack upon the French south of Timbuctoo—have disclosed the extent of the incursions of Europeans in Africa, the last of the continents to be subordinated to civilization.

The energy of the colonists is very great, and it is remarkable that the French have advanced to the south of the Sahara Desert. It is believed there are resources in Africa for the support of a population equal to that of Asia.

Congressman Morse, of Massachusetts, in his speech on the Hawaiian question, said in the house a few days ago: "I say to the people of the Sandwich Islands, be of good cheer! The people of the United States are misrepresented by Grover Cleveland."

This must now be apparent in the islands that are the paradise of the Pacific. People can see now that congress is not going to make war to clear the smoke of conceit from Cleveland's conscience.

The democratic party is trying hard to shift the whole load of responsibility for the blunders of its leader and his representatives. All the provisional government has to do is to wait for the next administration. That will be in favor of annexation.

In another column will be found the new ordinance regulating the sale of liquors within the city limits, to which Mayor Kinney affixed his signature on Thursday.

The measure is one which cannot but commend itself to every fair-minded man. The city derives much of its revenue from the saloon-keepers, i. e., those of them who pay $100 a year for the privilege of selling liquors, and who are certainly entitled to all the benefits accruing therefrom.

The saloon-keepers claim that in the cases of some stores, where whiskey has been sold in violation of the spirit, if not of the letter, of the law, the quantity disposed of has been greater than the sale at any of the saloons, while all that the storekeepers paid for that privilege was $25. If such a state of facts existed, it certainly seems that the introduction, and prompt passage and approval, of the new ordinance was most opportune.

Hon. Binger Hermann has been heard from—and that emphatically. He does not want governor, but asks to be returned to congress. Correct; no better endorsement than his acts for four consecutive terms can be asked.

There is now an open field for governor, and the Transcript would rise and present the name of Hon. C. W. Fulton, of Clatsop county, president of the last Oregon senate.

No man in the state stands higher in the estimation of the people, and no man would guard more zealously the interests of this commonwealth. If nominated Mr. Fulton would carry Oregon by 8,000.—Valley Transcript.

Very true. If Mr. Fulton accepts the nomination for governor, Clatsop county will do her share by giving him a handsome majority.

The signs multiply that the Wilson bill as it is, with unimportant amendments, will become a law before many weeks elapse.

The democrats are not particular as to details, but they have made up their minds not to tax sugar and not to add a tax on whiskey, beer, tobacco or coffee to raise revenue, because the real democratic anxiety is that the income tax must be enacted.

Why they do not take the idea of Vice President Stevenson and clap on the war tax that wrested a vast sum from the manufacturers is a mystery. It is quite true that the country needs "action," as the senators of the finance committee say; but the trouble is it is announced by every democrat who speaks that the Wilson bill is not a finality, but one step of a long walk.

This walk is not in the direction that will bring prosperity to the country. It may do some good to end for a time the uncertainties of the changes to be made in the law. The business men of the nation know about what is to be done, and might as well discount the reformation. There is no use waiting on congress for prosperity to set in.

Now is the time to prosper. Business knows the worst.

NOT DISCUSS ELKS' TROUBLES.

Grand Exalted Ruler Apperly Said Not to Desire Re-election.

Louisville, Feb. 15.—Grand Exalted Ruler Apperly refuses to make any statement whatever concerning the reported troubles among the Elks. It is stated by close friends of Mr. Apperly that he could not have been animated by a desire for re-election in calling the meeting at Jamestown, N. Y., instead of Atlantic City. It is not clear how a meeting at one place could further such an ambition more than a meeting at the other, but as a matter of fact Mr. Apperly has told his friends positively that he is not a candidate for re-election.

There is really trouble in the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, so Chicago members of the order say. They acknowledge that Allen O. Meyers, of Cincinnati, the grand secretary of the order, and A. Apperly, of Louisville, the exalted ruler, are dissatisfied because there was no likelihood of their being retained in office longer and have succeeded in persuading about 30 small lodges in Ohio to send their delegates to a "rump" convention at Jamestown, N. Y.

