

THE CASCADE LOCKS.

The Great Work Being Rapidly Pushed Forward—The Force Employed.

Latest news from the Cascade locks is to the effect that work is being crowded forward vigorously, and there in every prospect of an early completion, says Wednesday's Telegram. At present there are about 400 men employed, and these are being worked in shifts of eight hours each. The Day Brothers, the contractors, are busily engaged in putting in an electric plant, which will facilitate work at all hours of the night. This will soon be finished, and the bed of the canal will then be illuminated by arc and incandescent lights. As soon as this system is in operation 200 more men will be put at excavating. Notwithstanding the work in the canal, there is a large force of stonecutters employed, and the stones are prepared and numbered for their position in the locks.

Wall work will be necessarily slow, as every portion will be examined by a government inspector, and if not suitable will be condemned. Favorable weather may be expected from now until the June freshet, when work will of necessity be suspended. The construction of the canal and locks at this point, says an exchange, is on the grandest scale of any in the country, and when completed will be second only to the one at Sault Ste. Marie, in Michigan.

DENIES THE ALLEGATION.

President Harper, of the University of Chicago, says that he did not, in a recent lecture, declare the story of Cain and Abel in the bible to be a myth. His language on that point was as follows: "When we compare the biblical material with that which resembles it on the outside, we find that it is free in its form from impurity of every kind; the myth is gone; the exuberant polytheism is gone; all that degrades and lowers is gone. The form is here just as the form of the rite of circumcision was retained. It is only in the form that there is much if any resemblance, and this has been thoroughly cleansed and purified. You ask, Why did not God choose a different form that there might be no possible joining of the sacred and the profane? I answer, God does not work in that way."

Hicks—They tell me that Munnimake is a smart financier. Wicks—Smart? No name for it. He's the brightest intellect I ever knew; he's a phenomenon. Why, the other day a fellow came into Munnimake's office when Munnimake was all alone and demanded, at the point of a revolver, $100,000.

Hicks—Yes? Wicks—He saw it was no use to refuse, so he drew his check for the full amount.

Hicks—Nothing very smart about that. Wicks—But listen. After handing the fellow the check, Munnimake began to talk confidentially with the chap and actually induced him to invest the whole sum and $10,000 besides in A., Q. and W. bonds that ain't worth the paper they're printed on! That's what I call intellect.—Boston Transcript.

CHEAPER TO SHIP EAST.

It has been figured out to the satisfaction of refiners that raw sugar landed at San Francisco can be shipped by rail to New York, refined there and sent by rail as far west as Missouri cheaper than it can be refined at San Francisco and shipped east the same distance. It is announced that 50,000 tons are to be sent to New York, at a freight rate of $2.50 a ton, for refining and reshipment, and the Pacific Coast people are trying to reckon up how much they will lose in wages, etc.
