TODAY'S WEATHER.

Portland, March 20.—For Washington and Oregon: Fair weather; slight temperature changes.

It was not doubted that the Bland seigniorage bill would pass the senate, and now it is before the president for his signature. Whether Mr. Cleveland will go with the majority of those who elected him, or with the minority, remains to be seen. The president and Mr. Carlisle have had a long consultation, and it has been significantly said however, that the waste has been, and the treasury department views the al- is to be. The double burden of France leged coinage of the seigniorage propo- to compete with the British navy and sition with indifference. The president the German army, is a heavy tax. cannot be indifferent. His party has slapped him across his financial countenance with the use of the mints in coining more silver dollars, not wanted, out of depreciated collateral, in order to issue more paper money, and if he signs the bill what will become of his silver repeal glory? It is true the coinage of the minus quantity does not mean the purchase of more silver. It is something more profound than the employment of metal. It starts the paper mills to grind out money without metallic foundation. It is calculated to do the very mischief abroad that the silver repeal was meant to remedy. Is the democratic party to be completely and irrecoverably committed to the flat paper crusade against the credit of the country? If so it will not be long before all disguise as to the greater question of repudiation will be cast aside. The president is urged that the increase of paper would be gradual and easily controlled, and harmonize the party. But he is asked to open the floodgates for paper money as he did for the income the tariff bills are all unsatisfactory, it is clear that the only chance for stability is the overthrow of the democratic party, whose sole capacity is for mischief, and whose only policy is that of meddlesome destruction.

"Her Majesty the Queen," as the American minister calls Lilloukalani. has been talking again. She laments the sorrows of her subjects. She thought at once when informed that the will of the most valuable and popular article at once when informed that the will of Grover Cleveland was to restore her, that that settled it, and that there was as it were, a parity of constitutions; that Grover could declare war. She had no idea there was any power or potentate that could call him down. She wanted to behead her enemies, confiscate their property, exile, their children and call in the British. The news has been received from Honolula that there is another flurry among the royalists. A swarm of Canadian roughs have arrived, and it is believed they have been enemied to aid in royal restoration. The provisional government is again preparing for war. If President Dole wants a processional government is again prepar- Porous Planters. They are to feet planters ever produced. ing for war. This accounts for White's delay in leaving the senate. and as he had a consultation with the president about it, he seems to have even if he had been held up, it would had sympathy in that quarter. The president succeeded after all in dragging the supreme court through the gutters of New York politics and dipping it in the sugar question just when it was brought to the boll in the stock market, and the governor stuck to it and appointed Blanchard.

THE NEW EDUCATION. Staets. Mr. Willis has for a time been Prof. Getz' Lecture at the Congrega tional Church.

The second lecture on "The New Eduget the president and secretary of state cation" was an intensely clear and inout of the bear trap that they fixed for teresting presentation of the theme in Harrison and Foster, and in which they its bearings upon moral culture. It comes almost as a surprise to many that school education has anything to the lottery and opium crowds, and the do with moral culture, but Prof. Getz

The professor has also surprised the educational people of the city by his activity and keenness in perceiving what our schools are doing and what they need. It is to our credit that he The New Orleans Times-Democrat finds them efficient, and it would turn says the opposition of Judge White to out much to our advantage if suggestions made by him in regard to general educational work in this end of the state should materialize. Prof. Getz strikes the people of this existence of the largest industry in the city as one of the most active and versatile educators that has come among them. His ready manner, pleasing address, thorough knowledge of his busigard the appointment of Mr. Blanchard, ness, his wisdom and broad sympathies, well as lectures themselves, will practical and attractive.

DOUBTS THE STORY.

Capt Hallock has carefully investigated the reported robbery of Louis Eugene Duval, the half-breed Indian, who claimed to have been robbed Sunday morning. Capt. Hallock states that have been for only 20 cents, as that was all the money he was known to have had. He states further, that the night previous Louis Eugene had been drinking stuff that had burrs in it, and that he was so drunk that the chances are that he walked off the dock, as there is no railing up there about Kearney's cooper shop. Every time Louis Eugene comes to Astoria he spends too much of his time leaning up against varnished counters teiling people how thirsty he is, and winding up his jag in the city jail. It was at the jail his father came