At the last convention in Detroit, it is said, Meyers and his friends were unfit for business when the time for selecting a place for the next annual convention arrived. Therefore the grand trustees were compelled to make the selection, and Atlantic City, N. J., was chosen. When Meyers and his friends understood the situation it was too late to remedy the matter save by overruling the authority of the grand trustees, with the sanction of Apperly, which Meyers easily obtained. Just 90 per cent of the whole body of Elks will attend the Atlantic City convention, unless some of the rebels return to the fold before the time arrives for the gathering. Members of the Elks' lodge in Chicago think that Meyers and his friends will be suing for peace in a very short time.

THE "HOSS" EDITOR'S DILEMMA.

With head full of records and peddler's galore, And peddler's galore, As he'd ne'er writ before. With a two-twenty clip He drove his pen along, And thoughts came untrammelled Like the notes of a song.

Absorbed in his theme, The scribe was not aware That a fair, blushing damsel Stood close to his chair; With a step light and airy She'd entered the den Where the "editor" plied Both scissors and pen.

With head o'er his shoulder (Let us pardon the pose) She followed his lines, Which were written in prose. No wonder she blushed— No wonder she winced— Her modesty was shocked, As you'll all be convinced.

For she reads: "Alice Bilkins is unmistakably a daisy. She is well-bred, and, as to individuality, she is without a peer in all the land. Her head is high and haughty and her eyes are marvelous of beauty. She will make it warm for the boys over in Buckhorn township next season. Alice is the daughter of Billy Bilkins, two in list."

"Daisy" is she?" cried the lass In jealous indignation; "Well-bred, proud and haughty— The fairest in creation! Legs are marvelous, are they? You villain! O, for shame! I hate you as I hate That horrid Bilkins name!"

With angry step she turned around, And frosty "den" departed. Leaving ye "hoss" editor Agast and broken-hearted: For in the spring—in June, I think— He was this maid to wed, And now, alas! her love Is blasted—cold and dead. —Jasper Henderson, in Horse World.

LIFE OF JAMES G. BLAINE.

The Astorian has determined to bring the life-work of this wonderful idol of the people closer to the minds of its readers, to put them in possession of the incidents of his career, his ambitions, his sacrifices, his honesty and his sterling manhood.

How? you ask. Read carefully, and see for yourself. We have secured at a very large outlay the magnificent volume entitled "Life and Work of James G. Blaine," (Memorial Edition.)

This work is the only authorized publication of the memoirs and history of Blaine. It is written by John Clark Redpath, LL.D., Gen. Seiden Connor, ex-Governor of Maine, and the eminent friends of the dead statesman.

It contains a full length portrait of Blaine, with his autograph negative and an autograph letter sent to the publishers.

It contains an autograph letter from Mrs. Blaine, which proves its authenticity and its claim to being the only volume of the kind published by authority.

It contains several hundreds of splendid pictures, nearly all of them being original copyrighted drawings.

It contains 505 pages of description, printed on the heaviest book paper, in large, handsome type, and is heavily bound in cloth—two colors—with gold lettering and ornamentation on the covers.

This book cannot be purchased elsewhere. It is not on sale at bookstores, and you could not buy it for less than FIVE DOLLARS if it were. It is a work of art, and a book that no citizen should be without. The reading matter is of enthralling interest.

Our regular subscription price for the Weekly Astorian is $2.00 per annum. Our regular subscription price for the Daily Astorian for six months is $2.50. You can, by paying in advance, receive the Weekly Astorian for one year and the Life of Blaine for $3.00.

You can, on the same terms, have the Daily Astorian for six months and the Life of Blaine for $3.00, making the cost to you of this wonderful work $3.00.

Don't take any snap judgment. You would be foolish if you gave us your order without first seeing the book in office and seeing the book for yourself. It has delighted all who have looked at it. It will delight you. Our subscribers can rest assured that the only reason why we have taken hold of this work is its surpassing excellence and its wonderfully cheap price.

FOUND THEM THE BEST.

This is to certify that I have used Krause's Headache Capsules periodically for over a year, and have very much pleasure in stating that they have always proved very beneficial and have relieved me in from ten to fifteen minutes. I have been a sufferer from headache for many years, and have never found anything to do me as much good as Krause's Headache Capsules.
