

FOUND FOR DEFENDANT

The Jury Decides That Mrs. Wallman Was Not Hurt.

A large crowd gathered in the court room yesterday morning to listen to the continuation of the $25,000-breach-of-promise suit of Eva Wallman vs. Theodore Bracker.

The attorneys had had a lively tilt on Friday, and it was expected that the evidence would be rather interesting, as the trial proceeded, and those in attendance were not disappointed.

The jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendant, either by a promise to marry, or blandishments of some kind, had overcome such scruples as the plaintiff might have had.

As to the plaintiff's life and habits, in order to determine to what extent, if at all, her feelings were wounded by the failure of defendant to carry out his contract, if a contract existed.

THE POPULISTS.

The Convention Held Yesterday in the C. R. F. P. U. Rooms.

The people's party convention met yesterday morning at the rooms of the Fishermen's Union, C. S. Dow being elected chairman and P. F. Halferty secretary.

The committee on credentials—W. A. Fry, S. Jensen, J. P. Scothan, H. A. Meyers and V. H. Coffey—reported that the following were entitled to seats:

J. P. Scothan, Peter Anderson, John Mattson, A. H. Fricke, H. A. Meyer, G. C. Jansen, Ole J. Settem, Martin Nelson, of Astoria; C. S. Dow, of Lewis and Clarke; P. F. Halferty, of Clatsop; J. P. Lindahl, of Westport; J. Hawkins, of Elsie; V. H. Coffey, of Bear Creek; C. Bradbury, of Seaside; J. A. Stalker, of Young's River.

On motion it was ordered that persons not delegates to the convention be excluded from the room, with the exception of reporters.

On motion Mr. H. M. Spencer, of Mishawaka, was admitted as a delegate.

The chair appointed J. P. Scothan, A. H. Fricke and H. M. Spencer a committee on order of business, and George Johnson, C. Bradbury and P. F. Halferty a committee on platform.

THE LEBECK CASE.

The Justice Court Decision Sustained As to the Sewer Contract Claim.

Judge McBride yesterday confirmed in part the decision rendered in the justice court in favor of Leander Lebeck for extra work performed on Chenamus street, and for additional work in putting in sewers on certain streets.

The court gave judgment for $100 on account of the work on Chenamus street, and remarked in referring to the efforts of the street committee to prevent the property owners interested from remonstrating, that it was a scheme that no public officer should have been concerned in.

The committee on platform made a partial report and asked for further time to complete it, which was granted.

THE RESERVOIR SITES

Advantages Possessed by Each of the Locations.

In view of the many inquiries by the people as to what was being done by the water commission in reference to selecting reservoir sites and other matters looking to the better facilities for supplying the city with a greater amount of water, a reporter of The Astorian was detailed yesterday to visit, in company with members of the water commission, the several reservoir sites in contemplation, and give to the public a thorough understanding of the situation.

The commission have, as stated in these columns a few days ago, bonded three different sites, as follows: In Shively's, one on Cass street and a third on Main street, on property owned by A. J. Megler.

The site in Shively's is 300 feet above the level of the river, a little higher than desirable, but as it is intended to use the old reservoir for low service, the slight drawback could be overlooked.

The site in Shively's is 300 feet above the level of the river, a little higher than desirable, but as it is intended to use the old reservoir for low service, the slight drawback could be overlooked.

Some objections to the location may, of course, be urged. These are, first, its proximity to the cemetery. This, however, is a purely imaginary drawback, as there is a deep ravine running between the cemetery and the site, so that there could be no possible connection.

Secondly, a long, deep cut would be necessary, and a tunnel of considerable length, in order to get through Coxcomb Hill, in which may be found basaltic rock.

The Cass street site is in a basin on block 5, in Hustler & Alken's, just on the south side of the ridge. The formation is white sand for eleven feet, overlying a hard sandstone, which would make an exceedingly good bottom for a reservoir.

The third site, that owned by A. J. Megler, is on Main street, being one-quarter of block 4, in Hustler & Alken's, and is about 260 feet high. The formation is earth and loose trap-rock on the entire block, with the exception of that portion near the east line, along Main street.

All of these sites have been surveyed by City Surveyor Harry, have been carefully examined and many borings made on each.

It may also be stated that the commission have in contemplation the examination of a block east of the cemetery and on top of the ridge; also, block 152, between Olney and Genevieve streets. The latter is also on top of the ridge.

Whatever may eventually be done, the public will doubtless be pleased to learn that the members of the commission are proceeding with as much expedition as is consistent with that caution which is so necessary in an undertaking of such vast importance to the city.

Sunday afternoon, at 1 o'clock, Utzinger's orchestra will give a grand concert. The orchestra now consists of fourteen pieces, and is decidedly the best that has ever been in the city.

LIFE OR DEATH?

It is of vital importance that it should be understood by persons whose kidneys are inactive, that this condition of things is finally indicative of a state of the organs where life hangs in the balance. Bright's disease, diabetes, albuminuria are all diseases of a very obstinate character in their mature stage, and lead to a fatal tendency. They often battle the most practised medical skill, and the most approved remedies of materia medica. But opposed at the outset—that is to say, when the kidneys begin to discharge their functions inactively—with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the dangerous tendency is checked.
